SOUND OFF

Dear Sir:

I was interested to read in the Framfari the letter from Riverton informing everyone of their recently established "Framfari Cairn Fund", and their carefully stated desire to commemorate the fact that the original Framfari was printed at Riverton, not Gimli. The letter tactfully corrected what they felt to be an error perpetrated by C.F.B. Gimli in attributing Framfari to Gimli instead of Riverton.

In delving into the history of New Iceland, as one who knew nothing about this area or its origin until coming to live here some 20 years ago, I have come to admire many fine traits in these people, rugged, honest, determined and intelligent. I also regret the many dissensions and divisions which have been part of this community from the outset. It is probable that their very independence is largely responsible for this aspect.

I feel quite sure that when their highly talented leader, Sigtryggur Jonasson, led them in establishing the first newspaper on the North American continent in the Icelandic language, he meant it to be a New Iceland paper, not a Riverton or Lundi or Gimli paper. Without the full support of the entire area, it could not possibly succeed. The fact that he himself chose to settle in what might be then considered a midway point in New Iceland, Lundi, was the reason for Framfari having Lundi, 10 September 1877, as its dateline for its first issue, instead of Gimli. In all my research about the history of New Iceland, I have never heard any citizen of Gimli attempt to take away from Lundi the honour of being the home of Framfari. Gimli itself had a number of publications during the early years, but none as old as Framfari nor of the same type.

Rather than subjecting the originators of the modern Framfari to bitter criticism for one tiny error in the first edition of their publication, which said the original was printed in Gimli in 1877 (though they re-printed the first edition with its proper dateline) it would be more in keeping with the spirit of Sigtryggur Jonasson if our northern neighbours at Riverton would instead give credit to Colonel Jim Dunlop and his newspaper staff for reviving interest in the historic name Framfari. Col. Dunlop personally did much research on the matter, and after two years at Gimli, leaves here with more information about the history of this area than people who have lived here all their lives. It is somewhat unusual for transient residents, who know they will only be staying for a few years, to take such a great interest in a community.

Might we not hint also our suspicion that Riverton might not now be setting up a Framfari Cairn Fund had it not been for the renewed interest in Framfari created by the C.F.B. publication?

Framfari was started mainly as a publication for the Base itself, as most bases have some type of publication to give their personnel information about activities and also about other bases. Because of its historic memories and interest in the community itself, it became popular among all the citizens here, and I know that copies were sent to the Evergreen Library branches of Riverton and Arborg by personal request to the Base Commander, because citizens there had asked for them. Their request was freely granted.

While the excellence of Framfari posed a problem in that it has been serious competition to commercial publications, we know that this was a problem not intended by its founders, and it will be with genuine regret that citizens of Gimli will see its final edition go to press, which we understand will again commemorate its predecessor. We hope that the people of Riverton will also appreciate the revived interest in the original publication which they justly claim with pride -- and which pride we at Gimli share, be we descendants of the original settlers or more recent additions to the cosmopolitan population. We wish that the area once known as New Iceland might be united in spirit and pride, and support the Riverton-Arborg, and all the other settlements between, may support an area plan to establish lasting memorials to the pioneers, and preserve their history in a series of projects beginning with the Viking at Gimli, continuing through Arnes with its Vilhjalmur Stefansson Park, Riverton with its Pioneer Park, to the historic fishing village at Hecla. Let's support each other, and forget the petty differences, PLEASE!

I close with a tribute to Col. Dunlop, whose interest made the new Framfari possible, and who has endeared himself to every citizen of Gimli during his brief stay here. He will have a lasting place in our history, because he has made himself part of it in two short years. It is with genuine regret that we learn that he will be leaving us even more quickly than we had anticipated. We know little about the history of Cold Lake, Alberta, but we venture to predict that the world will know a lot more about it after Col. Dunlop has had time to look around! Our loss is their gain -- and we extend our warmest thanks and good wishes to Col. and Mrs. Dunlop and their boys as they prepare to leave us.

SPECIAL CAR ON DISPLAY

Movie-goers who saw the film "Goldfinger" were impressed by the gadget-laden car driven by super-spy James Bond. One of its forerunners is Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's staff car, now on display at the Canadian War Museum, Ottawa.

The black armoured roadster was manufactured in Stuttgart, Germany, by Mercedes Benz and delivered to Adolph Hitler's headquarters July 8, 1940.

From here it fell into the hands of Reichsmarshal Goering. The Reichsmarshal wore "two hats" in Hitler's Germany; he was the economic director of Germany and the occupied countries, and commander of the "Luftwaffe" or German Air Force.

Goering's staff car was also required to fill two roles; as a Luftwaffe green, for military inspections and as a somber black, for state occasions. When the car was seized by the 101 U.S. Airborne in 1945, it had eighteen successive coats of black and green.

The huge car was specifically designed for maximum security. The 9,000-pound machine is bullet proof right down to the tires, has one quarter inch armour plate behind the rear seat, one inch thick glass and three compartments for automatic pistols as standard equipment. When built it was capable of speeds up to 135 mph.

The car was sent to the Aberdeen proving grounds in Maryland U.S.A. after the war and was restored.

The Canadian War Museum recently acquired this historical vehicle and has since placed it on display within the premises in conjunction with a special Second World War exhibition of Canadian War artists.

REPLACEMENT FOR ARGUS MARITIME PATROL AIRCRAFT

Mr. Doug Rowland (Selkirk): I wish to address a question to the Minister of National Defence. In connection with the negotiations going on with various companies concerning a replacement for the Argus maritime Patrol aircraft, I should like to ask the hon. gentleman whether the interesting offer from the Boeing Aircraft Company of which he spoke yesterday consists of delivering Boeing air frames for modification in Canadian aircraft plants.

Hon. Donald S. Macdonald (Minister of National Defence): I should point out that Boeing has made no offer as such. What we have received amounts, really, to a proposal concerning a method by which the 707 aircraft might be adapted to use as a long-range maritime patrol aircraft.

Mr. Rowland: Is it any part of such a proposal that this adaptation should take place in Canadian aircraft plants?

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): The preliminary question to be decided is whether this aircraft, which was constructed primarily as a long-range transport, can be modified so as to possess the hover-on-site capability possessed by the Argus. We would have to solve the technical questions involved in the use of the aircraft in this role before we could get down to any specifics as to construction.

COST OF NEW BOEING 707 AIRCRAFT REFUELING CAPACITY

Hon. J.A. MacLean (Malpeque): I wish to direct a question to the Minister of National Defence with regard to the announcement three or four days ago of the purchase of an additional 707 aircraft.

Was this aircraft purchased at the same relative cost and on the same basis as the previous four? Also, does it have the capacity to be used as a refueling tanker or will it be equipped with that capability?

Hon. Donald S. Macdonald (Minister of National Defence): Mr. Speaker, the final purchase price of the aircraft is being negotiated between the Department of Supply and Services and the Boeing Aircraft Company. I think I would be correct in saying it is in the same general area of cost as the four acquired last year. Two of the four aircraft now have inflight refuelling capability. Subject to examination, I do not believe this one will have.

Mr. MacLean: Is it expected that this fifth aircraft will be in service by the end of next month when the Yukon aircraft are due to be taken out of service?

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): We would hope to have it in service perhaps a little later in the spring. I doubt whether we can make it by the end of next month.

Mr. A.D. Hales (Wellington): I have a supplementary question for the Minister of National Defence. Can the minister advise the House why the five were not ordered at one time?

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): Yes, Mr. Speaker. Actually the requirement, as identified in the defence department, was for six, but in view of the limitations on the department budget it was not possible within the confines of the last fiscal year to obtain more than the four, nor within the confines of the present fiscal year to obtain more than this fifth one.

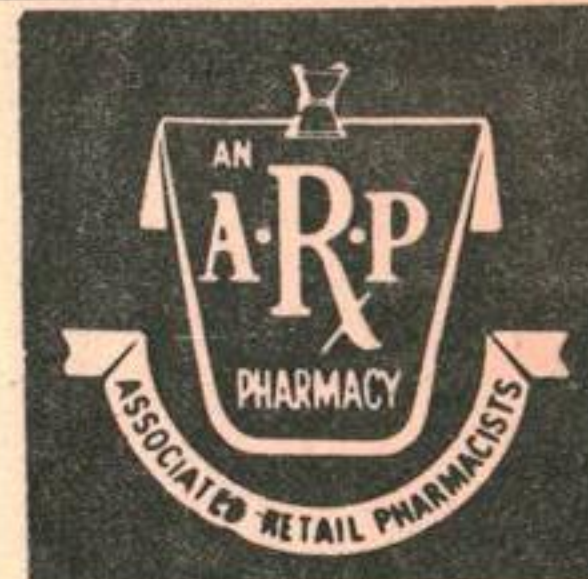

Mr. MacLean: Is it the intention of the department to purchase the sixth aircraft in the next fiscal year?

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): Mr. Speaker, if the funds are there we will certainly give it very earnest consideration.

REMOVAL OF NON-PUBLIC FUNDS FURNISHINGS FROM CLINTON BASE

Mr. R.E. McKinley (Huron): Mr. Speaker, I have a question for the Minister of National Defence. In view of the fact that considerable furnishings in the non-public funds category have lately been removed from Canadian Forces Base, Clinton, after the minister promised a delegation from the county that this would not happen until the new occupiers of the base had had a chance to purchase these furnishings, would the minister take immediate action to stop the removal of these furnishings until the future disposition of this base is known?

Hon. Donald S. Macdonald (Minister of National Defence): Mr. Speaker, I gave no such promise nor could I make such a promise. Non-public funds are not government property and of course it is a matter for decision by that particular group. We have, however, recommended to the CANEX people that they delay action in this regard until a decision can be taken.

MINI - HYDRANT

At a brief ceremony held recently, Mr. Roosevelt Thompson received a memento of "Thanks" from the base Fire Chief, Warrant Officer Coolen. The memento being a miniature fire hydrant.

Mr. Thompson received it in recognition of his many years of diligent work in keeping the base fire hydrants in top operating shape. In all, Mr. Thompson has worked for the C.E. section at C.F.B. Gimli since May 1951 and has taken care of the hydrants since 1953. This has been a commendable effort, and more so when the duties were performed regardless of the weather, 80 above or 40 below.

Thanks again Rosi for a job well done.

Trophy Winner

Mynarski Memorial Trophy

Canadian Forces Base Uplands, Ont., is the 1969/70 winner of the Mynarski Memorial Trophy for its youth recreation program.

Honourable mention goes to Canadian Forces Bases Cornwallis and Greenwood, N.S., and Canadian Forces Station Moisie, Que.

Established in 1958, the trophy is awarded annually to the base or station whose married quarters community council most effectively uses its resources to develop a recreation program suited to the needs of its youth.

At Uplands 4,975 children and youths participated in a year-round variety of organized programs including baseball, swimming, football, tennis, soccer, basketball, bowling, badminton, volleyball, squash, track and field, golf, curling, boating, judo, skiing, hockey, figure skating, softball, tap dancing and ballet.

Cultural and special events included organized scout, cub, guide and brownie packs, air rangers and venturers. School patrols were in effect throughout the school year while instructional classes were available for fire-prevention and babysitting.

The trophy perpetuates the memory of Pilot Officer Andrew C. Mynarski, Winnipeg, whose heroism earned him a Victoria Cross in 1944 when, as a mid-upper gunner in an RCAF Lancaster bomber, he attempted to save the life of fellow crewman when their aircraft was about to crash during a bombing raid over France.

Donated by the four Polish Wings of the Royal Canadian Air Force Association, 310 Wilno Wing, 430 Warsaw Wing, 431 Krakow Wing and 436 Mynarski VC Wing, the trophy is open for competition by all Canadian Forces bases or stations with married quarters.

The competition covers the "recreation year" October 1 to September 30.

It's Hard to Believe!

VACANCE JOYEUX

(The following report was written by Editor Dave Allbon in the Hants Journal)

IT REALLY HAPPENED

This is a true story and if any of our readers have felt frustrated at some time or other in their lives, read this and count your blessings.

I won't tell you his name but sufficient to say that he is an employee of the justice department in Springhill and henceforth he will be called "Mr. X".

Mr. and Mrs. X were taking off on their holidays one day last week when he had completed his day's work. To save time he had the camp trailer all packed the evening before with most of the essentials and left instructions that morning to his wife to have everything in readiness when he came home from work at 5:00 p.m. and they would leave immediately.

ENJOY A BEER

He would hop into the trailer he said, change his clothing there and enjoy a cold beer in the meantime. She was to drive along the laid out route towards Truro while he was changing.

They both knew it was illegal to ride in a moving trailer but neither figured on the chain of events that followed.

Mr. X hopped into the trailer, Mrs. X whipped away from the home in Springhill and they were upon the open highway in a jiffy, all prepared for a wonderful holiday.

So far so good.

Then, as the safety advertisements say, the human element entered the picture.

Near Glenholme, a one hour run from Springhill, Mr. X was still in the trailer, enjoying his beer. This was a good thing and he wasn't going to spoil it.

BETWEEN HER LEGS

Mrs. X was coasting along, since she was a good driver until she dropped her cigarette between her legs and she immediately pulled over and stopped quickly, extinguished the cigarette and started away again.

Mr. X noted the vehicle stopping, of course, and slipped out the door of the trailer in his underwear shorts to see what the trouble was.

Mrs. X didn't see him outside the trailer, whipped the car into motion and Mr. X was left standing on the road in his underwear.

COSTS $15.00

It wasn't long before the RCMP car came upon him trying to thumb a ride and this was a bit too, too much for the boys in uniform. They picked Mr. X up and lodged him in the jail in Truro where he was arraigned and paid a fine of $15.00 dollars plus for driving in a trailer.

The boys in uniform finally listened to his story to the extent where they put out a call to their road patrol.

Later on, Mrs. X was stopped by a polite constable who asked to see her drivers' license and asked her if she was alone.

Realizing there was a fine awaiting her husband for driving in the moving trailer she told the constable that she was married but her husband was in Springhill.

"Peculiar," mused the officer, "we have a man in jail in Truro who claims to be your husband," and he told her the entire story.

ADMITS TRUTH

Throwing up her hands the wife admitted it was true and she returned to Truro to claim her husband.

"So far, so good." as the cow said when she kicked over the milk bucket. But there was still more to come for the holidaying couple.

They were both hungry so they decided to eat in Truro and went into Bennie's Restaurant for a nice meal because, understandably, the old nerves were a bit frayed at that time.

The husband felt that people were looking at him, as they were, and mentioned it to his wife. "They should be," she said, "because your fly is wide open."

Looking around casually and with a quick motion the husband zipped up the fly of his trowsers and they did really enjoy their meal.

Things were better now and they could afford to laugh a bit at what had happened but instantly found to their horror, that the husband had included the corner of the table cloth in his zipper when he closed his pants.

Crash! Crash! came the entire table of dishes to the floor.

Surely this would be enough for any man to put up with in one day but the worst was still to come. Zippers being what they are, this particular one like many of its mates, had no desire to release the table cloth.

While he and his wife worked frantically and the customers in the restaurant howled in laughter, they couldn't get the table cloth esconced in the zipper.

"That's all" said the couple. "God knows what will happen from now on" so they returned to Springhill and spent the rest of the vacation at home

And who could blame them.

Brownie Points

On Monday, March 8, 1971 Tweenie Wanda Barton was found hiding under the toadstool, after telling her sixer she had passed the required tests and wished to become a Brownie. She was then twisted and turned and shown the elf and brought to Brown Owl for enrollment.

Vivian McInnis and Janet Kemp walked up the Golden Ladder to the toadstool to receive their Golden Bars from Brown Owl.

After a few games and songs plus a spot of test work the Brownies and guests enjoyed a treat of freshie and cookies.

Guide Lines

Sandra Archer was enrolled as a Guide at the regular meeting of the Second Company on March 1, 1971. Division Commissioner, Mrs. Gilroy was present, as was Mrs. J. Archer.

Another "first" in our company took place on March 8 when Laurine Younker went up to Rangers. In an effective ceremony, Laurine said good-bye to her Guide sisters. Rangers who were present to welcome here were, Marilyn Henry, Diane Rogers, Mary Elizabeth Manion and Lucille Younker. Laurine will be missed in Guides, but we wish her well in Rangers.

Refreshments were enjoyed at Campfire. The friendly photographer was present for the second consecutive meeting.

Cheryl MacKinder is our new company leader, with Cheryle Cameron and Darlen Samagalski taking patrol leader and second of the blue-bird patrol.

With Baden-Powell Hall closing April 30, we are striving to complete first and second class tests. Activities after that will be outdoors.

HAVE BIRD WILL TRAVEL

OTTAWA (CFP)--Taxpayers often express curiosity as to where the defence portion of their tax dollar goes. Four-hundred and fifty Helicopter Squadron based at C.F.B. Uplands have a proud record of achievement to demonstrate to citizens who "pays the freight" what the armed forces can do.

To the uninitiated, 450 Helicopter Squadron is a heavy helicopter squadron flying CF113A Voyageurs. It is involved in the support of ground troops, search and rescue, and aid to the civil power. In addition, it has been called upon to transport members of the Royal Family and government officials.

The recent snowstorm in Montreal which disrupted so many aspects of normal life is a good illustration of 450 Squadron's effectiveness. An expectant mother was flown from the small village of St. Charles to the hospital at St. Hyacinthe, to have her baby. A man in urgent need of a blood transfusion was conveyed from La Presentation to Sorel hospital. A woman in a stranded farmhouse in Howitz, was given drugs needed to stave off blindness and Bell Telephone linemen were carried to trace a line block.

450 (T) Helicopter Squadron, now commanded by Major L.M. Rodenbush, was formed in March 1968 with one detachment in St. Hubert, Que., and the other at Namao, Alta.

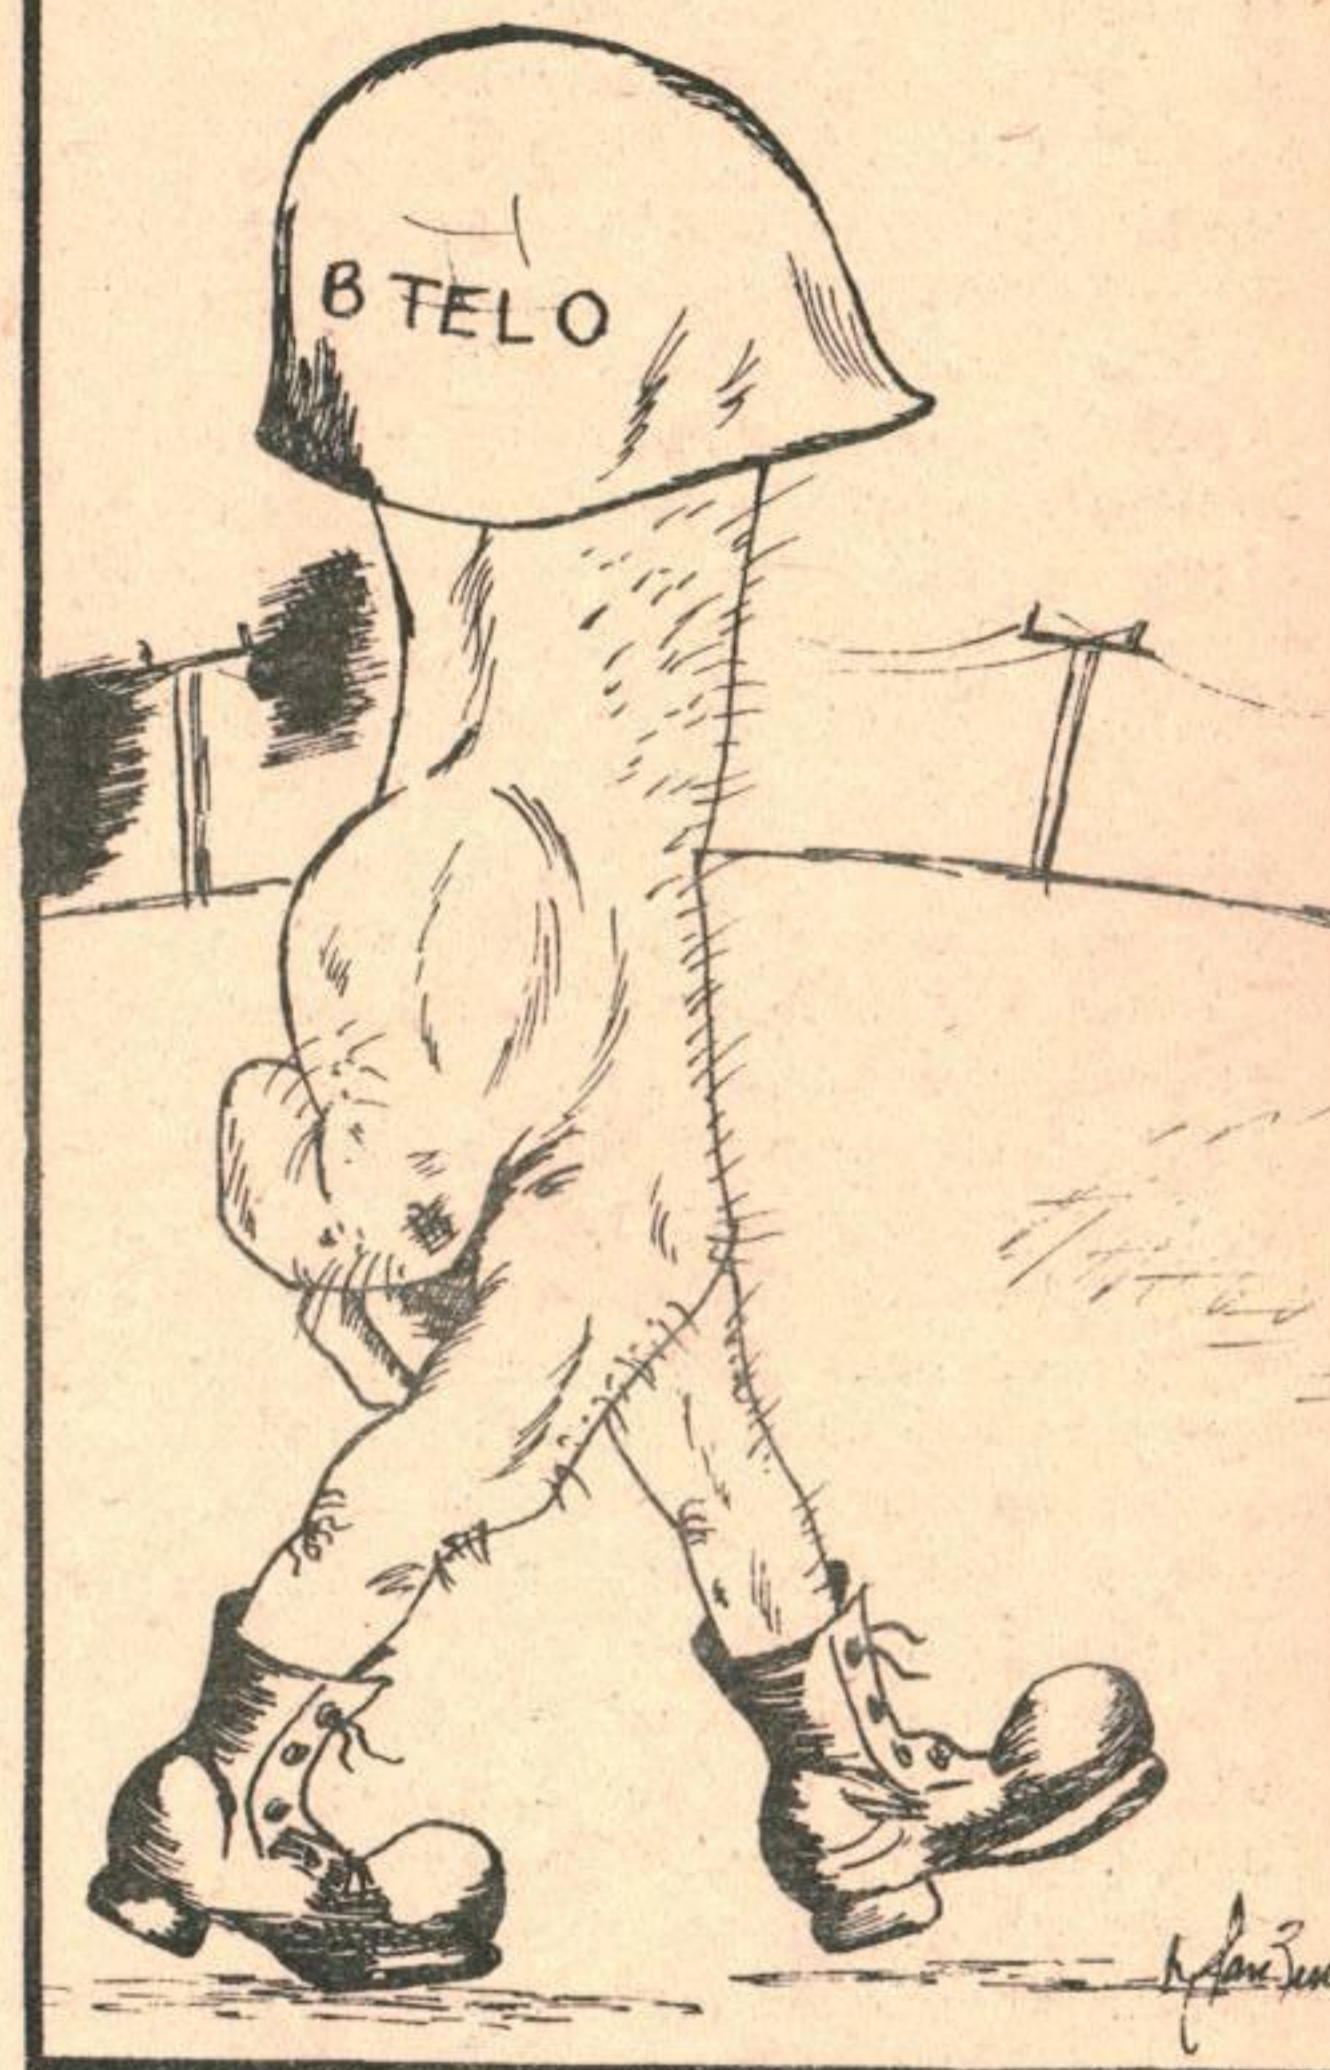

Although the St. Hubert detachment has been based at C.F.B. Uplands since June 1970, the Squadron composition remains the same with six Voyageurs at Uplands and four at Namao. With 74 all ranks the Uplands squadron is a working example of the benefits of an integrated force. Of the 21 pilots on strength, eight are former army pilots, one navy and the remainder air force.

The CF113A is a twin-turbine powered tandem-rotor helicopter equipped for carrying troops, litter patients, vehicles or cargo.

It is powered by two General Electric turbin-engines, each developing 140 horse power. It can carry 25 full-equipped troops, 15 litter patients, or 5,000 pounds of cargo over a distance of 200 miles at speeds up to 150 mph. A water-tight hull gives it an amphibious capability, and it can be operated by day or night.

"By Air To Battle" - a proud motto for a unit which plays a vital role in today's Canadian Forces.

SERVICEMEN'S WIFE

A serviceman's wife is mostly girl. But there are times, such as when her husband is away and she is mowing the lawn or fixing a flat tire on a youngster's bike, that she begins to suspect she is also a boy.

She usually comes in three sizes: petite, plump and pregnant. During the early years of her marriage it is often hard to determine which size is her normal one. She has babies all over the world and measures time in terms of places as other women do in years.

"It was at Whitehorse that we all had the mumps ... in Germany Dan was promoted ..."

At least one of her babies was born or a move was accomplished while she was alone. This causes her to suspect a secret pass between her husband and the army providing for a man to be overseas or on temporary duty at times such as these.

A serviceman's wife is international. She may be a prairie farm girl, a French mademoiselle, an Indian princess or a Maritime nurse. When discussing service problems they all speak the same language.

She can be a great actress. To heartbroken children at posting time, she gives an Academy Award performance!

"Wainwright is going to be such fun I heard they have Indian Reservations ... and gophers, and more gophers." But her heart is breaking with theirs. She wonders if this service life is worth the sacrifice.

An ideal serviceman's wife has the patience of an angel, the flexibility of putty, the wisdom of a scholar and the stamina of a horse.

If she dislikes money, it helps. She is sentimental, carrying her memories with her in an old barrack box.

She often cries at parades without knowing why.

She is a dreamer when she vows: "We'll never move again."

An optimist: "The next place will be better."

A realist: "Oh well, as long as we are together."

One might say she is a bigamist sharing her husband with a demanding entity called "duty"... When duty calls, she becomes No. 2 wife. Until she accepts this fact, her life can be miserable.

She is, above all, a woman who married a soldier who offered her the permanency of a gypsy, the miseries of loneliness, the frustration of conformity and the security of love.

Sitting among their packing boxes with squabbling children nearby, she is sometimes willing to chuck it all ... until she hears the firm step and cheerful voice of that lug who gave her all this.

Then she is happy to be ... his serviceman's wife.

C.F.B. GIMLI.....Corporal Jim McIntosh, left, receives a $24.96 suggestion award cheque from Captian Reg Shrimpton, right, the acting base aircraft maintenance engineering officer. Cpl. McIntosh submitted a suggestion for a relay substitution box for use in flight simulators. Last fall he was awarded a cheque for $16.64 as recognition for the adopted suggestion. The suggestion award committee, upon reviewing suggestions, felt that Cpl. McIntosh's suggestion was deserving of more award money than he had received initially and made this second award. (C.F. TOP PRIORITY IS A JOB

OTTAWA(CFP)--Approaching retirement in the next twelve months? If you are you have probably started planning now about what is possibly the greatest change in your service career. What are your priorities in planning for this change?

Most of us set up our priorities around the family. We naturally think in terms of buying our last home; the education of our children and possibly a long holiday during rehabilitation leave. The last item on our list with many of us is the question of a job.

Common sense tells us that a job should probably be first on the list but human nature being what it is this often is not the case. The danger is that without a great deal of care a person can get boxed into a very unsatisfactory situation. Here are a few examples of what we mean:

-Servicemen retire from Camp Petawawa every year. Let's face it; for a person living in married quarters the area has a lot of attractive features. The fishing is good and to many it seems like a nice place to live. Land values may seem reasonable and a Veteran Land Act Small Holding may be an attractive proposition. The fly in the ointment is the question of a job. Jobs are limited in this area and for some servicemen jobs for which they are suited simply do not exist.

-A great number of servicemen are attracted to the idea of settling in the town they grew up in twenty-eight years ago. The trouble is during the last twenty years many of the smaller communities in Canada have stagnated in their growth. We only have to think about the way the diesel engine on the railway has changed employment prospects in the West to realize how important growth centres are in our planning. Victoria is full of retired servicemen selling insurance or real estate to each other.

The answer to this problem is difficult enough without limiting your chances for the right job by choosing only one place to live. We must be flexible in our planning and keep our priorities straight.

Servicemen approaching retirement are invited to participate in the Civilian Employment Assistance Programme as detailed in CFAO 56-20. See your base personnel selection officer or personnel education officer for further details.

GIMLI BANTAMS.....

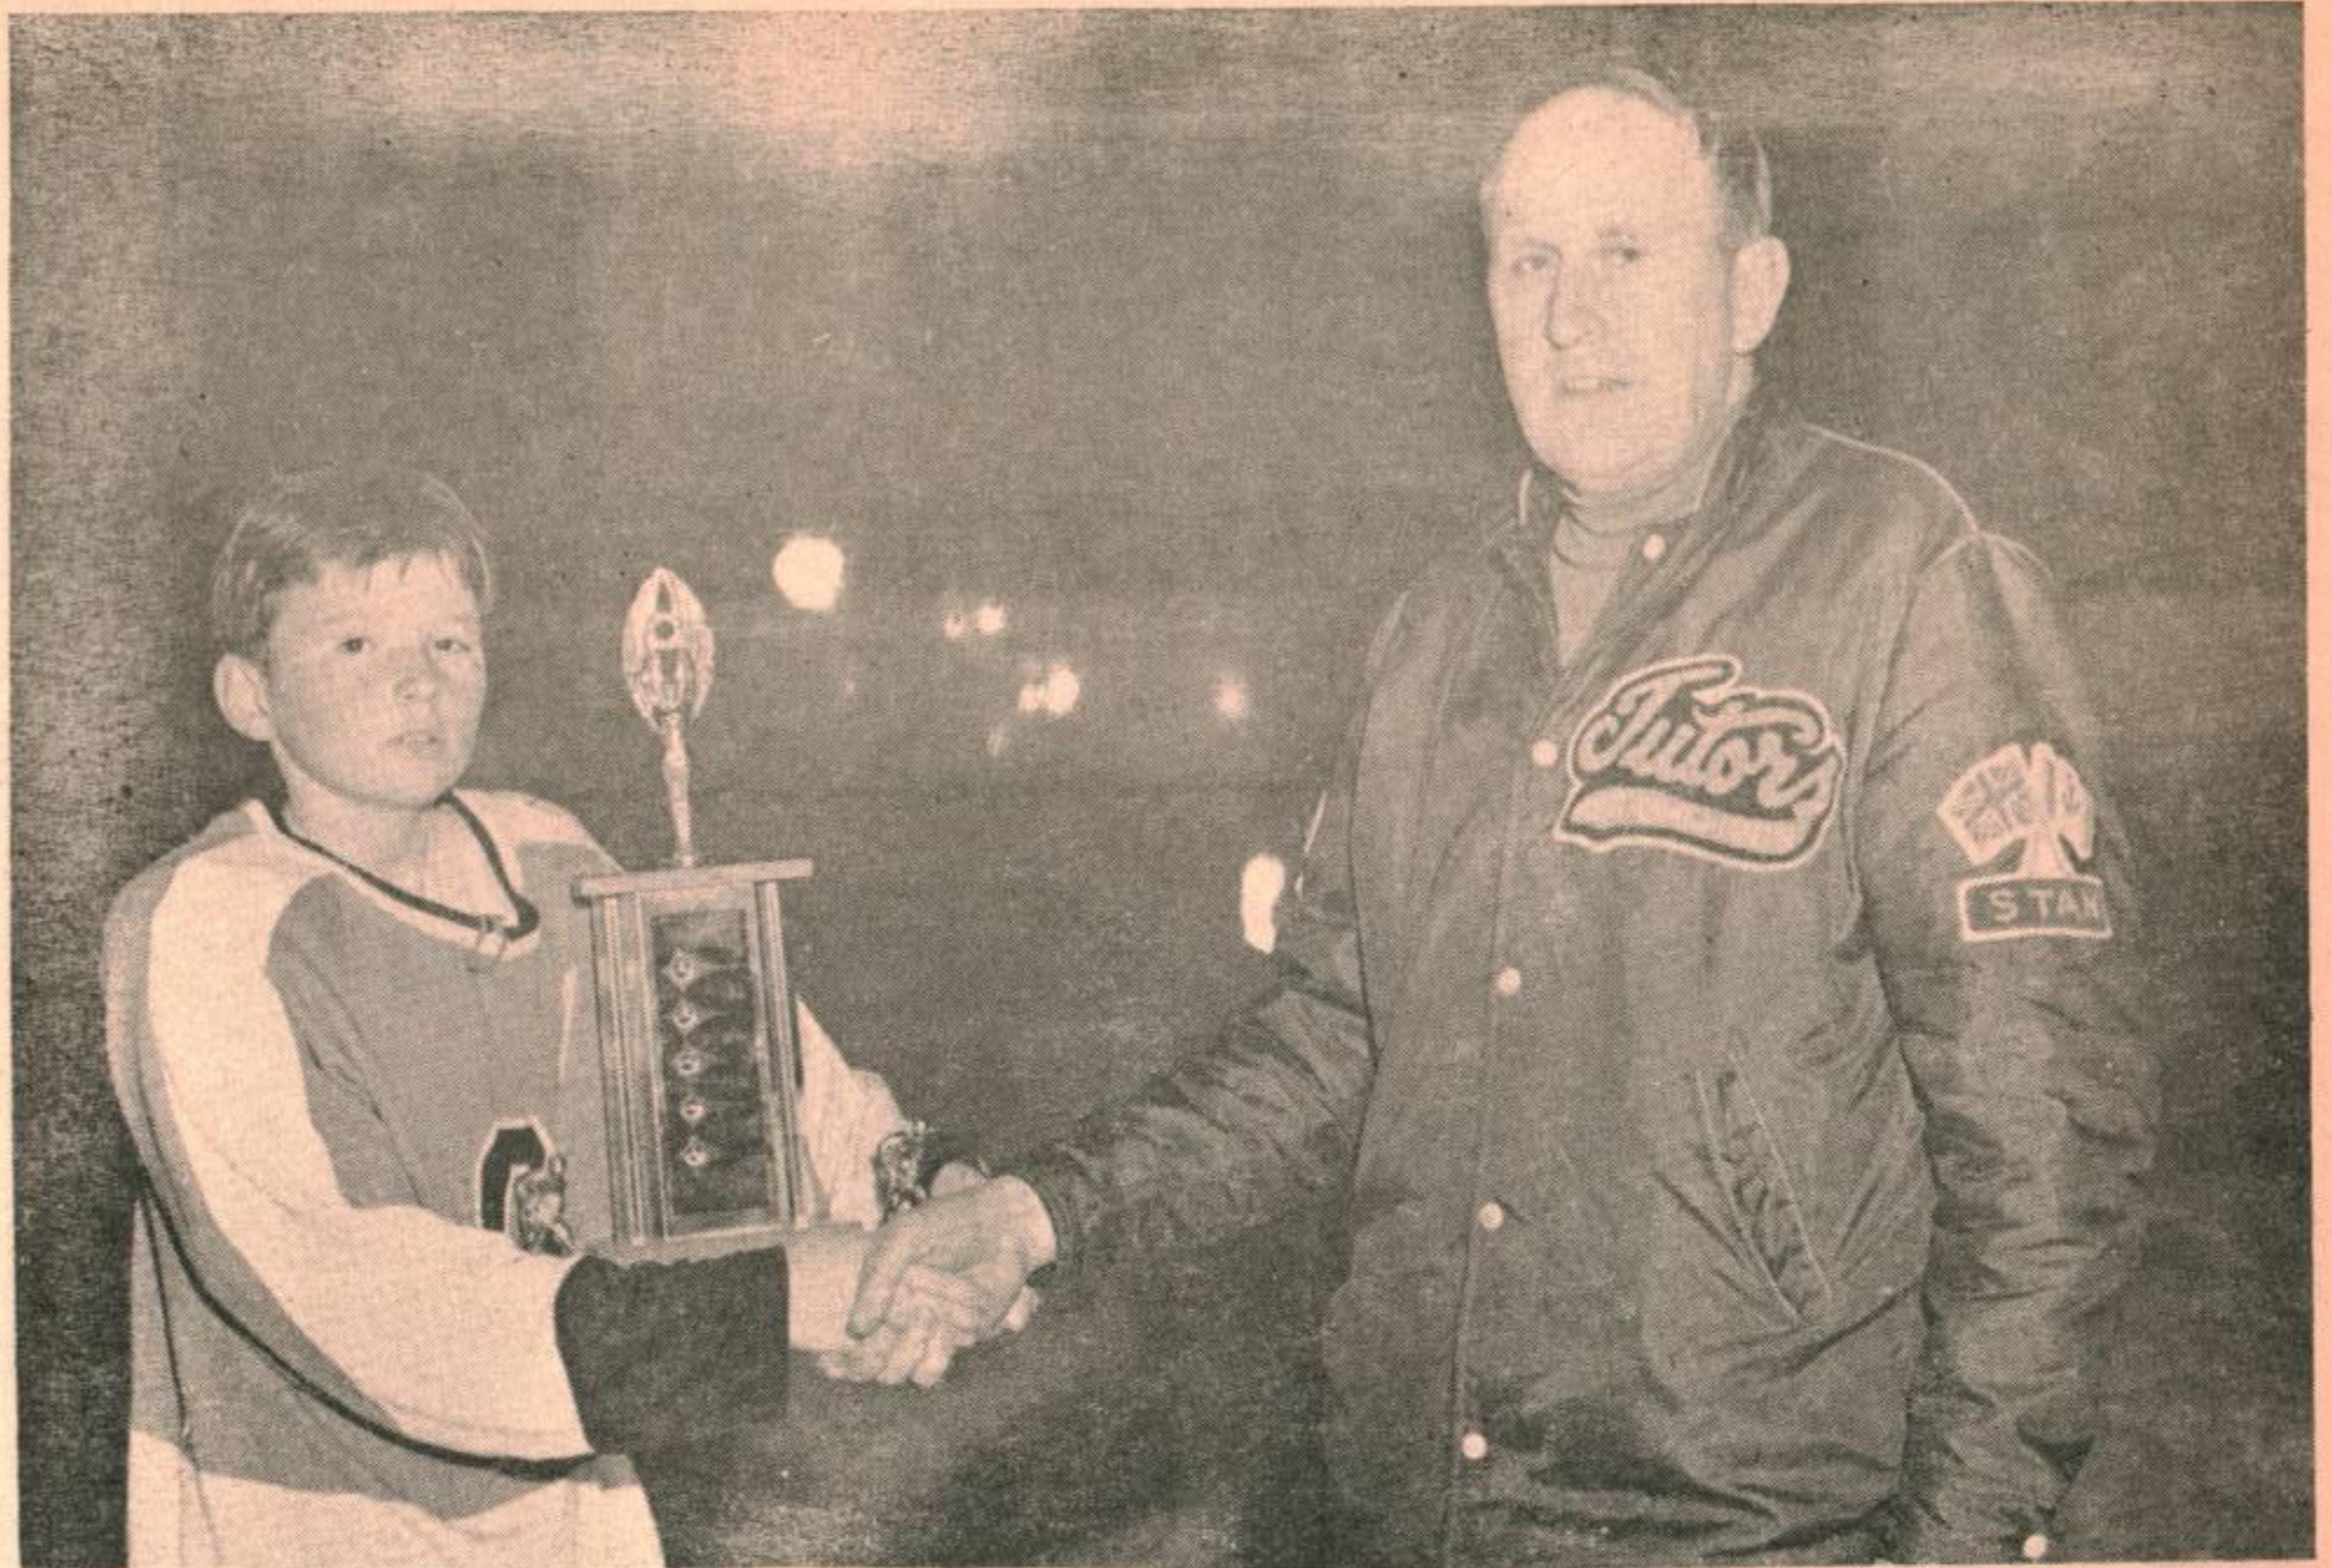

On Friday 19 March, last years M.A.H.A. finalists from Oakville journeyed to Gimli and ran into more than expected from the Gimli club.

The game was a hard clean skating contest, with the Gimli club a little sharper as they wound up on the top end of a 4-3 score.

Dennis Sinclair showed plenty of heads-up hockey, skating and checking both ways, as he assisted on three of the Gimli goals, two by Bruce Sylvester and one by Ken Kernested. The other Gimli goal was scored by Dave Lautsch on a hard shot from just outside the blue line. Ron Krulicki, Lorne Smith, Ken Kernested and Bruce Sylvester also earned assists.

Craig "Chunky" Cerniack was once again called upon to make several fine saves, especially in the last minutes of play when Gimli was tow men short.

The only disappointing feature of the game, was the lack of spectator support. The games are well worth watching and the calibre of hockey displayed would surprise everyone.

Monitoring Midgets

"FOLLOWING THE GIMLI MIDGETS"

(ALL THE WAY TO B.C. ??)

Saturday afternoon in exhibition action, the Selkirk Midget "A" team downed the Gimli Midgets by the score of 5 to 3. This was the third meeting of the teams. Gimli was missing four players who were playing in the High School basket-ball zone championships. In the next game against the Selkirk boys the Gimli squad, with a full line-up, hope to reverse the scoreboard.

Glen Stevens paced the Gimli's scoring with two goals and assisted on James Kozlowski's goal. Gordon Sylvester assisted on Gimli's first goal.

Ed Sawa was in goal for Gimli, Ken Bear and Ray Tomiak shared the duties for Selkirk.

Selkirk was tabbed for 14 minor penalties and Gimli picked up six minors.

GIMLI FIGURE SKATING CLUB

The Figure Skating Club is really bustling these days preparing for its annual ice show. This year it is being held Friday, April 2 at 8:00 p.m. in the Gimli Arena.

There is no special theme this year but the numbers the different groups are preparing are very popular and should appeal to anyone who comes to see the show. There will be solo numbers, intermingled with group numbers. Solo skaters will be appearing from our own club as well as guest skaters from Winnipeg. There will also be a novelty chuckwagon race by the three local Cub packs. It should prove to be a most eventful evening. Do plan to attend and support your young skaters in the local Figure Skating Club.

Members of the Figure Skating Club are reminded that your practises are every Friday and Sunday evenings. Don't miss these important practises before April 2.

Minor Hockey

On Saturday the Tom Thumbs completed the sweep of the G.R.A.F.T. league championships. In winning the Tom Thumbs duplicated the feat of the Pee Wees going through the season undefeated in league play-offs.

The first game saw Gimli romp over Arborg to the tune of 9 to 0 count. There was only one goal scored in the first period but in the second Gimli found their scoring eye, notching five and rounded out with three in the third. The big gun for Gimli once again was their first line, they produced five of the nine goals with right wing Dale Martin getting four and Donald Smith the other. Donald Smith also had three assists, Terry Robinson two assists. The other goal getters were Melvin Biluk, Darryl Sylvester, Tim Valgardson and Terry Krulicki. Krulicki also had one assist. Other assists went to David Oakley, Blair Walker, Melvin Biluk and Keith Tucker. Arnason and Gilroy were in goal for Gimli.

The second game pitted Teulon and Riverton against each other, and after a hard fought game, in which Teulon fought back twice to tie it, it ended 4 to 2 for Riverton. The smaller Riverton boys gained full marks for their win which put them into the finals against Gimli. Deytor Roche opened the scoring for Riverton, S. Jack tied it for Teulon, Van Johnson scored again for Riverton only to see J. Blackwood tie it once again. Then in the third, Terry Thorarinsson and L. Johnson put it out of reach. C. McLeod had two assists for Teulon, T. Marcynuk one assist, Kovich one assist for Riverton.

In the championship game, after a scoreless first period, the boys from Riverton seemed to tire a bit after playing back to back game and were out-scored 3 to 1. The line of Keith Tucker, Terry Krulicki and David Oakley scored four of the six goals. Terry Krulicki had two goals and one assist, David Oakley one goal. Keith Tucker one and one, Terry Robinson and Donald Smith scored the other two for Gimli. Darryl Sylvester, Melvin Biluk, Bob Stinson, Dale Martin, Tim Valgardson, Tim Weinberger and Bob Gretchen all had singles. Hugh Collins on an assist by Terry Thorarinsson scored for Riverton. Dwayne Arnason and Steven Gilroy turned in some outstanding goal tending. Congratulations for a fine season to all the boys and their two coaches, Dave Oakley and George Shaw Sr.

Last week saw the wind-up of the house league, now we get into the serious play of the play-offs, which started Saturday in the Super League and after fifty minutes of play it ended one all. Philip Tackash scored for Leafs unassisted, Gerard McInnis tied it for Canadians and an assist from Gary Orford and Burke.

On Monday in Tom Thumb, both games ended in ties, North Stars and Canadians three all. Melvin Biluk scoring all three for Canadians, Tim Weinberger had one assist. Ray Mannara, Dave Gagnon, John LaPrade scored for Stars, Darren Crouch, James Younker and LaPrade had assists. In the Leaf-Boston game it ended two all. Darryl Sylvester scored both for the Leafs, Don Smith had one assist, Brad Benson and Allen Lukiw for Boston, Jim Hentig, Benson, Ken Kozara assisted. In Bantam, Canadians beat Leafs 3 to 1. Dale Martin had one goal and one assist as did Ken Kernested and Joey Kopish, Tim Valgardson had one assist.

On Thursday in Pee Wee it was Red Wings 3 and Boston White 0, with Gary Pearson scoring all three goals. Jeff Valgardson was in goal for Red Wings. In the second game it ended 2 to 0 for Boston Black over North Stars. Joey Kravetz was in goal for Blacks and recorded the shut-out.

Forces Curling

AVIEMORE, Scotland, March 12 -- Canadian Armed Forces curlers today won what is considered to be Scotland's most important annual bonspiel, the Johnnie Walker sponsored Highland Week of International Curling held at the Aviemore Centre this week.

This is the second year in succession that Canadians serving with NATO forces in Europe have won the handsome 2,000 (English pound) nine-karat Gold Plate Trophy.

In the final game the winning rink defeated another Canadian Forces rink skipped by Captain Jack Dingle of Dawson Creek, B.C., to give the Canadians the 1971 runners-up title as well.

Both rinks were all-square at 5-5 after 12 ends and an extra end had to be played giving the winners a 6-5 final victory.

Captain Chet Randall of Fredericton, N.B., a fighter pilot serving with 421 Strike/Attack Squadron skipped the winning rink. Other members of his foursome were Corporals Jim Ferguson of Welland, Ont., Gary Armitage of Flin Flon, Man., and Ken Hall of

CURLERS WIN

LADIES OPEN WINNERS

C.F.B. GIMLI.....Last week-end saw considerable action at the Town of Gimli Curling Club where a Ladies' Open Bonspiel was staged. A rink from C.F.B. managed to come away with the top honours, a feat of considerable merit since the C.F.B. ladies do not have a good past record of winning this particular tourney.

Winnipeg and Victoria. All members of the rink are based at Baden Soellingen, West Germany with the exception of Hall who travelled over 7000 miles from his base at Comox, B.C. Hall and Randal played together in the rink that placed second in last year's competition.

Thirty-two rinks, including seven Canadian Forces entries, took part in the 'spiel. Other entries included rinks from Switzerland, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Canada, United States, Scotland and England.

Convener of the Highland Week of International Curling, Major Allan Cameron, a past president of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club and the International Curling Federation, said in his speech at the presentation banquet. "In this bonspiel, which I consider to be the greatest competition in curling, the two Canadian rinks who battled out the final game today put on an exhibition rarely seen, even in the world curling championships."

In presenting the Gold Plate to Chet Randall, Sir Hugh Ripley, sales director of Walkers,praised the fine spirit displayed by the Canadian curlers both on and off the ice that won for them so many friends.

There was no doubt of the popularity of the Canadian win. As the winning foursome marched around the banquet hall led by a piper, the several hundred guests present, rose spontaneously to their feet and gave them a wild and thundering standing ovation.

Scotland and Scottish hospitality came in for glowing praise by the Canadian curlers. For many of them this was the third and fourth year they had returned to throw rocks in this annual curling classic.

One Canadian, Major Jerry Fosberg, commanding officer, 109KU Flight, is almost an adopted son of the Scots curlers around Aviemore. Playing in Dingle's rink in the final game Fosberg had the crowd really rooting for him. As one crusty old Scot said. "We wanted Jerry to win for very sentimental reasons, he is the one responsible for the tremendous Canadian participation and interest that adds so much to this bonspiel.

The lineup of the Canadian team from Lahr that placed runners up were: Captain Jack Dingle (skip) Major Jerry Fosberg of Winnipeg, Man., Corporal Joe Fawcett of Brockville, Ont., Sergeant Charlie Labossiere of Montreal, P.Q.

RCR's in Jamaica

BY CAPTAIN BILL WHITEHEAD

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CFP)--The lithe Jamaican poling his bamboo raft up the Rio Grande River gazed down at the soldier swimming beside a poncho raft.

"Ho, soldier, he called, 'hows the water, mon?'"

The scantily clad rafter paid no further attention to the man in the water. Apparently seeing a Canadian soldier in combat clothing, heavy boots and helmet, floating his weapon and pack across this river did not seem all that unusual.

The swimming soldier was taking part in Exercise Nimrod Caper III, the fourth such tropical training exercise for Canadian troops to be held in Jamaica.

The Second Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, was airlifted to Palisades Airport near here by Hercules aircraft of Air Transport Command. During the last week of February and the first week of March more than 700 men with their equipment flew from the snows at C.F.B. Gagetown to the tropical Caribbean island for the month-long exercise.

After an eight-hour flight from Canada by aircraft from the Edmonton-based 435 Squadron and Upland's 436 Squadron, the troops were flown by pre-positioned Buffalo aircraft over the spectacular Blue Mountain Range to Port Antonio on the north shore of the island.

"We had to improvise," Major Fraser said, "but we were ready for the first flight of the main group when they arrived."

After a day of settling in and getting accustomed to the heat and humidity of the tropics, the men started on a six-day jungle training school. Commanded by Major Doug Fraser, the school prepares the men for three exercises during the latter phases of Nimrod Caper.

Watermanship is taught on the Rio Grande River, well-known to tourists who enjoy an eight-mile trip down the river on bamboo rafts.

The troops are taught to make a raft using banana leaves and other tropical vegetation and their poncho. Unlike the tourists who sit on bamboo rafts, the troops float their equipment on the raft and swim alongside. The men also learn that four coconuts tied together with boot laces will support a man in the water.

Only one man need get wet in the next lesson on how to cross rivers - the man who swims across to fasten the ropes to the other side. His contemporaries cross high and dry - providing they are careful - as they learn the various methods of moving over either the one or two-rope bridge.

Sheer cliffs, some 80 to 100 feet high, in the tropical rain forests are no obstacle to the troops once they acquire the mountaineering skill of rappelling down the cliff face.

Three days of survival training in the jungle, including lessons on how to trap animals, large and small, and to recognize foods available from plant life completes the jungle school.

Following the first phase of training, the troops have an opportunity to rest and relax before putting their newly acquired skills to the test.

The Canadian are welcome in the Jamaican towns and many soldiers have accepted invitations to visit and enjoy the hospitality of the homes.

In the last half of Nimrod Caper the men will take part in three separate exercises: Nimble Foot, an escape and evasion exercise; Range Rider, a jungle tactics operation; and Pongo Conquest, a long-range patrol action by individual platoons.

Pongo Conquest is the most severe. The men must trek in four days to and from Nanny Town, a remote village in the sparsely inhabited area of the island.

Two Buffalo aircraft from 424 Squadron, Trenton, and 429 Squadron, Edmonton, conduct resupply flights from Palisades airport to tiny Ken Jones airport near Port Antonio.

The Buffalo also fly resupply missions paratropping water to the troops on survival training exercises.

"The exercise is moving well," says Lieutenant-Colonel Scotty Morrison, commanding officer of the battalion.

"We are learning to cope with the tropical environment and the professionalism of the Canadian serviceman really shows up here. This exercise also shows how our men are the best ambassadors Canada has away from home."

Summer Militia Training

Militia training and work projects at Canadian Forces bases will be provided by the defence department again this year as part of the federal summer youth employment program announced by Secretary of State Gerard Pelletier.

Between 6,000 and 8,000 young people will be accepted for special militia training and another 3,000 to 4,000 will be hired for a range of civilian employment. In addition to the special militia training, 7,000 soldiers involved in the normal militia program will attend summer camps.

This year's special summer militia program will consist of two types of courses. In one seven-week course, young men between 16 and 24 years of age will be accepted. Three weeks of general military training will be followed by three weeks of a modified infantry program at local armouries. The course will conclude with one week at a summer militia camp for weapons training and simple field exercises.

The other course is designed for those who took basic training under last year's plan, and serving militia soldiers who are in the same age bracket. The seven weeks of training, to be conducted at training centres and bases, will consist of a leadership course based on junior non-commissioned officer standards followed by adventure training.

Successful applicants will be enrolled as privates and will get $7.00 per day while on basic training and $7.50 a day after completing the basic training. They will have the same status as other members of the militia, with the opportunity to serve in the militia after summer training if they wish.

The scope of the civilian employment program, which last year consisted mainly of casual labour for maintenance projects, will be broadened this year to include limited employment in research and engineering projects, food services, physical education programs and other fields.

Employment in these projects will be available for a minimum of eight weeks.

In addition, the department will hire young men, aged 17 to 24, for range clearance projects at several Canadian Forces bases for at least eight weeks. Numbers involved and location of bases will be announced later. Those hired for both the casual employment and range clearance programs will receive the prevailing wage rate in the local area.

In a new scheme this year, the defence department will provide an opportunity for approximately 2,000 young people between 16 and 24 years of age to receive six weeks of instruction at Mobile Command bases across Canada, in first aid, hunter safety, bush survival, search and rescue, water safety, watermanship, citizenship, adventure training, leadership and instructional techniques. Details of this scheme will be announced later.

Applicants for any of these programs may obtain information from Canada Manpower Centres in early April.

Canada's initial contribution to NATO land forces in Europe was the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade group which arrived in Germany December 31, 1951.

The Christian Life.

IF THE SEED DOES NOT DIE

Even in the most ordinary events of daily life, we alternate between the two poles of life and death. From cradle to grave we experience joy and sorrow, boredom and enthusiasm, recession and progress, energy and inertia, sickness and health, and so on. Such is the framework of our being.

It is not merely a question of alternating between death and life. Often the experience of loss, or a dying to one's present situation, is the very starting point for progress and fuller growth. Even the unborn child must die to the security of its mother's womb in order to be born into this world, that is, so rich in potential, but also full of threatening dangers. Later the young child must die to security of the family circle in order to enter the unknown, but enriching world of the school. School itself, in turn, becomes a familiar environment from which the young man or woman must graduate into the challenging yet fulfilling life of adulthood. Promotion and advance in the business world frequently require the giving up of friends and relationships securely established in a particular city.

Even at the physical and biological level it is clear that growth toward maturity involves the renunciation of childhood limitations such as a child's baby talk or a boy's unchanged voice which are often treasured for themselves.

Besides these natural pains of growth, however, there are often other factors in life whose negative aspect is all too apparent: serious family problems such as alcoholism, accidents, ill health, death of loved ones, etc.

Again, there are interior obstacles more subtle and more relentless in their frustration: defects of temperament, intellectual inferiority, temptations, moral failures and so on.

One can easily enough be engulfed by the negative experience of all these realities. Their accumulation throughout life might lead only to weary old age and culminate in the final failure of a sad death. Yet this need not be so; history is full of examples of people who have triumphed over adversity.

It is at this point that we must raise the question: "Is it possible that what appears to us to be failure and useless waste may turn out to be the path to success?"

Lay Convention

FORCES LAYMEN CONVENE

OTTAWA (CFP)--Ten servicemen of the Protestant chapels of C.F.B. Uplands and C.F.B. Rockcliffe were among the forty-four delegates attending the first Armed Forces regional laymen's conference held at North Bay March 6 - 7, 1971.

The theme speaker was Arnold Edinborough, the well-known writer and newspaper columnist, who is an active layman in the Anglican Church of Canada. Mr. Edinborough said that too often laymen were content to leave their faith at the church and committee room door.

This Christian concern was to be exercised not necessarily in an evangelistic fashion, but placed into daily living. With reference to the conference committee's reports, Corporal Donald Fleming of C.F.B. Uplands said that their findings were identical to those expressed by laymen in the civilian churches.

Warrant Officer Ray Grant of C.F.B. Rockcliffe said that the laymen wanted a more active role in the governing of each individual Armed Forces congregation, and greater utilization of their services by chaplains to free the latter for their more specialized tasks in the military community.

In case you find mistakes in this paper, please consider it was put there for a reason. We try to publish something for everyone and some folks are always looking for mistakes.

DID YOU KNOW THAT.....

After emerging from a lighted building it takes about 15 minutes before a person's eyes are fully adjusted to the dark. A substance sensitive to low illumination must build up in the back of the eye, a substance that is bleached out by light. For safety, a 17-year-old should wait two or three minutes before driving off after leaving the bright lights; over-60's need at least five minutes to accustom their eyes to the dark. SO...take it easy when driving at night, the things you don't see may kill you!
