MARCH OF DIMES

Wives of the service personnel at RCAF Station Winnipeg will march in force on Tuesday evening, January 31st, in the annual March of Dimes canvass.

Over seventy wives from the RCAF housing development are expected to take part in the campaign. The Chairwoman for the RCAF canvass is Mrs. F. Johns, other committee members are: J. F. Mitchell, Member; Mrs. A. J. Timmims, Finance and Supply; Mrs. G. H. Knight, Publicity, and Mrs. E. D. Kenning, Recruiting Chairwoman. The Zone leaders are: Mrs. T. F. Shannon, Mrs. J. W. Rodgers, Mrs. L. E. Gange, Mrs. P. L. Moore and Mrs. J. M. Dagenais.

The canvass raised approximately seven hundred dollars in 1959 and again in 1960, which when combined with the other RCAF contributions brings the annual RCAF donation to over three thousand dollars.

The majority of the ladies taking part in the canvass are members of: Protestant Ladies' Guild, Catholic Ladies' Guild, Officers' Wives' Club and the Station Curling Club.

Common Sense For Baby Sitters

The sitter selected should have a sense of responsibility and should like the children and preferably live in the neighborhood.

Instructions should be given in writing as well as orally: Where you are going and telephone number, or the name and number of someone to call in an emergency. Your telephone number and location of telephone.

Emergency telephone numbers for FIRE, POLICE, DOCTOR. How to call the fire department. Location of exits. How to control the furnace or stove. Leave a flashlight in case of power failure.

Guide to the sitter in emergency: Get the children safely out. Even if it's cold don't wait to dress them. Wrap them in a blanket.

Even the smell of smoke or gas is enough warning to call the fire department, or summon help. Be sure to say exactly where you are. If you can, turn on the front lights, to attract attention. Don't ever re-enter the house. Smoke or gases from a very small fire may be fatal. If you are trapped inside, remember that the air near the floor is usually better in a smoke-filled room. Inside, don't turn on or off any electric switches. This may create a spark, ignite gas vapors, and cause an explosion.

Annual Meeting Of Astra Credit Union

The Board of Directors of the Astra Credit Union Society Limited have given notice that the annual meeting of shareholders will be held on 30 Jan. '61 at 1600 hours in the Drama Club on the east side. The meeting will review the operations of the society during the past year and receive reports from the Board of Directors, the Treasurer, Credit Committee, and Supervisory Committee. At the meeting elections will be held to fill vacancies in executive positions created by termination of terms of office and transfers. The membership will be required to decide upon the distribution of undivided earnings.

The annual meeting is the main occasion when the general membership exercises its right to control the operations of the Society by making its wishes known to the executive officers, and by electing to official positions those best qualified to carry out their wishes.

An invitation is extended to all eligible members, that is personnel who are employed at RCAF Station Winnipeg, to attend the annual meeting and learn more about the Credit Union. Applications for membership will be available.

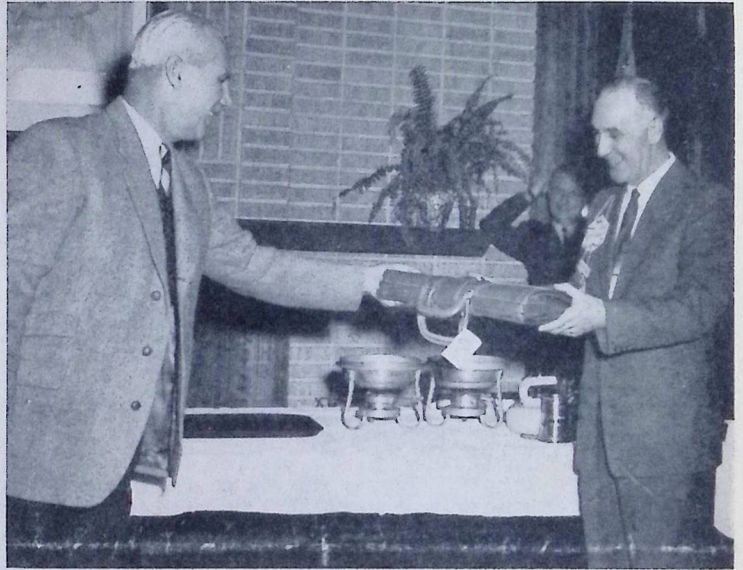

554 Donate To Blood Clinic

The results of the recent clinic were as follows:

- | | |
|---|-----|
| (a) Promised donations | 710 |
| (b) Potential donors attending clinic | 565 |
| (c) Donors rejected for various reasons | 11 |
| (d) Actual donors | 554 |

Although this is by no means a record, the Red Cross were more than satisfied with the results due to the extremely low level of the blood bank at this time.

PRESENTATION ON DEPARTURE

F/L Frank Bally, Adjutant at AOS presents W/C D. C. Evans, the departing OC of AOS with a briefcase on behalf of the AOS staff officers. W/C Evans has been OC of the school since July, 1957 and departing for Norfolk, Virginia, to attend Armed Forces Staff College.

R.C.A.F. Little Theatre Group

We have no figures to prove it yet, but it is fairly safe and reasonable to make the statement that nowhere in the RCAF is there a Drama Club which holds the high opinion among local civilian amateur and professional exponents of little theatre than is enjoyed by the RCAF Station Winnipeg Drama Club. Yet how little is known about their efforts and the strides they have made in attaining the close co-operation of the theatre world in Manitoba.

Contribute !!

The purpose of the Voxair on this unit is to consolidate in one circular, all instructions, directions, and general news items, bulletins, etc., of interest to station personnel, their wives, and dependents, at this unit. In this way it is hoped to reduce the number of pamphlets, etc., required for advertising and information purposes, and at the same time keep all personnel on the station in the picture as to what station activities are forthcoming.

To date, it would appear that the Voxair has served a useful purpose. It can only do so, however, if you as potential contributors, ensure that items of possible interest are passed to the Editor. In this regard you are requested to ensure arrangements are made so that a detailed schedule of events or a draft of items of interest for your particular section is submitted to Voxair by Tuesday of each week. An opportunity may also be taken to promulgate information as to entertainment and activities for the month if you desire.

The aim of this series of articles is to acquaint the reader with Drama Clubs generally and with the RCAF Winnipeg Club specifically, with the hope that you may become interested in participating, in seeing a production, or just end up taking a justifiable pride in your club's activities.

The term "DRAMA CLUB" in its present day sense appears to be a misnomer. "Little Theatre" would be more appropriate. We have come to think of drama in the Shakespearian sense or at least have learned to associate it with heart-tearing tragedy or a deep psychologically involved plot. It commands oratory of heroic proportions, complete self-immersion by the players in the feeling of the play. In short, drama, in this sense, is the sort of thing that the amateur theatre would do well to steer clear of unless they possess a stock of actors with exemplary talents. Therefore, as a general rule, the amateur theatre of today relies on a lighter form of entertainment running to mysteries, comedy and the serio-comedy plots

Drinking, An Asset?

One of the more common cliches regarding the consumption of alcohol is "I find drinking an advantage in meeting business associates and in generally getting myself known."

This statement is usually accepted without question because it fits in with our lax attitude towards alcohol.

But I wonder how much our business would actually suffer if for a change we had that dinner meeting without alcohol. Perhaps we would find that business would go on as usual.

In discussing alcohol in conjunction with business and careers, I think the figures would show that a good number of promising careers have been ruined because of over-indulgence in alcohol and I doubt very much if we could find many successful men who would contribute their success to the consumption of alcohol.

In addition to the possibility of ruining our careers through excessive drinking, we should also consider the financial repercussions; can we really afford to drink this much? Are we denying our families the things they are entitled to?

Do we drive when drinking and if so do we have proper control of the car—or are we jeopardizing the lives of our passengers and the lives of other motorists.

The Committee on Alcohol Education produce excellent advertising on drinking and drinking habits and even the producers of alcoholic beverages stress moderation in drinking. Yet each year the number of ruined careers, accidents, broken homes and financial hardships due to excessive drinking increases.

Are we contributing to this situation?

"DOG-EAT-DOG"

The curling season is now in high gear at Stn. Winnipeg, and the fight for top position for the Stn. Champion is hooking up into a dog-eat-dog battle which could carry into the final match of the season.

There are no less than six teams that could "sweep" all the glory. Cpl. Price's rink leads the pack with 17 wins, on down to F/L Lord and F/S Common (the winner the past two seasons), they both have 14 victories. In between there are such top-notch curlers as F/L Booth and Cpl. Lee with 16 wins. The dark-horse of the race may be Sgt. McDowell with his rink. He has 16 wins also and has really come alive of late.

- Billy (Red) Hay was the NHL Rookie of the year winner last season.

HOCKEY NEWS

In the first hockey game last week AOS and I&E Flyers battled to a 3-3 deadlock.

The game was a hard-hitting affair with 10 penalties being called, 7 to the Flyers. Hal Mills scored the initial goal of the first frame and a 3-way passing play with Clem LeBlanc and Jerry Thomas to make it 1-0 for AOS. Serg Houle made it 2-0 on a brilliant play with Roger Maltais. The two flashy forwards amazed the I&E goal-tender with their burst of speed. Crossing the Flyer blue-line, Houle made no mistake on the shot, he picked his target and hit it. Erickson put the Flyers back in the game on a nifty play with Lee Black to make it 2-1. Houle scored his second goal of the period to make it 3-1. I&E staged a great comeback and potted two fast goals midway through the final stanza, Erickson with his second goal and Lang were the trigger men.

The biggest news in hockey at Stn Winnipeg last week was the upset win by Combines over the Flyers. The Combines were winless in 12 straight games but came through like old pros against the highly rated Flyers, the score was 3-2.

Slim McKnight was the star of the game for the Combines, he slammed home 2 goals and played a spunky game all the way through the fast moving encounter. McKnight winged both his goals in the opening frame to give Combines a commanding 2-0 lead. Ron Primeau was the only bright spot in the shaky I&E offensive, scoring both goals for the Flyers. Nick Nickolson scored the other goal for Combines.

AOS edged Maint. Wing Beavers in the final match of the week 2-1 in a fast-moving thriller at the Arena Thursday, 19 Jan.

Serg Houle was the only player on the ice to score in the first period. The tricky little right-winger picked up Hal Mills' rebound and plucked the puck over the sprawling Spike Martin, the Beaver sparkplug goal-tender. The Flat-tails roared back in the second frame. Fox Currier scored on a 50-foot blazer that went past a mass of players and into the net to knot the count at 1-1. AOS were not to be denied, however, and at the 15:00 minute mark, Lubinchie picked up a loose puck in front of the Beaver cage and slammed it home. The third period was scoreless.

The young, fast-skating F/C's were just too much for the slow-maneuvering Flat-tails and only Martin was the difference between a low-scoring game and a one-sided affair in favour of AOS.

COMMUNISM ON THE WAY OUT?

The Rev. Anson C. Moorhouse and Mr. Munro Scott have just returned from a whirlwind tour of South East Asia for the National Council of Churches doing research for their new film "Rim of East Asia." One of their most interesting contacts was with Dr. Leung, chairman of the Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China. Dr. Leung said, "I believe Chinese Communism is not going to last." Mr. Moorhouse found this hope expressed in many places in the East but wrote it off as wishful thinking. He writes, "There has been so much favorable Communist propaganda in the West, that it isn't lightly shaken. But this soft spoken, frail, elderly scholar, with the mind and voice of a prophet, did it!"

Dr. Leung went on to say, "You believe in God in the West. So do we, but we believe in the God of history. In the West you believe in God provided you can keep your hands on all the controls. In the East, we believe God will work out His purposes in His own way and good time and we are content. Communism flouts God, so we believe God in His own time and way will destroy it."

Dr. Leung added with quiet confidence, relates Mr. Moorhouse, "I may yet see this in my own time. As you know, what we are learning here comes first-hand. The first claim of materialistic Communism is to fill the stomachs of its people, and this they are failing to do."

"Whether Dr. Leung's prophecy will come true in his time remains to be seen," said Mr. Moorhouse. But of this I am certain. The simple witness of this Oriental Christian was a sharp rebuke to the faith of a Westerner."—from U.C. News-Letter, January 1961.

VAN'S VERBALITY

By WO1 J. W. VAN BUSKIRK

I recently read with interest that groups of service people overseas had taken up the game of "darts" as a manner of dual entertainment and relaxation. It certainly must depend on the temperament of the individual, whether he gets any relaxation from the extremely frustrating game.

I have witnessed seasoned old dart players on the verge of apoplexy in their desperation to make a certain number. That sharp little missile has a bad habit of grazing off a wire thus diverting itself into a horrible and unexpected alternative number from what was planned. You are down to a double "10" for example; so you make a slight error in judgement and hit the single "15" which is only separated by a thin wire. Now see where you are! Then you waste two or three rounds, while your opponent makes large scores (no doubt) and you try to make "3" or "1" which will put you back in a position to try a double again—right back where you were ten minutes before. Oh yes, a wonderful relaxing game! Especially when the loser is stuck for the round of refreshments. This of course adds to the relaxation, even more so when you only have about fifty cents with you.

Then just about the time when you begin to believe that you are about the best player in the crowd, some insignificant, Milqitoast chap steps up, after coaxing, and agrees to play only one or two games because he's not very good at it. Perhaps, the first game—he beats you before you get started; the next game you are more fortunate and get down to "17" before he forecloses on you. Yes, a wonderful relaxing game with the guys standing around kibitzing and guffawing at your bad, unintended shots. It always adds to the relaxation as well to have some avid supporter betting on you, shaking his head and glaring, it helps . . .

You occasionally see cartoons depicting a completely disgusted golfer, and showing him wrapping a golf club around a tree; well I've actually seen a disgusted dart player hurl his dart in frenzy up into the ceiling where they remained for several weeks until someone got a ladder and withdrew them.

I'll bet that many a new curse words originated over a game of darts and many an old one has been revived—the language barrier presented no barrier either. With a valuable trophy at stake and a real close game in progress, anything can happen.

Yes, I agree, same may get a feeling of relaxation from darts but to others it's the same kind of rest you get from a "Bingo" game when you are down to one number for the $200 jack-pot. You sit there completely composed, I know, and when someone across the hall yells "bingo" you probably just say, "now isn't that nice!" So you tuck your shirt tail back in, button up the neck, straighten up your tie; hurl the bingo card through the window and go home and toss half the night thinking of what you could have done with the $200 you didn't win—so relaxed! Maybe they will invent some game more in line with my temperament—something like throwing a dart at a bingo card, with vehemence!

Some of the expressions used in the game are not even relaxing words. When commencing the game, your opponent will say, "I'm off!" suggesting that he might be a bit balmy but only meaning in dart talk that he has made a double starting number. Or you might hear him say, "three in a bed," which does not sound proper under most conditions but in this case only meaning that he has placed his three darts in the same double or triple number. You might hear him gleefully yell, "Shanghi!" which in most cases is a most intriguing subject but now only represents that he has put his three darts in a single, double and triple, same number. Every house sets up its own rules, so when you win at one place, you probably lose at another though playing the same way. Of course this increases the recreation and amusement aspects of the dart game.

Me, I'll still take my relaxation in my own manner; watching my horse at the track come in with a photo finish, or walk barefooted through a thistle patch—I get about as much rest from either of these pursuits as I do from darts . . .
