CAS To Retire

Air Marshal Hugh Campbell was born in 1908 in Salisbury, N.B., receiving his early education in the public and high schools of Salisbury and Moncton, entering the University of New Brunswick in 1928. He graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering in 1930.

Joining the RCAF in 1931, Air Marshal Campbell occupied many various positions in the early part of his career. Shortly after the outbreak of the war in 1939, he was appointed Director of Training Plans at Air Force Headquarters, in which capacity he assumed heavy responsibilities for the eventual success of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. In 1942 he was posted to RCAF Overseas Headquarters in England and assumed the duties of Director of Air Staff. As the duties of this position required close liaison with field units, Air Marshal Campbell travelled extensively in operational theatres throughout England, North Africa, India, Egypt, Sicily, Malta and Italy.

Air Marshal Campbell returned to Canada in January 1944 and was appointed assistant to the Chief of the Air Staff. He relinquished this position in April 1945 on his appointment as Air Member for Personnel. On completion of the Imperial Staff College course in England in 1949 he returned to Canada to be Air Officer Commanding North West Air Command. In October 1949 he was appointed Canadian Chiefs of Staff representative to the CJS Washington in connection with the North Atlantic Pact Committee.

The Minister of National Defence announced the appointment of Air

New CAS Named

Air Marshal C. R. Dunlap was born in Sydney Mines, N.S., in January 1908, and after attending Acadia University and the Nova Scotia Technical College, joined the RCAF in 1928. He was commissioned as a pilot officer on appointment and awarded his pilot wings the following year.

For a number of years prior to the war, Air Marshal Dunlap was engaged in the RCAF's aerial photography work. He later specialized in air armament and attended courses in the United Kingdom. At the outbreak of war in 1939 he was serving as Director of Armament at Air Force Headquarters, Ottawa, an assignment he filled for three years.

Late in 1942 he was posted overseas to become commanding officer at the RCAF Station at Leeming, Yorkshire, a station in No. 6 Canadian Bomber Group. In 1943, several weeks before the Sicilian campaign, he went to North Africa as commanding officer of a bomb wing comprising three Wellington squadrons. He directed establishment of RCAF bases on the sun-scorched-Tunisian plain, receiving special commendation from Air Chief Marshal Tedder and General Doolittle for the notable success of his wing. RCAF squadrons under Air Marshal Dunlap carried out strategic and tactical bombing in Sicily, Italy and Sardinia.

Returning to the United Kingdom, he took command of a medium bomber wing engaged in daylight operations, which was part of the then newly-formed 2nd Tactical Air Force. He flew on 35 operational trips while commanding the wing, which besides scoring outstanding successes against German

ANGLICAN CONFIRMATION

The Most Reverend H. H. Clark, Archbishop of Rupertsland and Primate of all Canada visited the Protestant Chapel on Sunday evening, April 29 for the rite of confirmation. It was a beautiful service. Thirty-three candidates were presented for confirmation to His Grace by Padre Paul DeLong and one by the Reverend C. D. Griggs of All Saints Church, Winnipeg. The Reverend C. Morgan, Padre of Deer Lodge Hospital, acted as chaplain to the Archbishop.

The confirmation service began as a procession of choir and clergy entered the church through the main door. The Archbishop then exhorted the candidates to remember that for true Christianity, as in all good things in life, a price has to be paid. His Grace offered to those who were to be confirmed a scripture text from the 2nd book of Samuel Chapter 24, verse 24, for their personal thought and guidance. There followed a further illuminating address by the Archbishop and then the ratification of Baptismal promises. At this point of the service the very impressive rite of the laying on of hands was conducted by His Grace. Prayers and hymns followed, and after the Archbishop's blessing the service was brought to a close with the choir and clergy recessing to the hymn "Lead on O King Eternal."

After the church service an informal reception was held in the Chapel Annex. The confirmation candidates attended with their next of kin. There were about one hundred and fifty guests in all—and one R.C. dog—name Max! The ladies of the Protestant Chapel Guild provided tea, coffee and delicious dainties for the occasion. Mrs. Muriel Munn did an excellent bit of work as tea convenor. Pourers on this occasion were Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. DeLong and Mrs. Wright.

The reception afforded a number of people the opportunity of speaking with the Archbishop personally. It was a great honour to meet the Primate and a privilege to talk to so fine a man. His patience and understanding, particularly of the young, was so evident in many of the delightful conversations he had with the guests. And so after a beautiful service and such a pleasant reception, this was surely an evening that will stay long in the memory of the confirmation candidates and all those who attended.

"PLAYDAY" — The smiles of Station Winnipeg's victorious volleyball vixens after their win over Gimli and Portage indicate the trend during last weekend's "Playday". Sixty airwomen from the three Manitoba units spent April 28 competing in a variety of sports events including the Western TC Basketball playoff between Gimli and Winnipeg. Except for darts won by Gimli, the local girls cleaned up. At the end of a long hard day, the "Playday Trophy" was presented to the Winnipeg aggregate by Squadron Leader Sylvia Evans, Assistant for Women Personnel at AFHQ. A dinner and reception followed. # WHAT NOW?

This is the concluding article of a series in which F/O E. G. Palmer, a past ANS graduate, has described his service experiences since winning wings. (Ed's.)

My first "practice" taste of operational flying work, with 102 KU, is behind me and much that is new and in the nature of personal "firsts" have transpired since leaving the Air Navigation School in Winnipeg, so short and yet so long time ago.

Ahead lies the C119 course at 4(T) OTU and, if all goes well, eventual squadron service. Anticipation mounts with proximity, inexorably excluding all thought but of what is in store—for I am soon to know.

Five of us reported in at Trenton for the OTU course; three experienced navigators who were returning to transport flying after a ground tour, and two "new boys" like myself.

First, three weeks of ground school to learn transport procedures. It is at OTU's that the basic navigation procedures taught at Winnipeg are modified and extenuated to suit the operational role, the aircraft and the specific job. Next comes a "famil" ride in the "flying boxcar", as the C119 is affectionately known to transport aircrew. The trip was from Trenton to Otis AFB in Massachusetts and thence to Bemuda, Washington, Bermuda again, Greenwood and back to Trenton. This trip is designed to give the student a good working picture of the aircraft. The student gets practice on the equipment and in the navigational problems associated with the C119; for instance, a "shortie" such as I having to stand on the RO's head to use the sextant, among various other minor but welcome readjustments from the days of Beachcraft training.

After the trip it's back to work. More lectures, synthetic plots and trainer exercises. A trainer is a complete flying exercise carried out on the ground under similar conditions as would be experienced in the air; e.g.—the instructor always tells you it's overcast when you want a sun or star shot, or undercast if it's a drift you are after!

The ground school is over, the exams and final trainers are finished, now into the flying phase. We go to Goose Bay, Resolute Bay, Churchill, Edmonton and Winnipeg on our various "shake down" trips. We have our check rides and are awarded our category cards and as our Boxcar sinks slowly into the West, say goodbye to the OTU.

Our transfers are in, some East some West, but I'm in the middle. My transfer is to 408 (R) Squadron at Stn. Rockcliffe, Ottawa.

The same pattern is followed at 408 as is the case at all flying units: a warm welcome and a thorough briefing on what my duties will be, the benefit of which lies in an immediate knowledge of ones responsibilities and what further training will be required to discharge them.

408 (R) has two roles; aerial photography and Arctic Recce. The aircraft used for both roles is the wartime Lancaster, appropriately equipped for the different tasks and designated 10 P (photo) and 10 AR (Aerial photography) respectively.

Within a week of arriving I was on an Arctic famul trip touching at Goose Bay; Thule, Greenland; Resolute Bay and Churchill. There is no civil airline which runs this scenic hop and this is a pity for many of you will perhaps never experience the wonder and awe that is part of Arctic flying.

With formal training now over, my present goal is the attainment of aerial photo training standards, not an easy job but a fascinating one which I am looking forward to.

You will perhaps recall early in this description my mention that with wings graduation the hard work was over—or was it? My experiences with 102 KU, 4(T) OTU and now 408 (T) Sqn. have more than answered my question and served to dispel any notions of complacency. In fact I, as you will, have come to realize that a successful service career requires continued, if not continuous, study and application. The important difference being that the emphasis factor in success changes from instructor — initiative to self-initiative. Whereas in the orderly and formal 8 to 5 schedule at ANS and the OTU, instructors taught, directed, prodded and led us to graduation—now it is solely up to the individual. No longer will there be someone to teach or tell us to study for the "new" subjects of; promotion exams, category exams, check rides and qualifying courses.

I hope that these articles have been of interest, particularly to the future graduates of ANS, and that you all end up as content as I am with your transfer!

Hints

The water meters recently installed in the 430 Rental Units are part of a metro-wide plan to obtain adequate revenue to support the vital water works system. Residential users in St. James will be paying for water quantity used instead of the former flat rate. The anticipated 40% increase in revenue will not add to the expenses of any RCAF personnel living in PMOs, MDPs, or Rental Units, as water rates for such quarters are paid by the Crown. The meter records from the Rental Units will permit detection of unusually high consumptions should watering restrictions be imposed. This we hope will clarify the subject as far as the installation of these meters.

The rapid onset of warm weather brought unwelcome water into the heating systems of many slab-type Rental Units. After a somewhat shaky start, Metropolitan Construction Ltd.'s crew developed a sure and fast remedy for this condition. We hope that permanent remedial action will be taken this summer for houses that are "flooded" each spring.

As you may have noticed any periodical, be it magazine or newspaper, has a "Letter to the Editor" column, every one, that is, except "Voxair." The prime requisite for such a column is a supply of letters to print in it. This I think would create a large interest among the Station personnel in reading what the other fellow thinks instead of listening to him hint or moan about something in the magazine, the different trades or even the PMQs.

Constructive criticism we welcome. Remember, though, that the libel laws still apply to "Voxair" even though it's a non-profit service publication. So keep your letters clean; keep them candid, but above all—keep them coming.

Servicing West

By DICK GINTER

Transient—A new monthly record has been established in the number of visiting A/C serviced in this section. The good flying weather, plus the Easter weekend, pushed the total past 371 which is last month's all time high. As the month is not completely over at this writing, the full total is not known but we have already had 370 and still three days to go.

The praise received from transient pilots remains at a constant high level. This speaks well for FS Common and his crew. It is something they can all be proud of.

Lorne Common is thinking of advertising for more men though, to help share the glory. The ad would, no doubt, run something like this: HELP WANTED — Young men, 17-50, wanted to assist in everything that needs doing on all types of A/C. Good wages, irregular hours, no holidays, no unions and no shirkers. Excellent opportunity for someone who wants to meet people from all over the world. Smart dressers only, need apply. Shoulder to cry on provided on a first come, first served basis by FS Common. Apply at Winnipeg's "Front Door."

Still speaking of our Guiding Light, it appears he's looking for a French tutor. He is being transferred, I understand, to Morry Ell. And speaking of ads reminds me that Frank Chase has a house for sale in River Heights, and "Saki" Richens is planning to deal his "Kraut Kadillac." It looks like a very good deal too.

By the way, any 'kick back' for selling any items through this column will be gratefully received; and promptly turned over to F/L Semister, whose problem it is to finance this wonderful newspaper.

Expeditors — Received a note from FS McBurney now comfortably established at 10 TSU Lethbridge. He says to say hello to all the boys.

He has already purchased a beautiful home and is happily (?) working on its grounds. To quote him: "... getting my lawn ready to seed. I have the front all levelled and the back almost done, so guess I had better get some grass seed to sow as I can cut it. Crazy, isn't it?" Unquote. YES.

FS G. W. Fleetham went to Flin Flon over Easter weekend. On the way back he found a lake east of Dauphin, which, according to FS Jim Symons, does not exist. G.W. claims he got wet in it, but Jim says it's a mirage.

The question is, was G.W. seeing things? (and after a weekend in Flin Flon he may have been) or is Jim Symons' knowledge of geography less accurate than he believes?

Hub Husband had a busy Easter weekend. The source of his great attraction to Regina spent the holidays here, and I must say that Hub has seen more of buses and hitchhiking this weekened than ever before.

When Larry Horner left us, he took the Ping Pong championship with him. Although we had several previous candidates for top honors in this sport, it seems quite likely that the new champion is going to be our new sergeant, Rolly Randall. Makes one wonder what they need to do in the Airforce in the old days. Teach ping pong?

Pt Gill is taking a few days' rest (?) in the local hospital. The malady which caused this is unknown to this writer, but then I buy my own groceries.

Good luck to Jackie Randall on his RMC try-outs at Officer Selection Unit, Centralia. With a little luck and lots of hard work, he may one day end up as his Dad's O.C.

Charlie Roy, formerly of this hangar, is now the proud owner of the "MAR-CHAS" cafe in Elie, about 25 miles west on the Trans-Canada highway. He also owns a house at 377 Rita, which at present is vacant and just begging for a tenant at a very reasonable rate of $85 a month. Retirement must be food for him, because Charlie looks great. The people of Elie consider his place THE spot for a meal or sandwich. He says to say hello to all his old friends here.

DAKS—I hear there is a move in the works for Wally Maranchuk. Another good man for Repair Sqdn. Hope you like it, Wally.

LAC Nelson traded his Morris for a 55 Plymouth. Good move.

Doug Sanders is busy overhauling his Monarch. No more oil pools in my driveway, he says.

VOXAIR ads work remarkably well. John Moore advertised a lost cat and the cat came back! He is another happy VOXAIR reader.

John's son Jackie Moore is in the hospital, but he's doing fine. He feels a bit cheated though, having to spend Easter in the hospital. He doesn't mind missing school days, but missing holidays is just too much.

I & E—Gene Fanjoy has an unusual hobby. He stuffs things. Birds, animals, reptiles, etc. He will tackle anything and will even mount them for you. Furthermore, he knows all the jokes about taxidermists and their specialty.

Maint-Analysis—This section is revising its procedure. Bird watching is coming into its own. The information they have been gathering has borne fruit and is going to be used to the RCAF's advantage. Exactly how is not known by this writer, but Gordie Erikson and his crew are very enthusiastic about it. A large-eyed gooney type bird hovering behind their door proclaims the motto, "Remember, we're watching you."

Inner Sanctum—A welcome addition to the staff here is Gord Harris, just in from Camp Borden and happy to be here. Now if you want some preference postings typed up, Gord's your man. Still single, he is another poor fish at the mercy of our beautifully baited local lovelies. He is also a frustrated beatnik, he loves to paint but is not allowed to wear a beard.

Our boss, F/O Hamel, is practicing two nites a week for the soccer season. If he keeps on as busy with sports as he has been, he will never get married as he hasn't the time to meet the district's dolls.

Winter Works Project—A name

Wouldn't it be nice to have an attractive healthy green lawn enclosed by a white picket fence and bordered by pretty flowering annuals? Although it sounds like a lot of hard work and some expense, it is time and effort well spent when you consider how much these simple items contribute to the beautifying of your home.

To those of you who are living in rental units, some encouragement has been offered. You are permitted to have a flower bed that will extend all around your house. Though the width of this bed is generally limited to thirty inches, the width may be extended in the front to completely fill the area bounded by the parallel walk leading to the front entrance.

A fence also can be added. It may extend from the walk leading to the side or rear entrance all around the lot and up to within eight feet of the road. This may be tied in with the corner of the house if more privacy or confinement is required. The fence should consist of pickets not exceeding thirty inches and should of course be flat at the top. Pickets which are pointed are particularly dangerous to the young children.

If the fence is extended along the back of the lot another flower bed can be added. This shouldn't exceed the thirty inches in width. This width will easily permit two rows of flowers and leave room for an attractive border.

The lawn itself should be raked to remove the dead grass and accumulated debris. This also serves to admit air, moisture and fertilizers to the plant root. Although a fine spring-toothed rake is most useful, it may be necessary at times to use the heavier garden rake to break up the surface. A fine top dressing should then be well raked over the lawn. To serve this purpose Metropolitan Construction has offered to deliver top soil on request. These requests however should be channeled through the housing officer who will finalize the orders to facilitate delivery.

A healthy green lawn enclosed by a white picket fence will add greatly to the beauty of your home and the flower beds you plan will be enjoyed throughout the summer.

REC BRILL

SOON IT'S BASEBALL by B. F.

Once again we have arrived at the semi-annual lull when we are amid the in-between season in professional and amateur sports, which include our own inter-section and station pastimes.

Basketball has been long gone and hockey now has gone by the wayside, with everyone aware, I am sure, that the Toronto Maple Leafs upended the Chicago Black Hawks for the Stanley Cup. Hockey is going yet, with the Allan Cup and Memorial Cup wars still in progress.

Professional baseball is off and running now, with the teams in the major leagues having several weeks of games under their belts.

The Station Baseball teams are in the midst of loosening themselves up with some indoor practice, and will take to the outdoors as soon as the temperature allows.

Yours truly, as a result of some leave, besides not coming out with a sports column last week, was also absent from the opening baseball meeting of the season. Charlie Meyers, because of TD, also missed the meeting, but was elected Club President for the second consecutive year besides his one season as Veep. Old Frank Binkus here was also installed as Secretary for the third straight year and will handle the paper work again.

The club is still sans a manager and coach although the grapevine has it that a couple of individuals have shown interest as manager. The coach, it is safe to assume, would depend on who the field boss turns out to be.

About a dozen or so from last years team have been recipients of transfers since last summer, leaving about 4 or 5 holdovers, and creating positions for personnel to come and try out for one of these spots. Better has-beens than me have made it, so ball players, new and old, call our co-ordinator, Cpl. "Chubby" Lenz at the Rec Centre and find out where and when the next practice takes place.

The Station Club, in their first two seasons of existence, were very worthy representatives of the station, playing a good calibre of ball and excellent in colour.

Their first venture, in 1960, saw the airmen finish fourth in a 10 team league and although they went no further in the playoffs, they did win the Training Command Baseball Championship in the RCAF segment of their season's schedule.

Last year they faltered into fifth place and were beaten out of a playoff berth when the St. Emile Braves won their last three contests to edge out the locals by a game and forge ahead in the final standings.

This time, before the TC play-downs took place again, Manager Gregg Cummings was transferred and Charlie Meyers led the club to their second TC title as his stalwarts, Garnie Boutet and Eric Boyd pitched consecutive 4-0 shut-outs over Portage la Prairie and Moose Jaw. On this note, Meyers with a 1.000 average, resigned due to a lack of spare time, thus creating the present vacancy.

GOLDEYE GLITTERS

Although claiming to be a rabid baseball fan in this hockey and football part of the country, a lapse of what could be termed memory, caused me to totally forget about the Northern League Baseball season opener here last Saturday, when the Eau Claire Braves journeyed into town.

Switching the television dial that afternoon in the hope of either one of my favorites, the St. Louis Cardinals or Detroit Tigers, the Gold-eye game was brought to me instead, this time in my living room.

Although the visitors emerged on the long end of a 10-6 decision, a one game viewing cannot be an indication as to whether General Manager Terry Hind has a winner or not.

Having witnessed hundreds of professional games of various classifications in various parts of Canada and the U.S., I have seen many odd plays take place that remain embedded in my mind. These include two no-hitters; a 23 inning 0-1 game; and a 400 ft. single among others and in this certain contest a week ago on TV when a Goldeye hit a home run, which consequently helped to pave the way to a defeat on his won-lost record.

Trailing 5-4 in the sixth stanza, relief pitcher Ray Steffani lined a drive over the left-centre field fence to knot the count at 5-5. The following inning, while on the mound, he gave up two runs to Eau Claire who never looked back after that. This caused him to be the loser on record. As the Goldeyes were trailing when Steffani took over, the loss would have remained with starter Don Dennis, had he not hit that home run to tie up the score. Such are the quirks of baseball that makes it such a great pastime.

Although we in the RCAF are very fortunate in having many recreational outlets at our disposal,

ANS News & Views

The ANS dinner dance on Saturday night was considered a resounding success by the large group who attended. The delicious lobster was of course the main attraction on the dinner menu. W. R. C. M. Bayliss on behalf of the Officer Training and the Programming section, presented the wine of S/L Bob Coulter and F/L Alan Wakeman with a bouquet of flowers. A vote of thanks goes out to the ANS entertainment committee, Dick Acton, Ramsey Brown, Bill Fell and Vic Eldridge for a very pleasant evening.

Has anyone seen the "missing butterflies". No doubt you have read the newspapers about the valuable collection of butterflies missing from the Museum in Ottawa. Well evidently the "collector" has struck again. It is reported that the decorative butterfly "took-flight" from the Officers Mess on the 28th April. It is hoped that they will be returned soon.

The ANS contribution to the special course at Camp Borden will be F/L V. S. Clark of the Flying Wing and F/L J. Thomas of the New Ground section. The Astronauts leave for the East this weekend.

Wife: "The couple next door seem to be very devoted. He kisses her every time they meet. Why don't you do that?"

Husband: "I don't know her well enough yet."

SCOUTS

On Saturday April 28th a luncheon was held in the New Marlborough hotel for 130 first class scouts from Manitoba and North Western Ontario who qualified for their Queen Scout badges in the preceding year. A number of relatives and scout leaders accompanied the boys. Guests at the head table included his honour E. F. Willis, Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba, Mr. C. H. P. Killick, Provincial Commissioner of the Scouts, and Mr. C. E. Kent, District Commissioner. The guest speaker was Mr. Andrew Currie, who gave a very impressive speech on the theme, "Service." After lunch Scouts and Scout leaders paraded to the Legislative Buildings with the Lord Selkirk District Pipe Band leading the parade, smartly dressed in kilts. Inside the Legislative Building the Queen Scouts and Scout Masters lined up on the staircase preparative to being received by the Lieutenant Governor. At the actual time of presentation scout master introduced respective Queen Scouts to his honour, who presented the latter individually with a certificate of award. The Lieutenant Governor gave a short speech to the boys and the many interested onlookers.

Station Winnipeg is proud to have 2 Queen Scouts who received their awards on this occasion, Danny O'Keefe and Ron Serne of the 51st Scout troupe, R.C.A.F., Winnipeg.

PROTESTANT CHAPEL GUILD

Ladies, make plans now to bring your husband or a friend to the court whist, being planned by the Guild, to be held on May 7th in the Building 17 at 8.30 p.m. Tickets are available now from members of the Protestant Chapel Guild and for the low price of 50c this is a wonderful evening of enjoyment. Prizes will be awarded to the more successful players and everyone enjoys the delicious home-made pie with ice cream and coffee, which traditionally tops off the evening's activities. There will also be home-made pies for sale and home-made candy, which will be donated by the mothers of junior choir members, in hopes of raising enough money to purchase material for the completion of the junior choir gowns. Some of the proceeds from the whist drive will go towards the purchase of a cross for the new altar for the Sunday School. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

The next regular meeting of the Guild will be held Monday May 14th, one week later than usual because of the Whist drive. We hope to see you at the church annex then—that's May 14th, ladies. Please remember the change in dates.

About the Bazaar—Please don't throw away those old vases, books and toys as you spring clean! Believe it or not, the Guild has found quite a market for such items. On the white elephant table at the Guild's Bazaar last year a total of $63.25 was collected. This was from the sale of numerous articles priced mostly from 1c to 25c. The profit on that particular table more than covered the cost of the Guild's gift of a typewriter to the Ellen Douglas School for Handicapped Children. So please contact a member of the Guild or phone VE 7-1980 or VE 2-6149 to have your "White Elephants" collected. Will you help us to continue supporting charitable causes? Thank you.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The monthly meeting of our Lady of the Airways Catholic Women's League was held last Monday evening in the Chapel residence. Prior to the meeting the ladies joined Reverend Father Frederickson in "The way of the Cross" service. Madame president, Mrs. Alice Edwards recited the League prayer. Reports were then given followed by a discussion on a forth-coming communion breakfast planned for May. Lunch was served by Mrs. Betty Lynn and some of the ladies.

CLOBBERING THE CRAFTY CROW—Part I

The crow offers an opportunity for the long cooped up hunter to dust off his favourite shooting iron and head for the open spaces. The results may not add anything to the supper table but it gives one a chance to get the winter rust off the old bones and to absorb some refreshing spring air and sunshine.

Spring crow shooting is tough and the bag is correspondingly small. With more hunters turning to the crow for sport those that survive a season are plenty smart and then some. This along with the lack of suitable cover makes shooting in April and May a challenge to even the most scheming hunter.

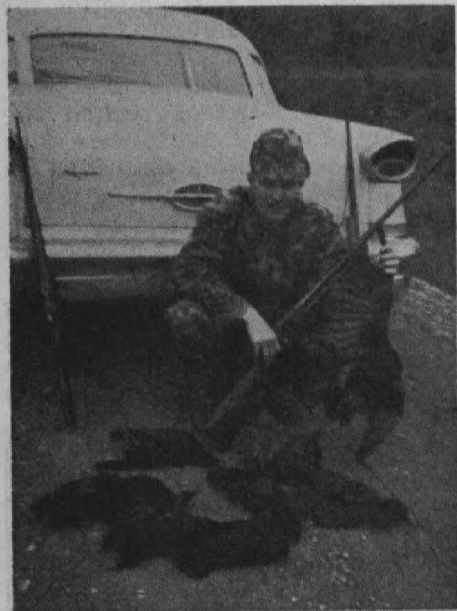

Once the leaves come out and the young crows are off the nest trying their fledgling wings, shooting opportunities greatly increase. By this time, however, the ice has left the lakes, the fish are biting and camping is in full swing, and crow shooting takes last place on the things to do. The dedicated

The crow is primarily a villain, but he does do some good. In his favour he eats a variety of insects and grasshoppers, but items on the shady side of his character are far more numerous. Nature lovers and hunters are against him as he loves to dine on song bird eggs such as those of the robin and meadowlark, and even the young songbirds themselves. He is also a major enemy of the prairie ducks as he feeds extensively on their gradually declining egg population. An estimate was made at one time that credited crows and their pals in robbery, the magpies, with destroying four times as many ducks in the form of eggs and young ducklings as all the hunters in the North America shoot!

The wariness and cunning of a crow makes shooting one of their numbers a greater accomplishment than shooting some of our game birds. He has his weaknesses however, which make him a sucker at times for crow calls, stuffed owls, and a wounded comrade, to mention a few. These are the times when you get even for all the frustrating days the black rascals gave you throughout the rest of the year.

The hunter who continually tells himself that no bird can be smarter than a human being, can't help but succeed — eventually. When he reaches the conclusion that the crow is smarter than he is, then he should admit defeat gracefully, and quietly sneak away to the nearest lake with his fishing rod tucked safely in his hand.

Next Week: Part II describes the crow shooting tactics most commonly used.

rascal potters however, really clean up at this time and have shooting fun that sharpens their reflexes for ducks and grouse in the fall.

Is the crow a benefactor or are his antics as black as his plumage?

WHY NOT

our neighbours in the USAF, especially those based in the state of Oklahoma have one contest they are qualified to enter.

A bit of information published recently in "Life" magazine states that one may take part in the three day rattlesnake hunt which is being held in Okeene, Okla. this weekend from the 4th to the 6th of May. With the encouragement of a heavy pair of boots, forbidden guns, free guides and forked sticks available, thousands of these venomous rattlers are released and the biggest catches will earn various participants trophies, not counting a $100.00 bonus for nabbing a specially marked snake. The article also states that there is plenty of first aid available. How would this be to break up what could be a monotonous weekend?

STATION GOLF

by R. B.

It is that time of year again. The little white balls are being belted, bashed and generally abused over rolling green fields, through very large trees; into water hazards and sand traps and finally if one is lucky or good enough, into a little round hole 400 yards away. This, to many people including myself, is heaven. Any avid golfer will tell you of the wonderful and exciting feeling when you step up confidently with club in hand and swing smoothly at that gleaming white ball. Then the sound of club meeting ball and off it goes down the fairway towards that frustrating little hole. Golfers love it, others scorn it and call us crazy, but it is a lovely way to get fresh air and light to medium exercise.

Yours truly was out late Friday afternoon for eighteen holes at the Assinaboine Club. The course was in very good shape for this time of year although some rain is required to freshen up the fairways. This is a good nine holes for the average golfer but it tends to be easier for the long ball hitters. Some of the boys played Tuxedo last week and reported that some changes had been made to improve the course. They also reported the course in good shape except for the dry condition.

Still on the theme of golf, a meeting of the Station Golf Club was held on 25 April 1962 in the Station Theatre. S/L Thurmeier last year's president will remain as such for another term. F/L Carr-Hilton was elected vice president and Cpl. Konopetski secretary. Membership will again be sold for $2.00 and this entitles the golfer to green fees at one dollar per day at Tuxedo Golf Course for the balance of the year.

Various tournaments will be held once again with the first one scheduled for the end of May. A major play tournament was also discussed and we will keep you posted as these things develop.

Finally, in a matter regarding the annual Training Command Golf Tournament, it appears to be normally a foregone conclusion that the local participants will win this event as there are two separate strong units here, Station Winnipeg and TCHQ, who combine their top men as one team.

Smaller units in this Command seem to simply come out and fight for second spot, as they have insufficient personnel in which to stack a team. This appears to be a very unfair situation, so would it not be feasible for TC and Station side enter a team each to more or less balance the situation and give the smaller stations an even chance to take first spot in lieu of second?

Food for thought, is it not? On this note I shall leave until next week, so remember to keep your head and to curse very, very softly.

In January 1945, after his promotion to Air Commodore, he was posted back to the United Kingdom to take command of the Canadian bomber base at Middleton—St. George, Yorkshire.

In 1946 he attended the Bikini atomic bomb tests as representative of the RCAF and before his appointment as Air Member for Air Plans in October 1948, was employed on special duties in the United States.

In November 1949, Air Marshal Dunlap assumed the duties of Air Officer Commanding, North West Air Command with headquarters at Edmonton, Alta., and was transferred to Air Defence Command, St. Hubert, P.Q., in May 1951, to fill a similar position.

He was appointed Commander of the National Defence College, Kingston, Ont. on August 1, 1952. In June 1954, he was appointed Vice Chief of the Air Staff, a post he held until June 1958, when he assumed his present appointment of Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations, Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe.
