CANADIAN FORCES BASE WINNIPEG

Vol. 25, No. 18

Winnipeg — There's a new girl in CPL. Bill Divins' life. His wife Brenda is happy with the arrangement, however, because the new girl is their daughter Rebecca who was born while he was serving a six-month tour of duty with Canada's Peacekeeping Force on Cyprus. CPL. Divins returned to Winnipeg Thursday with the advance party of the 2nd Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Waincon '76 a Joint Effort With U.S. Troops

WAINWRIGHT, Alta.—Annual tactical training for 1300 western-based soldiers and airmen got underway in Wainwright, Alberta.

WAINCON 76 assembled 1 Combat Group units and supporting air squadrons from Edmonton, Calgary, Victoria, Chilliwack, B.C. and Shilo, Man., at this large training area, 120 miles east of Edmonton, for two weeks of sub-unit battle exercises.

Troops will practice infantry, artillery and helicopter battle procedures as well as reconnaissance and support tasks.

Live firing for mortars, machine guns and anti-tank weapons will be conducted and everyone will also spend time on the ranges with their personal weapons.

Units will set up their base camps in the field, using tents and shelters.

In charge of the training is

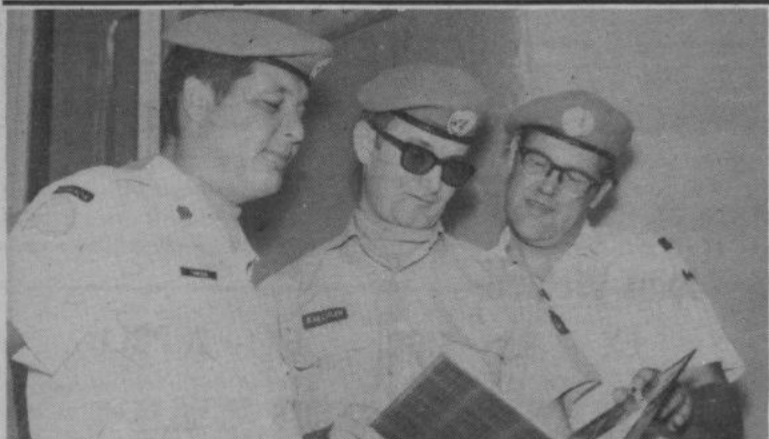

Brigadier-General J. A. St. Aubin, 1 Combat Group commander.

Two U.S. Army units will undergo exchange training with their Canadian counterparts. Sixty cavalrymen from Texas will familiarize themselves on Canadian armored vehicles while 120 Alaska-based infantrymen try out Canadian infantry weapons and equipment.

As in the past, Alberta units are moving here mainly by road, while units from other provinces use a combination of road convoys and aircraft, a squadron of Hercules transports from Edmonton.

Tactical air support will be handled by 10 helicopters from two Edmonton squadrons. Heavy-lift twin-rotor Chinooks and medium-lift Hueys will be used for rapid battlefield deployment of troops.

Redeployment to home stations started Oct 1.

SGT. Bill Ferguson, 36, Pender Island, B.C., WO. Dale Kaechler, 34, of Bon Accord, Alta., and MCPL. Joseph Poirier, 38, of St. Nicholas, P.E.I., check the visitor register at United Nations Disengagement Observer Force Headquarters in Damascus. All are serving six-month tours at the multi-national headquarters of the U.N. Forces. WO. Kaechler is the son-in-law of J. C. Ferguson of Bon Accord, his home station is CFB Winnipeg.

On that flight was the Commanding Officer of the Second Battalion, PPCLI, Lieutenant-Colonel J.E.L. (Larry) Gollner. The Regimental Colours were brought home on this flight too. The Air Command Band was on hand for the October 13 arrival as was Lieutenant-General W. K. Carr, Commander of Air Command; Brigadier-General J. A. St. Aubin, Commander of 1 Combat Group, Calgary; and Colonel M. D. Gates, Commander of Canadian Forces Base Winnipeg.

"Yes Mom, Fred got home from Cyprus a week ago... no, he hasn't had any trouble getting adjusted to a 'home-life' routine..."

From Edmonton — 435 Transport Squadron; 408 Tactical Helicopter Squadron; and 450 Helicopter Transport Squadron.

From Victoria — 3rd Bn, PPCLI. From Chilliwack, B.C. — 3rd Field Engineer Squadron. From Shilo, Man. — 3rd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

The two American units are: a troop from 1st U.S. Cavalry Regiment, Fort Hood, Texas and an infantry company from 172nd Infantry Brigade, Alaska.

Sergeant Frank Richards, 48, of Regina checks out the base of a new antenna installation at Camp Ziouani on the Golan Heights. SGT. Richards is a member of 73 Canadian Signals Squadron and is one of 150 Canadians serving with the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force which separates the Syrian and Israeli armies. He is stationed at Canadian Forces Base Winnipeg.

Minister Supports Canada Savings Bonds

The 1976/77 Series of Canada Savings Bonds are now on sale through pay allotment/payroll deduction plans. Cash and instalment sales will commence on 12 October. I wish to take this opportunity to recommend that you give consideration to this excellent method of augmenting your personal savings and investment programme.

Canada savings bonds are always Canada's most popular personal investment. This new series offers a yield of 8.5 per cent of the first year and 9.25 per cent annually for the remaining eight years to maturity on 1 November 1985.

This year's issue is again tailored for the smaller investor and bonds are available in amounts commencing from 50 dollars.

Canada savings bonds are a method of financing which is indispensable to the Government and I am confident that the Department of National Defence will reach its objective.

Letter To The Editor

Having read a certain Nav. School column, I am compelled to write in defence of my section. During the past months this writer has generally lambasted and slammed just about every section on the Hangar Line. Now that the Herc NT module systems are in a reasonable state of repair, he has the nerve to claim the major part of the credit for his section. Now this is not borne out by facts;

Fact - The Avionics Servicing Section does all the DESNAGING of the modules, including the computer.

Fact - All changes or repairs to the module equipment are done by the Avionics Shops.

Fact - The accredited person in the column is a programmer and not a computer tech. So he is unable or unqualified to carry out computer servicing.

Fact - Most of the "bugs" in the module, including the computer, were rectified by Avionics Techs.

Regardless of whether there was intent or not, the Techs of the Avionics Section were dealt a low blow by that column and hopefully this will give credit where it's due.

- Avionics Tech.

CDN Serviceman Gets Medal For Valour

OTTAWA—Defence minister James Richardson has announced that a Canadian Forces helicopter pilot, who died last May 16 while flying a mercy mission over earthquake-battered northern Italy, has been awarded that country's highest civil decoration. His two injured crewmen have received the second highest award.

Captain Robert McBride, 42, of Toronto, has been posthumously awarded the Gold Medal of Civil Valor, Italy's most prized civil decoration for bravery.

Captain Raymond Massey, 41, of Winnipeg and Sergeant Robert Abar, 33, of Flin Flon, Man., received the silver medal of valor.

The fatal crash occurred when their helicopter slammed into a cable-car pylon in the Friuli region of northeastern Italy.

The airmen, members of 444 Tactical Helicopter Squadron, were part of a 400-man relief contingent from the Canadian Forces base at Lahr that remained in the devastated region for five weeks.

The three airmen were trapped in the wreckage of their helicopter until rescued by an Italian squad.

The two crewmen were taken to hospital in Udine in serious condition, and later transferred to Lahr.

CAPT. Massey is still recuperating from his injuries, and SGT. Abar, recently released from hospital, has returned to take up new duties in Canada.

Italy's minister for foreign affairs, Arnaldo Forlani, paid tribute to the Canadian airmen at the recent NATO defence ministers' conference in Brussels:

"The Italian people and I consider with emotion the memory of... Captain Ronald George McBride, who died in an accident which took place during the rescue operation."

"The sacrifice of this airman, and dedication of all those involved, will always be appreciated by our people with gratitude and great admiration.

Both injured airmen have been reluctant to comment about their brush with death.

"We're just fortunate to be alive," is all they say.

Mrs. Eleanor McBride, widow of the pilot, went to Toronto in June to accept a specially-struck gold medallion honoring her husband. It was presented by the local chapter of the Associazione Nazionale Alpini, a veteran's organization for Italy's mountain soldiers.

The lounge will be officially opened at 1200 hrs Friday 15 Oct 76 at which time a brief ribbon cutting ceremony will take place. COL. M. D. Gates, Base Commander and LCOL. E. J. Kirby B Adm O will subsequently declare the room operational.

Initially, the lounge will be open from 1200-1330 hrs Mon thru Thurs; Fridays will feature a food special and extended hours - 1200 hrs to 2300 hrs (also a music man if warranted). Indian Summer is here today!
 Indian Summer is here to stay!
 If Indian Summer ne'er goes away,

We'll all have time to play in the hay!

Sorry 'bout that. I try never to wax poetic, but every now and then when the weather is so doggone nice I just lose my head. After a few nights of that thick, crisp frost it's a real joy to see so much sunshine and to watch the thermometer creep back up to the eighties. (High twenties for all you types that have been subverted by the multi-million dollar metric publicity campaign.) Anyway, if you feel like putting those few lines to music in your spare time, a light skirl of the pipes is suggested for accompaniment.

It will all be history by the time this hits the streets, but for those of you that missed it, the (sort of) annual "Wives Night" at CFANS was held on October 6th. The ladies were treated to a briefing, a tour of the school (complete with equipment demonstrations and displays) and a little sight-seeing trip on an NT Hercules. Jim McBride was responsible for the preparation of the evening and Dave Collings and Al Steele provided the in-flight entertainment. Back in the barn, coffee, cookies and sherry were provided to ward off the night's chill prior to dispatching all the girls toward home.

NOTICE!! CHANGE ANNOUNCEMENT!!! The date of the CFANS Christmas Party has been changed! The new date for said party is Saturday, December 4th! Make note and amend your social calendar right now!

The pace of the fall/winter extracurricular activities is picking up. All over the place schedule boards are sporting cryptic notations indicating non-availability (except for urgent need) on various nights of the week. The number and variety is quite breathtaking ranging from U of M; U of W; curling; broomball; and so on, right through to "stitch and chat" and evening basket weaving. Again this serves to remind all of the diversification of training and talent available to our trainees at their request. I understand that Major Toole even has a Rolm program that grinds out "Hints from Harriet" and "Dear Aggie" advice.

Dear Quivering Quill: It is with deep regret that we write to inform you that Linda (not from 429) has departed the fix. After three years of ringing the Commandant's buzzer, typing party invitations, ringing the Admo's buzzer, fetching a cup of tea, ringing the Commandant's buzzer, ringing the Admo's buzzer, etc, etc, etc, . . . she has flung in the towel and headed for Montreal. Sorry about that, Quiv, but you guys are probably responsible. After all, you've been picking on her for ages. From now on bug your own secretary. (We have a new secretary coming in, but play it cool - her husband is a former green beret, stands six-foot-fourteen, weighs in at a cool 265 and uses pilots for floor mops.) By the way, I noticed that you missed the last issue again. Whatsamatta, run out of steam? Cheers, TB.

To hark back to one of my favourite topics, the parking lot (Parade Square) has turned into a real shambles again of late. People used to park in a nice, orderly fashion that allowed just about everyone to find a suitable spot, but lately have started to use the scattergun technique - just shut her down wherever she happens to roll to a stop. To be blunt, its not only sloppy looking, but damned inconsiderate to boot! The turkeys that put the dressing on the cake are the ding-a-lings that park in the very last opening along the outside edge of the lot so that no one can get into or out of the middle section - no help at all with the shortage of space that we must endure for another month or so. Those responsible are not confined to Building 84 - mess users, barrack inhabitants and

According To This, We're Lost

Base HQ staff are also among the offenders. For crying out loud, you people, show a little intelligence!

Marvelous Mel, the "Upstairs Rat" has been conspicuous by his absence again - he'll probably claim extenuating circumstances due to the roof reconstruction. Admittedly, the pounding and the overpowering stench of liquid tar isn't conducive to creativity but, still and all, the morale of the troops must be given paramount consideration. Hustle your buns up there, kiddo.

The roof project is expected to continue for quite some time yet, so be prepared to grin and bear it for at least a few more weeks. The contractor expects to have the main part of the building completed by the end of October but will still have to do that portion covering the solarium. That particular phase is just a little bit trickier - the old roof and the glass domes have to be removed, the base level of the roof raised about five inches and then all the odds and ends have to be stuck back on. Despite our hopes to the contrary, this phase of the job will probably interfere with the training program in that the solarium will not be available for the students to work on their ground, celestial, practice observations prior to taking to the air in the celestial flying phase. Forewarned is forearmed so take the hint and get up there as soon as possible, you guys.

Some of the staff and students may be wondering about the new staff member seen wandering about the hall lately, who arrived without the usual fanfare. He's not new, that's why no trumpets or beer. It's just our old Al English who has finally returned

ASC news news news

By CAPT. MEL WALKER

The only person who tells me anything these days is the assistant editor. I mean, there I was, busily preparing a lecture for ASC, a Loran program for Crowell, a story for Professor Kleiman and an article for CDO, when SGT. Radford phoned up and told me I had fifteen minutes to get my Voxair column finished. Have you ever tried to find a Voxair deadline. Last issue it looked like a cartoon headline. The one before that it was hidden among the Chinese food. Take a Voxair to lunch. I wonder what a Voxair tastes like. Actually Doug Brazeau and I have an excellent working agreement. I write 'em. He prints 'em (mistakes and all) and Bremner criticizes 'em.

But with ten minutes left to write the column, I obviously couldn't give you instant biographies on seventeen ASC students, thirteen SANC students, (yes, Virginia, there is a SANC 7603), two new staff members and a Chatair cartoonist, particularly when base photo supplied us with exactly one untitled rogues gallery as the exclusive property of the ASC course director. So, this week, you get Reader's Digest instead of Time/Life with guaranteed 95.652% Canadian content (the exceptions being Sqn. LDR. Jock Huges and MAJ. Jimmie Boone).

With five minutes to go what gossip can I give, particularly since no one's told me any. How could they, they've all been away. Never before in the history of ASC have so many gone so far so early. The short Canadian tour is over already, highlighted by the APC races at Petawawa. MAJ. Chisholm insisted that he won but there is some difference of opinion. Also, on long range patrol (something new for a Starfighter driver) MAJ. Bob Reid is up in Ottawa at the 10th Congress of the International Congress of the Aeronautical Sciences. Al Brabant's up there too, but for different reasons. Working Party 53 is so secret even Al doesn't know what he's doing.

The Boss got the real plum though; a week in Florence devoted to studying the pilot replacement problem. N.A.T.O. are interested in remotely piloted vehicles. Just think of how small you can make an airplane if it doesn't have to carry chubby chicken.

In the next two weeks Dave McCoubrey goes to Calgary to learn about air cushion vehicles. (Helicopters with bags around the rotors) and Joe Sharpe goes to U.C.L.A. in sunny California to master the science of radar systems.

So with thirty seconds to go, there's nothing left to do but beat Rick Young over the head to get my smock back, tell y'all that we're gonna have a real long one next column. (Two pictures too), hand this to Brazeau and go do a mile and a half.

Yours quickly,

from an entire two seasons of TD in Montreal working on the Olympic fencing competition. Upon his return he found himself to be the new TRO A/NAV capably backed by the new TPO, Pete Kéndell. Along the same line, between fishing and hunting trips, Chris Mathieu has been appointed the TRO B/NAV and Pete MacDonald has moved up as the TPO. At last word, the CEL, A&AR and A&ES cells continue under the same management with no further changes in the offing for the immediate future.

Gerry Kingwell will be noticeably absent for a few weeks while he catches up on some overdue leave - he and the wife have gone off to do the European Tour this year and are hoping to cover a good part of the western continent sampling the hospitality, cuisine and wine indigenous to each of the provincial regions. Sounds like fun, but definitely requires a cast-iron constitution to last a month.

It has come to my attention that I could be doing some constructive labour (This, I guess, qualifies as recreation?) so I must get the typewriter off of my desk, bury myself in bales of paper and cultivate a wild-eyed, desperate, half-crazed look. Oops!! It may be easier than I thought - somebody just dropped 800 pages of stuff on my desk for proof reading. "They're coming to take me away, today - ho ho, hee hee, hey hey"

Winners for the base exchange baby bonus draw Sept 1976 were Mrs. Faye Constable, Mrs. Elizabeth Buck and Mrs. Jane Buchanan. Good Luck ladies, the next draw will be Oct. 30th.

429 SQN BISON BREW

Howdy Herd! The Bison Brew is being penned by a new author for the next little while so please notice that I will refrain from casting disparaging remarks in the direction of CFANS. I refuse to kick an organization that's down!

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS: Welcome to the Squadron CAPT. Bob Hawes, WO Lew Llewellyn, MCPL. Wayne Harker and MCPL. John MacFarlane.

Bob Hawes joins us from 449 Squadron in Greenwood and with his wife Pat and kids Vicki and Bruce has recently settled into a PMQ on Braintree.

Lew Llewellyn joins the Squadron from Trenton. Lew joins our overworked and underpaid Flight Engineer Section.

429 finally got its long awaited loadmaster complement in the persons of Wayne Harker and John MacFarlane. Wayne and family have recently moved into a PMQ on Blanche Ave. Early this month Wayne received "The Above and Beyond the Call of Duty" Award when he came to work while on leave to help the Squadron complete an airlift to Cape Dorset and back. John (The Great Root Bear) MacFarlane was grounded recently because of a minor eye infection. (He says he slipped and fell on a bottle.) John was probably airborne more than anyone else in 429 Sqn. during the month of Sept.

Wally Prokuda is back from some sick leave and looking "chipper". Brian Fritsch spent six tough days in Edmonton fighting for CFB Winnipeg in the "Golf War". (CFB Winnipeg - 2nd place.) Brian will be leaving the Squadron to take up his new job near the end of October and his presence will be sadly missed. (He used to write this article for the Voxair.) LCOL. Tettelaar is still away in Trenton on his C130 Course although he pops up in Winnipeg occasionally. "Chub" Hezely is still away improving his lot in life at the Ecole de Francais in St. Jean, K-bec and John Lumley is still at Staff School in Toronto learning how to read and write (militarily that is!). Bob McCreadie and Don McDonald have just arrived back from Trenton after enjoying the fun and sun in the "Pacific Theatre". Ernie Canivet recently flew his 1000th hour in the ol' Herc. Congratulations! Ernie and Bonnie and family are leaving us at the end of the month for good times at 436 Squadron in Trenton. Good Luck!

JAM TRIP OF THE MONTH: A tie for jam trip of the month! Claude Mikkelson flew on SF506 to Lahr Germany recently. He says it seemed odd to fly in a straight line instead of a triangle. Ray Moore, Hal Steffler, Hart Kelley and Glen Morgan did good work at the Moncton Airshow and on an Arctic Airfield Tour.

RUMOURS: "Pappy" Paproski being posted to fly T-33 or Voodoos. Claude Mikkelson being posted as a crewman on an Army chopper. The rumour that Warren Everett has lost his voice is not true!

SQUADRON HAPPENINGS: The pilots of 429 were recently visited by their career managers. One pilot was heard to mutter, "We both threw darts then we split the difference." Another was heard to say, "I wanted to fly the CF104 in Germany so we compromised. I think it's Trackers in Shearwater." All in all a successful visit. In September MAJ. MacIntyre was to drop the Skyhawks in Churchill. Weather bad -- Drop cancelled. Skyhawks aren't cleared to fly in cloud, 429 Sqn's SF 93-94 to Churchill began recently and will run on the first Tuesday and Friday of each month. That's about it! P.S. Sharon wanted her name mentioned.

LADIES DAZE: A Winnipeg policeman waved a lady motorist over to the curb and complained, "Madam, why have you no red light on the rear of your car?" "Officer", she replied, "It is not that kind of a car."

Locally Yours- UNDE

Notice to all members of Local 705 The Annual Dinner Meeting and election of officers for 1977 will be held in November. Please take note that your President, Frank Martens will be retiring from his present position and will be assuming the duties as the Regional Vice-President. A new President will have to be elected - and here we need the co-operation of all members.

A little girl and her mother were having lunch in a restaurant. During the meal, the mother said: "I've told you, dear — don't talk when your mouth is full."

"But Mommy," said the child, "what can I do? When I talk with my mouth empty, you say: 'Be quiet and eat.'"

The cross bears the names of twenty Canadians who have died in the service of peace in Cyprus since 1964. The most recent death was that of Private D. R. Kreigher of 2PPCLI who died in a vehicle accident while on duty on 17 August 1976.

No news is bad news: The beautiful secretary hurried to the boss' office to tell him she had some good news and some bad news. "Only the good," he said, "I don't think I could take any more bad news today."

2 Base Volleyball Teams Enter Manitoba Leagues.

CFB Winnipeg has entered two, yes that's two, teams in the Manitoba Volleyball Association. One will play "Double A" and the other "A". This is a good opportunity for our more experienced players to compete in top calibre volleyball to better their playing ability and prepare ourselves for the Prairie Region and in turn the CF National Volleyball Championships. By the way, there is a chance we may be hosting the CF Nationals in April 1977.

Base team practices will be held Wednesday evenings at Lipsett Hall from 7 pm - 9 pm.

All personnel are invited to come and try out.

For more information contact either MCPL. Reg Bonnar at the Rec Centre (511) or CAPT. Ken Benoit, BPERO (509).

CFB Winnipeg Sweeps Prairie Region Tennis Championship

CFB Winnipeg played host to 79 tennis players from the Prairie Region from the 12 to 14 September 1976. There were four players representing Winnipeg, Moose Jaw and Portage la Prairie while Cold Lake and Edmonton each had three. Captain Bob Milburne made the trip all the way from Yellowknife to participate.

Back in August, the PERI section organized a Base Winnipeg tennis competition to select our four representatives, Captain Boulé, Lieutenant-Colonel Popham, Captain Granger and Colonel Van Ek were the four winners. Unfortunately Colonel Van Ek was unable to get away from his work for the Prairie Region competition so Captain Benoit who was the fifth seed replaced him. The CFB Winnipeg team's hours of practice paid off as they took first and second in singles and first in doubles.

Captain Boulé defeated LCOL.

Popham 5 - 7, 7 - 6 and 7 - 5 in a closely contested singles final. In doubles Granger Boulé and Captain Granger defeated LT. Folkmann and Lieutenant Berthelot of CFB Portage La Prairie 7 - 6, 5 - 7, 6 - 2.

Mr. L. Borland of the Wildwood Tennis Club who officiated the finals in both doubles and singles congratulated the competitors on the high calibre of their play.

The Skin diver training is now in its fourth week at the Westwin Pool. The twelve novices are turning out to be real eager students. The conditioning still leaves something to be desired but they're all working hard on it. The novices are now using the basic skin diver equipment of masks, fins and snorkel plus bouyancy compensators and weight belts. Because of the great concern for safety that the Goldeyes have, our chief instructor, Gord Hornbeck, is introducing the novices to the bouyancy compensators and weight belts at a much earlier stage than in previous years.

The club membership now stands at over 50 new and renewal members. Once our Cyprus divers return from their "vacation" in the Mediterranean, we will be near the 100-member mark. There should be lots of stories to listen to once Herm Coullard, Ed Laas and the rest of the PPCLI divers return to Winnipeg.

Recreational swimming is still going on every Tuesday and Thursady night at the Westwin Pool from 8-11 p.m. If you are a diver and want to join and visit us on either night. If you want to become a diver and posses a current Bronze Medallion or equivalent, there will be a Scuba Diver course commencing on 6 Jan. 1977. Further details can be obtained by phoning CAPT. Win Koch at local 454 or SGT. Barry Abram at local 307. Safe diving!

100 Hour Swim

Last year CFB Winnipeg captured the Trophy awarded to the greatest number of 12 mile swimmers. It's a real challenge for us to compete with other Bases on a strength ratio basis but we can be proud of and hope to keep the trophy we won last year. However, we would like to give a much better showing in the competition in 1976 by getting more swimmers out.

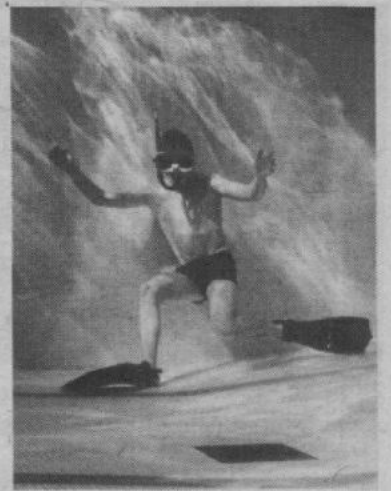

Remember, you don't have to be a long distance swimmer. Every "single" lap counts. Leave the 12 mile swims to the pros. The majority of us are "waders" but we can win the competition for CFB Winnipeg by contributing on a one-lap-at-a-time basis.

MANITOBA JOURNAL

ROSMARIE KOHLBERG

FAREWELL TO SUMMER IN THE PARK

We watched the splendid summer culminate in a glorious autumn. Cycling through the City Park during the last days of September — and still on the first days of October — we savoured every curve in the path, discovering enchanting pictures painted by Nature from a rich palette of glowing colors: the oaks a dull copper brown, the willows still green, and the hawthorn a radiant red. As we were riding between two rows of majestic elms that had already shed some of their yellow leaves, their branches reaching up from either side became the arches of a gothic cathedral. . . .

The enthusiastic response to the bicycle path in Assiniboine Park must be gratifying to the City Fathers and Mothers. I don't know whether any of them ever cycled the four-and-a-half-mile course, but thousands of citizens — and their dogs — have walked, run, played, jogged, skated, skied, and cycled on it since it was first built in 1975. This summer the path was extended to wind between tall, cool trees, coming out along the north side of the English Garden, and running close to the river — dipping and rising occasionally — before it turns into the 'serious' stretch on the west end of the park and around the golf course.

It was a great season for cycling — especially Sunday mornings, with the reward of coffee or tea at the end or between rounds, but also on warm evenings when you could watch a dazzling sunset.

I remember the brisk May mornings when it was still too cool for wearing shorts, but apple-cheeked, hearty old gentlemen in their sporty bermudas would greet us in passing, their bright smiles suggesting, "Jolly good for us, eh? Still frisky at our age." Then there were the novices — woobly-wheeled and wide-eyed; the couples on tandems; the little kids on little bikes, dutifully following daddy and mummy, sometimes rebelling: "I'm tired, I need a rest, I'm tired!"; the young, haughty ten-speeders who whizzed past everybody with a superior air and never a smile. . . . And the skier! Actually, he was making the motions of cross-country skiing while pushing himself along with the aid of a couple of ski poles on a foot-long boards like roller skates.

One Sunday morning my companion, who rode behind me, wondered why everybody was so friendly that day — more so than usual. I never told him that I was smiling at everyone first. (It works: almost everybody will smile back.)

People with dogs have taken a great liking to the Path. Has nobody ever told them that it was built for people? People on bicycles, to be specific! At times the Path becomes a frustrating obstacle course (not to mention the sanitary aspects), especially when you are just preparing to swoop elegantly down your favorite slope and there is this menacing brace of St. Bernards blocking your way, turning your graceful glide into an awkward lurch.

Lovers — of all ages — obviously arm in arm, strolling down the middle of the road, present a problem too. Who would want to disturb their blissful union by ringing a loud bell, shattering the tender romance? So you pull your brakes sharply and the screeching tires send the twosome scattering to the bushes. . . .

Sometimes, we would stop, at the English Garden to marvel at the luscious display of flowers and shrubs. Queen Victoria, at the Garden's north end, reigned serenely over a realm of roses and snapdragons, and later over a dominion of dahlias and Michelmas daisies. . . . An old man standing beside the sundial, alternately scowling at it and consulting his pocket watch, muttered, "It's thirty minutes late!" — disappointingly. . . .

Once I saw a boy, reclining precariously on the ledge of the footbridge, staring straight ahead, looking despondent, as though he was making up his mind to jump. (Should one go up to a perfect stranger and say, don't do it, you are so young, life is good, etc.?) One week later, he was in the same spot, wearing the same uniform — frizzled jeans and a radio — still looking melancholy. The week after that, he was not there. (Had he jumped? Should I have intervened?)

And the T-shirt inscriptions that flash by on every round: Gritty Grotto Club, Think About It, Voulez-vous coucher avec moi?, Remember Cyprus, San Francisco Rams, Brown's Hotel, La blouse qui parle, St. Louis 43, Comment t'appelle-tu?, HELP (with hearts around it — on the chest of a big-bosomed middle-aged mother). . . .

All things must end. One day we delighted in the still-warm autumn weather, and the next, a yellow blizzard of leaves swept us almost off our bikes as we rode through a deep carpet of rustling leaves.

So long, Queen Victoria, so long, Countess of Dufferin, It'll be a long winter. Maybe we'll see you skiing.

Cadenza

Tradition is today, for many, it would seem, something that rings of anachronism; the obsolete. These feelings are of course as old as tradition itself, yet there is something to be said for some of the newer attitudes in regard to certain traditions. One that needs a great deal of overhauling would seem to be the age-old "for men only" attitude that goes with so many jobs in the daily life we all apply ourselves to. Perhaps one of the last strongholds of this anachronistic attitude is our very employer, the Armed Forces. True, the day of the sword and lance or mace had little room for the efforts of the fairer sex . . . and even today's mechanized and computerized flareups, the girls might feel a little short on the beef it takes to manhandle awkward and heavy equipment around quickly so as not to get one's derrier unnecessarily perforated. But the day has arrived when the team that goes to battle is made up of a tremendous amount of rear echelon expertise, the kind which women are proving to be more than adequate at as technology changes the face of not just war, but everything else around us. On the action end of things a number of nations throughout the world have more than proved that the gals can do a helluva job when it gets right down to the nitty-gritty, too. However, it's peacetime (for us, at least) and we're finally getting around to more equal opportunity between the sexes. Better late than never, I suppose. And, so another Chauvenistic Fortress crumbles as we in the AirCom Band recognize and welcome our first female musician.

PTE. Lucie Furguson joins our trumpet section from the Forces School of Music in Esquimalt where she has been training and studying for the past two years. Hailing from Kenogami, P.Q., Lucie also is reunited with her husband, CPL. Scott Furguson, a member of our stalwart M.P.'s here at CFB Winnipeg. Welcome to our musical ranks, Lucie, and welcome to Winnipeg. Place aux dames, mes amis!

Two more new faces have graced our midst as CPL. Randy Rempel joins us on French horn from his last band, that of the RCR's in CFB Gagetown, N.B., and PTE. Bruce Smale joins us from the School of Music. Randy is from the 'Royal City', New Westminster, B.C., and Bruce has returned to his hometown here in the 'Peg. Welcome to you both, Randy and Bruce. We hope you'll find the AirCom Band and Winnipeg as great a combination as the rest of us do.

The 'Commandairs', the AirCom Band's official five-piece dance combo, returned from a highly successful sortie to CFS Churchill, where we took part in that station's "Open House" festivities on Saturday, Sept. 25th. Let it never be said that we aren't treated in the best of service hospitality when we go up there. Our afternoon performance in the hangar may have been a bit cool but no one could ask for a better bunch of people to work for. Our old friends the 'Sky Hawks' were with us and they put on a most interesting show in spite of the weather not being good enough for a jump. Hope the weather in CFB Greenwood turned out better for you, fellas. And last, but far from least, our aircrew who got us up and back in great time and shape were, as always, second to none. Thank you one and all for making our job a helluva lot easier.

The entire AirCom Band sojourned out to the 'boonies' a couple of weeks ago to join CFB Shilo in a parade. Following this we played a concert in the base theatre for the school kids that was most well received. As this is read by "Cadenza's" avid fans we will be out there again providing the music for yet another parade.

An apology is due here to MWO Orval Voakes, I misspelled his name in a recent column. . . . not two brilliant ov mi! Sorry 'bout that, sir!

Fall has arrived by the feel of things outside and parade schedules give way to more indoor performances. Hunting fever is making its rounds too and the only prescription I know of, for those with bird fever at least, is to take two buddies, a shotgun and several decoys and get lots of rest in a field or marsh somewhere. As for you big game guys, you're on your own. But remember, don't use march cards to sight your rifles in with. That's a no-no!

MOVIE REVIEW

BY KEN BERNARD

"IT CAN HAPPEN HERE . . . AND IT DID"

It is night. The house is dark. There is loud banging at both the front and back doors . . . loud male voices as well. A woman in a nightgown is up, turning on lights, disturbed by the intrusion. A couple of the older children are up also, showing signs of fear. When the doors are opened the burly men burst in, pushing past the woman, rushing to various parts of the house. Some of the men are in uniform. It is the police. They ask for her husband. She doesn't know where he is. He is a taxi driver somewhere in the city. They arrest the woman. She must leave her children. She cannot even phone a relative to come to care for the children. There are no explanations given. The Police say that they are only "following orders".

This is a scene from the film LES ORDRES, by Canadian filmmaker Michel Brault. The context of the film is the "October Crisis" of 1970; the city is Montreal; the Parliament of Canada has just passed the War Measures Act; the Police can make arrests without warrant and imprison without trial.

LES ORDRES was carried recently on Winnipeg television (CBWFT) without commercial breaks (they can do it if they really want to!); it served as a kind of anniversary. It is six years this month since Canadians were interrupted in their late night TV viewing by the less than calm announcer reporting something was going on in Montreal: there were terrorists at work; there were kidnappings; there was fear; we were not sure just what was really happening. Then came the War Measures Act, and the Canadian Military in combat uniform with weapons, were on the streets in Ottawa and Montreal. We still didn't know what was happening.

Michel Brault, in his film LES ORDRES does not deal with the event from the political point of view, nor from the Federal or Quebec perspective. He does not make a judgemental social statement. He merely offers a glimpse of one aspect of the event. He pushes through the large backdrop of a major crisis and touches the stories of real people who were unwittingly caught up in the unfolding drama. He follows the stories of some half dozen people (Canadians all) from their early morning arrests, through their imprisonment (in Canadian prisons) to their release some 21 days later, all without explanation.

LES ORDRES is about ordinary men and women, husbands, wives, parents, professionals, workers, students, and their helplessness before the extreme power of our social machine. Once the machine is set in motion, everyone, in a sense, is a victim: those arrested do not know what is happening; those doing the arresting are only following orders (hence the title). We watch these people being stripped naked, literally and symbolically: their clothes, their rights, their identity are all taken from them. They are locked up in cells, and then undergo quiet terrorism by the guards, with midnight questionings, and subtle threats. And still no one has told them what is happening.

Director Brault does not use slick filmmaking to tell the story; rather his real-life cinema style approaches the documentary. There are no special effects, no endless car chases, no background music, no flippant editing. One very interesting aspect of his style is the introducing of the actors to the audience at the beginning of each sequence, so that we learn how they feel playing their roles. This binding of actors to audience to characters is more than effective filmmaking: it is eminently respectful of the audience.

LES ORDRES is an excellent example of Canadian cinema with its low key style, its realism, its lack of slick, its non-dependence on camera tricks, its dealing with the human element in overwhelming events, its look at ordinary people rather than heroes. It is these very qualities of Canadian cinema (common, by the way, to both English and French directors) which make up its distinctive character. These are the qualities which make Canadian cinema acceptable elsewhere but not at home.

This non-acceptance of Canadian films is not to be considered strange, for very little in Canada is particularly popular: neither painting, nor theatre, nor sculpture, nor poetry, nor novels, nor television, nor magazines . . . nor politicians, nor the military for that matter . . . the list could go on. The important thing to remember in this, is that lack of popularity at home does not invalidate the work and its importance; it does mean that people must learn to live without appreciation at home (and perhaps without sufficient payment as well).

Part of the reason for this particular phenomenon is that we are not a nation of heroes and honours and dignities. If a Canadian receives special recognition abroad, we will acknowledge it, but seldom grant it on our own. Another reason is that our popular tastes run to things that are non-Canadian, particularly to things from the U.S. of A. To use the metaphor of climate: in Canada we know winter, we understand it, we can handle it, we can cope and survive; but our preference is for the sand, sun and sea, not to mention palm trees and naked, sun-darkened bodies.

LAUGHING AT OURSELVES

by John Semeniuk

A TISSUE ISSUE - Three pigeons were flying around when they spotted some manure in a farmer's yard. Being hungry, they decided to land to have something to eat. After eating their fill of the manure, they decided to rest on the handle of an old of a pitchfork. After a few minutes, the first pigeon flew off. The first pigeon had only started to ascend when he suddenly plummeted to the ground - it was obvious that the bird was dead. The very same thing happened to the second pigeon. The third pigeon, however, was a wise old bird and stayed on the handle because he knew that one of the prime rules of life is "Don't fly off the handle when you are full of that flushable stuff."

EGO TWISTS - Conceited hubby to wife: "sweetheart, do you think I'd make a good cover boy. Annoyed wife: "Man hole or magazine?"

TOTAL RECOIL: A kangaroo suddenly leaped 12 feet over the zoo barrier that previously had never been cleared by any animal. The keeper dashed up the lady (standing inside the barrier) who was obviously responsible for the animal's sudden absence. "What on earth did you do to that kangaroo?", demanded the keeper. "Nothing much", purred the lady, "I just tickled him." "You'd better tickle me in the same place", suggested the keeper, "Because I've got to catch him!"

UPS & DOWNS - Two judges were taking a sea voyage. One judge became very sea sick and his travelling companion became quite concerned. "Is there anything I can do for you?" inquired the judge whom the sea sickness had not affected. "Yes", replied the very ill legal beagle, "Over-rule the motion!"

BARBED BANTER: Henny Youngman says that his wife has a very magnetic personality. Everything that she lays her hands on, she charges.

THURSDAY AT THE AMU

My friend Harry was at the AMU three Thursdays ago when the first flight of Patricias returned from Cyprus. Here is his account:

"The place was full of excited kids and harrassed moms. Shouts of "When, Mommy", and "is it time yet?" echoed down the hangar corridor. The kids were assigned to whatever Hell distracted mothers conjure up, while the women turned to talk with each other of woman things - of sales, hair, other women. Each was avoiding what was on her own mind - will he still want me?"

The tension sounded from a hundred violins, was joined by the brass, then the percussions until, in a last symphonic crescendo, women, kids, daddys, husbands, lovers, MP's, hangers-on, burst forth with a loud outcry. The music faded, and the tinkle of a little bell filled the void.

This was the awkward time - the reaching out, are you really real, time. Some held tight to each other, afraid of being separated forever; for some, it was like the ending of another work-day-kiss the air in the vicinity of wifely cheek; pat the dog; pick up the kids, and so to home.

The waiting-room rapidly emptied, until only the casualties were left - the ones whom nobody met; the couples who were now further apart than at any time since their marriage. I wept home."

Harry gets carried away at times - but he is right on with his description of empty people. Most of us can't come to grips with our feelings. We think we are wired for sadness - and that happiness is the result of a short-circuit! Look inside yourself - both emotions are present in equal amounts - the power to bring them out is in your own hands. The only thing preventing it is your own answer to the question, do you want to?

From The Chaplain (R.C.)

The Base Chaplains (RC & P) would like to extend their thanks to the Community Council (North Site) for the help rendered to them by collecting the Census Cards from all the married quarters. These Census Cards are being studied at the Chapels so that a better way would exist to determine not only where people live but to see what religion they profess and that of their children.

The Chaplains are interested not only to be a close friend to the families but to see a spiritual revival in them as well. Thanks for your co-operation. Our Lady of the Airways "Sunday School" started to roll on 19 Sept. Classes are held at Bldg. 84 CFANS. So far we have 38 registered; we are expecting 25 more! Parents are reminded of their serious obligations towards God and society to nourish the soul of their children, with good example, teach them to pray and help them to attend Sunday School - Remember that the Public School System does not teach any religion. We have some volunteers as teachers, we need more workers and we like you to call at the Chapel and offer your services. A seminar was already attended by the Sunday School teachers, there will be more to come. Parents are encouraged to attend classes on Sundays to see what's going on. They should help their children not only to attend Sunday School but help them to understand the lessons at home, take care of the text book which is a Holy Book as is all Bible. Make them appreciate the book and explain the pictures to them. The Sunday School is there only to help you, help your child. A meeting will take place at the Chapel for teachers and parents on 21st October at 7:30 p.m. We urge all parents whose children are from Grade I to VI to attend. We need to get together and look at our priorities in life and share our experiences.

"Youth Club for God's People" will elect an executive and the response from Grade VII to XII students is very encouraging.

Both Chaplains are using each other's Chapel for services so that the community will know them both. This is being done to help you and to know you better. For more information read the weekly "Parish News" and call your Chaplains, make use of your phone. May God bless you.
