Base Commanders Commendation

Dear Chief Warrant Officer W.G. Hodgson, MMM, CD
Base Chief Warrant Officer

The visit of His Holiness Pope John Paul II to Winnipeg on 16 September 1984 was a resounding overall success and a particular success from a base point of view. The time and effort expended in the months-long planning and in the implementation was somewhat incredible. However, the success of the arrival and departure ceremonies for such an eminent international personage made it all worthwhile. CFB Winnipeg did well.

Literally hundreds of CFB Winnipeg were involved in one way or the other — all deserving a well-done. Your duties and responsibilities as the overall Papal Visit Coordinator were carried out as expected and resulted in the success of the day. Everyone involved, including those involved in crowd control duties, is worthy of recognition. Therefore, it gives me pleasure to once again award you the CFB Winnipeg Base Commander's Commendation. This will serve as a symbol of recognition for the collective effort of all those involved as well as specific recognition to you for your outstanding successful performance.

Sincerely,
Colonel S.E. McGowan, CD

Over the Top

As of 21 Sept, with the 84 Campaign in only its second week, CFB Winnipeg has contributed in excess of $50,000 — 25% above the goal of $40,000. The personnel participation rate (at this point) is quite impressive and with continued support there is now some hope of surpassing the 1983 record total of $66,500 and setting a new all time record!

The Base Commander, Col S.E. McGowan paints the goods news into one of the campaign progress signs as the Base Chief Warrant Officer, CWO W.G. Hodgson and the 84 Campaign Coordinator, Capt J.P. Politis, proudly observes. Keep it up CFB, Winnipeg our support is indeed needed.

Voxair

Flight Lustre's 10 km Terry Fox walk in the midst of the 3RCR Volksmarsche was a foot-stomping success. After meeting his partner "Uncle Vox" at the registration booth and crashing the line to sign up for a medal, the old "Flight" was ready!

"Uncle Vox" (Ross Grist) did not give the "Flight" a kick to get him going. He took pity, as Flight Lustre was feeling a trifle delicate after the night before. The pair did step smartly off at 0930, with Vox marching as far as the front gate where he was replaced as escorts by Jane and Linda Lawrence (wife and daughter of the man behind Flight Lustre).

We had a very pleasant walk. The air was a bit fresh until we hit the shelter of the trees in the park, but the old head needed that! We met Bob Washington and "Kozy" of CKRC Country Music Radio who were wondering if the Flight had already been issued with new Air Force Blue uniforms. The members of 3 RCR who were manning the check points and acting as Traffic Cops were all super friendly and helpful. (Seems that most of them were maritimers!) The soup and juice provided at the check points was Number One and really hit the spot.

We crossed the finish line at about 11:20, just as the BAsE Commander Base Chief and Mayor Bill Norrie were ready to step off. (Well, some need more beauty sleep than others!)

We had fun. It was a good day. The military community and the City of Winnipeg should be proud of the Third battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, or the solid effort they demonstrated in organizing and conducting the event.

My friend and partner, Capt Ross Grist (Alias Uncle Vox) and I sincerely thank everyone who sponsored me. On Ross' behalf, I walked for a total of $675.86 in pledges. I know from Uncle Vox, that is a heartfelt "Thank You."

We went to a country auction sale a couple of weeks back, near my home town in Western Manitoba. Of course I met a couple of old school chums (who look much older) and several old neighbours. I can't resist bidding at auctions. And this time ended up with an antique saddle-makers bench, a brass barrelled cistern pump and an old oak-braced metal trunk. All need elbow grease and tender care but I only spent $35.00.

Of Interest To The Ladies

A local chapter of a worldwide Sorority, Beta Sigma Phi, is actively looking for new members! "Beta" for short, is not a university or college type sorority, but a sisterhood in the broadest sense. Their aims are defined around a wide variety of activities, cultural, and social. Meetings are monthly and from my observations from the husband viewpoint activities are both challenging and entertaining. Beta is a sorority for all women.

If you wish more information please call Chris Selby at 334-4960 or Jane Lawrence at 885-5569 in the evening and they will be pleased to help by explaining the Beta program.

We spent about two weeks sorting "good stuff" out for a yard sale. Anything that has been unused for three months or more was on the list. Two hours to haul it out of the house and arrange it for sale in the expectation of crowds to rival Dollar-Forty Four days. Response was underwhelming. We did unload an old Chesterfield suite for $25.00 and an ugly candy dish for two bucks but apart from those intrepid yard sale addicts who just have to buy something, activity was slow. Remaining merchandise will be equally divided between Day Four on the garbage cycle and neighbourhood services.

October is the month when we lose all the leaves on the trees, all the above zero temperatures, and instead gain a big increase in the performing arts. Symphony, theatre, and dance are all upcoming this month, with the opera not too far behind on November 10th.

First off the mark will be in Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra, which performs two concerts this Sunday, October 7th. At 2 p.m. the Family Pops, with conductor Erich Kunzel, will offer a wide range of tunes by such writers as the two Strauses, Lehar and Berlioz all the way to the Muppet Medley and selections from "Saturday Night Fever".

The same day at 8 p.m. Music Director Kazuhiro Koizumi will conduct, with cellist Ofra Harnoy as guest artist playing Offenbach and Bruch, while the Orchestra offers Ravel and Mendelssohn numbers. Next week the guest will be violinist Franco Gulli, playing Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons" at the Masterworks concerts on the 12 and 13th.

On October 11th the Manitoba Theatre Centre will open its Main Stage season with the mystery based on the life and death of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. Amadeus is one of the finest plays of recent years, written by Britain's Peter Shaffer. (I saw it in London two years ago.) New artistic director James Roy has made a wise choice for his debut, and it is hoped the movie of the same name, based on the play, will not get here too soon or prevent anyone from seeing the live show at MTC.

October 17 to 21 is when the Royal Winnipeg Ballet will present its first show of the season. For a special treat, Canada's National Ballet superstar Karen Kain will make her first ever guest appearance in Winnipeg. Her partner will be Reil Anderson, ballet master of the Stuttgart Ballet, who will dance with Kain in two pas de deux.

Also on the program is the Winnipeg premiere of Dutch coreographer Jiri Kylian's Symphony in D. This is danced to the music of Haydn's Clock Symphony, but is a spoof of every ballet cliché in existence, and is both funny and inventive. George Balachine's Pas de Dix rounds out the program.

Actor's Showcase will be at the Gas Theatre on Osborne Street next week, with a play about children for children in the nine to twelve year old category. The play is called Separate Doors, and will be offered at 7 p.m. on October 12th, and again at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. on the 13th and 14th.

If you happen to be a travel film buff, then on the 9th and 10th Don Cooper will cover the wild state of Montana, while on the 29th and 30th Paris and the Seine will be the feature attraction. These films are shown twice nightly, at 6 and 8:30 p.m. in the Centennial Concert Hall.

SCAN CORNER
Scan Seminar
17-18 Oct 84

The transition from military to civilian life is not merely a process whereby the uniform is removed and "civies" are put on. If you are nearing retirement and have not paused to consider the implications, then perhaps you should — it's never too soon. SCAN, the Second Career Assistance Network, focuses on planning and preparation for civilian life and a second career. Services include counselling, assistance with resume preparation, aptitude testing where necessary and information on employment opportunities.

A SCAN seminar will be conducted on 17 and 18 Oct 84. The location is the CFANS Theatre in Bldg 84 from 0800 to 1600 hrs daily. Attendance by all military personnel nearing retirement (20 years service or more), and their spouses, is strongly encouraged.

The seminar will cover retirement considerations such as release procedures and financial planning as well as second career considerations including resumes, CEIC, academic upgrading, the job interview and much more. The seminar will be a worthwhile event; interested members are requested to register by calling the Base Personnel Selection Office (loc 5471) prior to 12 Oct 84. See you there.

Command Chaplain (P) Air Command Appointment

On 31 July Colonel the Reverend David C. Estey, C.D., officially began his duties as Command Chaplain (P) Air Command. Padre Estey is no stranger to the Air Force having joined the RCAF in 1965, after serving pastoral charges in Quebec.

Colonel Estey received his education in the Maritimes graduating from Chipman High School, Chipman, N.B. He received a B.A. from Mount Allison University and his Master of Divinity from Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax. He was ordained by the Maritime Conference of the United Church in June of 1961.

From 1961 to 1965 he served two charges in P.Q. In 1965 he joined the RCAF and served at RCAF Station, Holberg. Subsequent postings took him to Penhold, Calgary and Halifax.

Promoted Major in 1972, Padre Estey, served with the Canadian Delegation to the International Commission Control and Supervision, Viet Nam. Upon return he was appointed Base Chaplain, CFB Halifax. In 1977 he was posted to NDHQ as Director Chaplaincy Administration 2. After attending Canadian Forces Command and Staff College, Padre Estey was promoted to LCol in 1980, and posted to Canadian Forces Europe as Command Chaplain (P).

Padre Estey returned to Halifax in 1982 as Command Chaplain Maritime Command until his promotion to Colonel and appointment as Command Chaplain Air Command in July.

Colonel and Mrs. Estey, the former Frances Gilbert, have two daughters both residing in Ontario. The Esteys will reside on Conway Street, Winnipeg. Welcome back.

Lieutenant-Governor Pearl McGonigal accepts Corps Silver Medal from Brigadier-General H. Comack, Chairman of the Manitoba Board of Governors of the Canadian Corps of Commissionaires.

Lieutenant-Governor Second Canadian Awarded Corps Silver Medal

Lieutenant-Governor Pearl McGonigal is the second Canadian in the history of the Corps to be awarded the Canadian Corps of Commissionaires Silver Medal.

Brigadier-General Hugh Comack, Chairman of the Manitoba Board of Governors and Vice-Chairman of the Canadian Corps of Commissionaires, made the presentation Wednesday, September 19th, at a private reception and dinner hosted by the Lieutenant-Governor at Government House.

The medal has been awarded to only one other Canadian, His Excellency The Right Honourable Edward G. Schreyer when he was Governor-General of Canada, and is presented to the Lieutenant-Governor because of her special interest in the services and objectives of the Corps.

In accepting the award, Her Honour expressed appreciation "... being recognized by a distinguished group of people who are concerned about other people who need and deserve a helping hand."

Comprised of veterans from the Armed Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Corps has approximately 400 regular full-time and part-time Commissionaires in Manitoba and over 10,000 Commissionaires across Canada.

Fulfilling a variety of specialized duties and services including security patrols, technical surveillance, parking and traffic control for various government agencies and private businesses, the Corps is a self-supporting, non-profit organization which provides veterans, who have served their country, with dignified and worthwhile employment. Governors of the Corps donate their time willingly in the belief that men and women who have been in the services deserve a helping hand in civilian life.

Pope John Paul II at CFB Winnipeg

by Terry Lawrence

The popularity of His Holiness Pope John Paul II, and the inherent "celebrity curiosity" prompted about a thousand military members and civilian employees of DND and their dependents to fill the bleachers outside 16 langar on September 16th. The crowd was almost equally divided between the arrival and the departure of the Pope.

We had decided several weeks ago that we would do our best to see the Pope at some stage of his visit to Winnipeg and when the opportunity arose to witness the arrival or departure, we dutifully signed up. The alarm clock was set, the weather forecast checked and the thermos bottle rinsed and ready.

Normally, nothing or nobody interrupts a lazy Sunday morning but the Popes' visit was an event to witness in person. The T.V. coverage had been excellent and served well as a genuine build-up for the main event.

Sunday dawned clear and cold so we filled thermos jugs with tea and coffee, donned winter coats and joined the throng at about 7:00. There was an excitement in the crowd that even the cold morning couldn't diminish. The bleachers filled with the early risers occupying the south end, which would be closest to the aircraft, and the later arrivals sitting further away in the north end.

At about 9:30 the unmistakable trails of black dirt signalled the approach of the trusty old 707 and the long cold wait was over. He was here! After the official welcome by dignitaries, the Pope once again scuttled security plans and sidestepping the red carpet, headed for the assembled crowd. Those early risers who occupied the "good view" seats were by passed as the Pope headed for the far end of the spectators, prompting my recollection of a Biblical quotation (LUKE 13-30) "... there are last which shall be first ..."

For Roman Catholics the opportunity to actually see and hear the Pope must be the fulfillment of dreams, the acme of their religious lives, and an opportunity to reaffirm in a personal way their devotion to their Holy Father.

This Pope is not merely a man of Rome, he is a man of the people, a man of peace and tolerance, a man who transcends the dogma, the mysticism and, to a great extent, some of the conservatism of the Roman Catholic Church.

I am not a Roman Catholic but I have been captivated by the man John Paul the Second. Of course, I love Pomp and Ceremony. I love the costumes and the drama and apart from all that, I love the simplicity and the sincerity of the man. His early training as an actor shows clearly. His rich voice and his sense of timing give credence to the old saying that "it's a small step from the stage to the pulpit". Given his lifetime steeped in European church traditions, I wonder what he thought of the spontaneous applause during church services in Canada. I suspect that he enjoyed the North American informality as an expression of love and welcome.

We have to admire his stamina and continuing enthusiasm, with workdays that would make a Union Boss weep. A kindly, holy man who crossed the boundaries of religious labels and gave us all a blessing and a lift.

Aerospace Warfare SQN Report

Well since the snow is here — it must be winter. And to confirm that we have three new courses underfoot — or rather "in residence".

But before introducing the new courses, the incumbents on the AWS staff would like to welcome our new staff members. Firstly there is Maj Joe Sharpe and his EW cell, Cpts Claude Cloutier (VP 415), Doug Neill (409 Sqn) Tim Strocel (409 Sqn) and WO Warren Alisch from VP 404. The new staff for ASC and SANC instruction are Maj Sal Salas, Cpts Mike Campbell and Norm Perron all from ASC 36 and Fred Takagi from CFE. Welcome to all.

As can be seen from all the smiling faces in the photo, Aerospace Systems Course 37 is with us. In fact they are in week 6 and enjoying it very much — right guys! For the international flavour we have Maj (USAF) Rich Cheek from 453 Sqn Mather AFB and Flt Lt (RAAF) Noel Tesch from 11 Sqn Australia. Both are navigators and due to some government announcement, are offering their uniforms for sale at outrageous prices. The Canadians on the course are Cpts George Arajs (ATC) from Comox; Rex Brontmeyer (CELE) NRHQ North Bay; Rene Cousineau (ANAV) 425 Sqn; Pete Forques (AWC) AWCCS North Bay; Ulrich Jaggi (ANAV) VP 407; Jay Jongerius (ANAV) 409 Sqn; Bill Lewis (AERE) Winnipeg; Ron Locke (CELE) AIRCOM; Dave Mason (AERE) Shearwater; Jean Neron (Plt) HS 443; Phil Nolan (AERE) CFTSD Hamilton; Ed Puszkur (ANAV) HT 406; Ron Sarich (Plt) VP 415; Rich Smendziuk (ANAV) VP 407; and Ron Tidy (Plt) 424 Sqn. Welcome to all.

Also in residence is the Staff Air

Aerospace Systems Course 37
27 August 1984 — 28 June 1985

Navigator Course 8402, which is somewhat of an experiment — it's not all navigators. Yes, you read correctly, we do indeed have a pilot, an ATC and AWC on the course. Fred Arndt is the Plt from CFS, Garry MacLennan the ATC from Moose Jaw, and Bernie Walsh the AWC from NRHQ North Bay. It should be noted that Garry made the mistake of beating the boss at golf during the first week of the course. The Navigators on the course are Cpts Jim Cameron from the Navigation Training Squadron; Francois Fortin 437 Sqn; Robert Perron VP 405; Ted Sykes VP 404; and Terry Wheadon from 442 Sqn. We hope your 11 weeks here are enjoyable ones.

As if it wasn't enough that the aforementioned courses were beginning to display signs of shell shock — they contend that it has something to do with the workload — our third course has begun — consisting mainly of Artillery Officers. These gentlemen are destined for the Low-Level Air Defence School in Chatham. Welcome to Maj Jim Vanstone, Cpts Jim Willis, Ken Hynes, Jacques Pellan, Henry Brynkus and Steve Summerhays. Congratulations are also in order for the final member of the course, who is of the LEME persuasion. Terry Honour is to be married on the Thanksgiving weekend.

CFS Met Promotions

Normally promotions came slowly in a small trade, but there are exceptions, one of which occurred recently at CFSMet when two members of the staff received promotions on the same day and both promotions were effective 23 July 1984.

Sergeant chevrons was received by Gary Gilmartin, who is the first member of CFSMet to get promoted using the new PER forms. It goes to show that one can still lie a bit on the new forms and get away with it. Truly, Gary, this promotion was well merited.

Also pictured above is John Robertson who received his Master Corporal badges. John is employed as our communication support expert here at the school. In addition, he is our supply coordinator and Jack-of-all-trades. John is one of those individuals that nobody can figure out what he is really doing at the school, but one thing is certain, it would practically be impossible to operate the school efficiently without his full involvement.

To both of you, a "Well Done" from all of the staff at CFSMet. And from the SWO, "Thank God — those are the last PERs I'll ever have to write!"

PERSONAL FINANCIAL PLANNING

Militia and Reserve Soldiers trained for defense in a massive end-of-summer exercise Aug. 19th to 26th in Dundurn, Sask.

Called PRAIRIE PARAGON I, the exercise involved 800 soldiers from the Prairie Area (Northwestern Ontario to Alberta) who practised the support and deployment of troops in the field. The training included the use of Cougar and Grizzly armoured vehicles and helicopters from 408 Squadron Edmonton and two helicopters on exchange from the US Army.

The highlight of the exercise was an attack and counter-attack under simulated battle conditions that included artillery fire and a bridge demolition.

No major injuries occurred but Medics were busy with routine scrapes and bruises, minor burns from immersion heaters and rashes from poison ivy.

The exercise was under the command of Brig. Gen. John Law of Regina.

LIVING WITH ARTHRITIS

by Patrick Baker

The Most Common Disease In Canada

More Canadians believe they are suffering from arthritis than any other disease.

According to "The Health of Canadians" report by Health and Welfare Canada, nearly 20 percent of the country's population — more than three million people — believe they have one or more of the 115 known types of arthritis.

The study puts the rheumatic diseases far ahead of a wide variety of other illnesses such as heart disease, acute respiratory problems, cancer and sight, hearing and dental disorders.

Not Just The Elderly

Arthritis is not only a disease of the elderly and can, in fact, strike as early as infancy. There are more than 30,000 youngsters under 15 in Canada who must live with the constant, chronic pain that so often accompanies the disease.

Could Save Suffering

"If more people saw a doctor before they decided they have arthritis," says Dr. Murray Urowitz, a rheumatologist, researcher and current chairman of The Society's Medical Planning Committee. "they could probably save themselves an extraordinary amount of pain and suffering."

Future columns will deal with many of the known varieties of arthritis, the medical advances being made, and the numerous phoney cures that keep cropping up across the country. For now, if you have — or even think you have — arthritis, contact your family doctor or The Arthritis Society office nearest you for information and guidance.

Patrick Baker is Director of National Communications & Public Education for The Arthritis Society.

Me? What do I want with a Will?

A good question. At this point, the whole world is waiting for you. Your job is great, and the track is looking faster all the time. Friends, fun, a super place to live — just the way you'd planned it. Exactly. Planning is the key to where you are now, planning will take you to where you want to be. Why neglect this area of planning when it takes so little of your time?

Speak to a lawyer about making a Will. It doesn't take long and it doesn't cost much. Then you'll know that your family and friends will be treated the way you intend, with no hassle or delay.

Why do we bring this up? Because we're planning, too. Working on new research programmes suddenly made possible by the Marathon of Hope. More funds in the future will help us keep these programmes. And keep us on the fast track to beating cancer.

PHOTO HINTS

By Günter Ott

Günter Ott is editor of Camera Canada, a consumer photo magazine published by the National Association for Photographic Art.

KEEP THINGS IN FOCUS

Getting sharp images used to be a problem for photographers. Poor eyesight, unsteady hands or unfamiliarity with camera controls produces disappointing blurs. Today many cameras have solved the focusing problem by incorporating automatic focusing. With instant cameras and most 35mm cameras, a special mechanism automatically senses the distance to the subject and focuses the lens correctly.

Other cameras must still be focused manually. With these, carefully rotate the lens barrel until the split image or alignment device is properly set.

You can simplify focusing difficulties by using depth of field which is the zone of acceptable sharpness on both sides of the critical point of focus. At small apertures the depth of field is great but at large apertures it is quite narrow. Stopping down an adjustable camera to a small aperture increases the probability of being in focus.

Street photographers use another technique called hyper-focal distance to ensure they are in focus when there is no time to focus accurately. By aligning the infinity mark on their lens with the aperture giving correct exposure (say f/16), everything will be in focus from where the other end of the depth of field scale reads f/16 (perhaps at ten feet) to infinity!

Cooks Corner

Back to school snacks

Today, Mothers are more conscious than ever of the nutritional value of their children's eating habits. What goes into the kids' lunch box and the type of snacks they eat are important considerations for getting through the day. Not only do lunches need to combine nutrition and good taste, but ease of preparation is key for busy mothers and those helpful "kids in the kitchen".

Cookies are one thing children never tire of. These cookie recipes offer a good source of protein and vitamin B, and the kids will love them.

For adventurous kids, try a delicious peanut butter carrot loaf, with a delicate touch of cinnamon and nutmeg. If your children are finicky, don't mention the word "carrot" — the taste is barely detectable — but the crunchy texture is especially pleasing. Serve it with a glass of milk and their appetite will be satisfied until dinner.

Homemade peanut butter granola bars are a wonderful surprise in a lunch box. They're filled with wholesome ingredients like raisins, peanuts, wheat germ and coconut, and they're low in sugar. Peanut butter sandwiches, an old favorite, can be varied in an infinite number of ways. Try using a variety of breads available, or spread peanut butter on bagels or English muffins.

Children always look forward to a special lunchtime treat, so give them good wholesome snacks. Spread peanut butter on apple slices. Let your imagination run free and try peanut butter with a variety of ingredients — surprises are just around the corner.

Peanut Butter Oatmeal Cookies

1/2 cup (125 mL) Skippy super chunk peanut butter
1/2 cup (125 mL) butter
1 cup (250 mL) brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 tsp (2 mL) vanilla
3/4 cup (200 mL) all-purpose flour

3/4 cup (200 mL) quick cooking rolled oats
1/2 tsp (2 mL) baking soda
1/2 cup (125 mL) raisins

Cream peanut butter and butter in large bowl. Gradually beat in brown sugar, egg and vanilla. Combine flour, rolled oats, baking soda and raisins. Stir into creamed mixture. Drop by spoonfuls onto cookie sheet. Flatten with fork dipped in flour. Bake at 350°F (180°C) 10 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Peanut Butter Carrot Loaf

1 cup (250 mL) firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup (125 mL) Skippy creamy peanut butter
1/2 cup (125 mL) Mazola corn oil
2 eggs
2 cups (500 mL) finely shredded carrots
1-3/4 cups (425 mL) unsifted flour
1 tsp (5 mL) baking powder
1 tsp (5 mL) baking soda

Save time & energy - microwave a beef roast

Holidays are over, school is back in session and schedules once again become hectic. Short cuts in meal preparation are always a bonus but they are appreciated even more at this busy time of the year.

A microwave oven is one kitchen appliance that can definitely make meal preparation more convenient and save precious time. For example a 1.8 kg (4 lb) rib roast cooked to medium rare in the microwave oven will be ready to serve for dinner in less than an hour. Beef roasts offer good dollar value and once cooked the leftover beef can be used for a variety of quick meals.

When microwaving a roast of beef, tenderness of the cut determines the procedure and the power level to be used. Use this chart as a general guide.

Tenderness Category	Power Level
Most Tender, eg: rib, sirloin	50%
Medium Tender, eg: rump, cross rib	30-50%
Less Tender, eg: shoulder, short rib	30-50%

The ideal roast for microwave cooking weighs 1.4 - 1.8 kg (3-4 lbs) and is relatively uniform in shape. The roast will require shielding with a small piece of foil for part of the cooking period along thinner parts of the roast, bones and exterior fat.

The roast will brown in the microwave but not to the same extent as in conventional ovens. If more color is desired, brush with browning sauce which is available at most supermarkets. Season with spices before cooking, however DO NOT salt until after the roast is cooked. To ensure tenderness, cook less tender cuts of beef with added liquid and cover. Medium and less tender cuts may be slightly more tender if cooked at 30% power rather than 50% power. Increase time by half if lower power is used, eg: 30 minutes at 50% = 45 minutes at 30% power.

For medium tender and tender roasts follow this procedure for best results:

- Place roast on a rack/inverted saucer in baking dish with fat side down.
- Cover with waxed paper, cook 1/2 total calculated time and rotate dish once.
- Drain accumulated juices, turn the roast over and shield where necessary.
- Cook remaining time until the desired degree of doneness is reached. A meat thermometer is the most accurate way to test for doneness.
- Remove the roast from the microwave. Loosely wrap in foil to prevent moisture loss. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes. During the standing time the roast continues cooking. Therefore, slightly undercook the roast to allow it to finish cooking while standing.

Tandoori Beef Roast is a main dish of Indian origin. Well suited to microwaving, this roast can be served with a tasty pilaf, a light salad and a spicy fruit chutney for that finishing touch.

Tandoori Microwave Beef Roast

250 mL (1 cup) plain yogurt
1 small onion, minced
15 mL (1 tbsp) each lemon juice and curry powder
5 mL (1 tsp) each chili powder and paprika
1 garlic clove, minced
25 mL (2 tbsp) tomato paste
1.5 - 2 kg (3-4 lbs) beef roast, blade, cross rib or outside round
Browning sauce and 50 mL (1/4 cup) flour

Combine yogurt, onion, lemon juice, curry powder, chili powder, paprika, garlic and tomato paste. Blend well. Pierce roast several times with a metal skewer. Place in a deep bowl and cover with marinade. Marinate covered in the refrigerator overnight or up to 24 hours, turning roast several times.

Drain marinade and reserve for the sauce. Brush browning sauce on roast. Place roast on a microwave roasting rack or on an inverted saucer in a suitable baking dish. Cover with wax paper.

Calculate total cooking time. If cooking at 50% power, allow approximately 26 min/kg (12 min/lb) for rare, 28 min/kg (13 min/lb) for medium. If cooking at 30% power, for maximum tenderness allow approximately 39 min/kg (18 min/lb) for rare, 42 min/kg (19 min/lb) for medium. Cook half the total time. Turn roast over. Drain accumulated juices and save for the sauce. Shield outside edges along bone and fat with small pieces of foil. Re-cover with wax paper and cook remaining time. Remove from microwave, cover loosely with foil and allow to stand 15 minutes.

Make sauce by blending flour and 2 mL (1/2 tsp) liquid browning sauce with reserved marinade. Add cooking juices. Cook at 100% power for 3 minutes. Stir, continue cooking for 2 minutes. Serve sauce over thin slices of roast. Serves 8 to 10.

Official Opening Ceremony Adam PGC

Major-General McNaughton and Brigadier General Woods watch the new system in operation.

On 28 August, 1984, the new Automated Data for Aerospace Maintenance (ADAM) Program Generation Centre (PGC) was inaugurated by Major-General D.M. McNaughton, Deputy Commander of Air Command. At the ceremony, Colonel P.J. Bennett, Deputy Chief of Staff Maintenance (DCOS MAINT), gave a short history of the ADAM project and explained how it had evolved to the point where it was now nearing the point of implementation across the Command. He also stressed the vital role the PGC facility would play in the ADAM program development and support. Before proceeding to the official ribbon cutting, Major-General McNaughton, in his address, commented on the importance of exploring every avenue available to enhance the Command's operational effectiveness and how facilities such as the PGC were so important in this regard.

In attendance at the ceremony were senior support staff from Air Command Headquarters headed by Brigadier-General J.E. Woods, Chief of Staff Support; senior staff from CFB Winnipeg headed by Lieutenant-Colonel I.M. Ross, Base Technical Services Officer; representatives from Comox, Bagotville, Cold Lake and Trenton (the initial ADAM user community); the ADAM program office headed by Major R.L. Bunce and representatives from Digital Equipment Corporation — the computer hardware manufacturer and Supply Services Canada. Also in attendance were personnel from DCOS Maintenance.

The ADAM system was born in 1982, as a direct result of the success of the Base Aircraft maintenance Control and Records Systems (BAM-CARS) trials at CFB Trenton. The aim of the ADAM system is to improve aircraft maintenance record keeping at the base level. This computerized system will help the technician in his task by giving him access to a wide range of application programs stored on the computer. These range of application programs stored on the computer. These application programs will permit him to fill out aircraft maintenance forms directly on a terminal, retrieve information about a particular aircraft, or make a hard copy of that information. Terminals will be dispersed throughout the BAMEO organization (Servicing, Snags, etc), giving the technician easy access to the system.

Needless to say, priority has been given to the technicians throughout the design of the system. A user group committee comprised of technicians from different Canadian Forces Bases in Canada and Europe was created at an early stage of the program. This user group committee was tasked with making constructive criticism of the system and helping define the real needs of the technicians in the field.

The new computer system for the ADAM PGC began its initial acceptance and testing phase in mid-June 1984. After many months of planning, preparation and installation, this system, comprised of a Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) VAX 11/780 mini-computer and associated terminals, will be used primarily for program generation and software development; ie, design, testing, conversion and implementation of the software for the ADAM system. Major Ross Embree, assisted by Lieutenant Stephan Lacasse, were responsible for installing the system in Building 16, Deputy Chief of Staff Aerospace Maintenance at Air Command Headquarters.

Two groups are now working cooperatively on the program at AIR-COM HQ. The hardware group headed by Major Ross Embree, assisted by Lieutenant Mike Rozak and Wo Earl Campsall, are responsible for site surveys and hardware implementation at the bases/units. The software group headed by Major Marc Legault and assisted by a team of computer analysts consisting of Captain Greg Barrett, Captain Bill Hall, Captain Ron Houde, Captain Bill Sergeant, and Lieutenant Stephan Lacasse are responsible for software development at the DCOS MAINT PGC.

After base-level implementation of the system, the ADAM PGC will provide on-going software support. Although this support will be primarily in the form of software maintenance, some development will undoubtedly be undertaken as technicians realize the potential of the computerized record keeping system.

The ADAM system will become an essential tool in the technician's quest to provide serviceable aircraft to our aircrew. With the increasing complexity of aircraft systems and the increasing recording requirements placed on our technicians, this automated tool will provide the technician with a more timely and efficient manner of gathering and analyzing maintenance-related information.

The first implementation phase of the ADAM program is restricted to Aurora and Hornet bases, where the hardware is already in operation or being delivered. The next few years will see the ADAM capability established at every Canadian Forces air base.

PARTICIPaction

By Russ Kisby

Let's See You Do It!

Last year, PARTICIPaction's advertising campaign admonished you: "Don't Just Think About It - Do It!"

Sure, we were saying, you probably agree intellectually that regular activity is good for you - now let's see you put down that magazine for fifteen minutes and actually do something active!

This year, we're keeping the pressure on, Canada!

Starting June 1, 1984, our new slogan: "Let's See You Do It!"

Sound like a bit of a dare? Maybe.

"Cycling - Let's See You Do It!" a typical headline will read. And you can interpret those words either as a gentle prod to get you back on your bike - let's see you do it; or, you can decide we're saying that if the person we picture is having so much fun on his wheels, maybe you'd enjoy yourself doing it, too - let's see you do it!

You can put the emphasis where you please. But please emphasize exercise!

This year's campaign will feature outdoor activities.

Canada's glorious environment constitutes the greatest natural fitness facility in the world.

Think: at almost no expense you can walk in it, swim in it, climb to the top of it, explore the caves inside of it, garden it, toss any number of balls in it - all the while strengthening every part of you!

What is more, the environment belongs to everybody!

We hope you'll watch and listen for PARTICIPaction advertising. You'll hear what you already know, of course - that regular physical exercise can improve your life.

You'll also appreciate that Canada's environment comprises more than scenic vistas of the Rockies and Peggy's Cove. The city block on which you live is an environment - with an opportunity for fruitful activities as varied as walking, jogging, stickball, street hockey, catch, stair climbing, cycling.

The park where you picnic also provides opportunity to toss a frisbee, play hide-and-seek, climb a tree, wrestle... you get the idea.

Wherever you find yourself, there's probably a place for healthy physical activity.

But, you already know that.

Now, let's see you do it.

Russ Kisby is President of PARTICIPaction, the Canadian movement for personal fitness.

LET'S SEE YOU DO IT... OUTDOORS!

HI!
 We have lost quite a few of our people because of postings or other reasons. However, I do know that quite a few new ones are coming in. To you, the new comers, welcome, and we want you to know that we are pleased to see you and have you aboard. I am sure that we will get along, and be happy together.

Please introduce yourself when I meet you, and we will take it from there. Remember that if you were involved in any way in the Church activities before, we need your help. If you were not involved, maybe we could start something together in Winnipeg.
