FOR MOST CONSPICUOUS BRAVERY

Canada finally has its own family of medals for military bravery. A Canadianized version of the famed Victoria Cross and two new medals, the Star of Military Valour and the Medal of Military Valour, were approved by the Queen in February.

The VC and all other British decorations were excluded from the Canadian system of honours and awards in 1972 when the federal government created a purely Canadian family of bravery medals, topped by the Cross of Valour. But that new family did not include a distinct set of military bravery medals.

In response to those who argued that Canada needed to make a clean break from the British honours system, many supporters of the VC argued it was more than just a British medal.

"It is the most coveted and rare of all valour awards, anywhere," wrote columnist Peter Worthington. Others pointed out that the VC, awarded to 93 Canadians since it was created by Queen Victoria in 1856, was as much a part of Canadian heritage as British.

This was recognized by Britain when, in a 1961 Royal Warrant, it authorized all Commonwealth countries to issue the VC in their own names, subject to the formal approval of the Queen.

The Canadian VC is identical to the British one except for the inscription, which has been translated into Latin and reads Pro Valore. The original inscription, For Valour, was proposed by Queen Victoria herself.

Nor have the strict awarding criteria changed, requiring an act of "most conspicuous bravery, a daring or preeminent act of valour or self-sacrifice or extreme devotion to duty, in the presence of the enemy."

Canada's second highest military decoration, the Star of Military Valour, will be awarded for "distinguished and valiant service in the presence of the enemy." And the last, the Medal of Military Valour, "shall be awarded for an act of valour or devotion to duty in the presence of the enemy."

Canada does not have to be at war for someone to win any of the three medals. "Enemy" is broadly enough defined to include acts of bravery in the face of hostile forces encountered during international peacekeeping operations.

The VC has been awarded 1351 times, including one awarded to the United States' unknown soldier, and only 11 times since the Second World War. The last two were awarded posthumously to British soldiers killed in the Falklands War.

Go Green at Work

Go Green at Your Desk

Reduce

- If you use a computer or word processor, edit on-screen as much as possible to avoid printing multiple drafts.
- Wherever practical, modify the formats of standard documents, correspondence, etc. to use less paper. Margin widths can be reduced, smaller fonts can be used, and in many cases a "compress" feature can allow you to print large tables on standard-size paper.
- Regularly check the distribution lists for correspondence and publications, and remove the names of those who no longer need or want the information.

- Avoid memo mania. If your office has an electronic mail system (DOTS), wherever possible use it to send messages instead of written memos. Substitute telephone calls for memos where practical.
- Make a conscious effort not to waste office supplies. Take only what you can use.

Reuse

- Use the clean side of scrap paper. Some offices are already using scrap paper to make their own telephone message and note pads.
- Load a special tray with scrap paper for printing draft copies on your computer printer.
- Many laser-printer toner cartridges can be refilled instead of being used only once. Find out if your printer can take refillable cartridges.

- Reuse envelopes and file folders. Use reusable envelopes for inter-office mail.
- Set up collection boxes for used envelopes and file folders in your supply area. Pens, pencils, scissors, markers and other office supplies that you no longer need should be returned to the supply cupboard for others to use.
- Reorganize office supply cupboards to provide a central deposit for used "old, but still good" supplies.
- Reuse cardboard boxes in the office or at home.
- Share telephone books with co-workers.
- Exchange your used paperbacks and magazines with colleagues.

Go Green at the Fax Machine

Reduce

- Design fax cover sheets to leave enough space for writing messages; then use that space rather than attaching a separate letter or covering note.
- Plain bond fax machines save paper by reducing the need for photocopying. They also eliminate chemicals from the waste stream since they do not require the chemically treated thermal paper used in other fax machines.

Reuse

- Print your fax cover sheets on the clean side of used paper. You will save both paper and money.

Recycle

- Paper from plain bond fax machines can be recycled. Thermal fax paper cannot be recycled.
- Pass on the value of the wise use of fax machines and print a Go Green at Work message on your fax cover sheets.

Recycle

- If you have a paper recycling bin at your desk, always remember to use it. If you don't have a bin at your desk, keep your paper to be recycled in a separate pile and take it to the nearest recycling station every day.

- If you reuse paper, only sheets used on both sides will end up in the recycling bin.

Searing, blistering rock played with intensity, that's what Coverdale Page (Geffen) is all about. Take two of rock music's greatest exponents - Jimmy Page and David Coverdale and turn them loose in the studio and you are almost assured an album of dynamic proportions. Page, whose background includes the Yardbirds and Led Zeppelin and Coverdale whose musical credits include Deep Purple and Whitesnake have assembled a rock-solid outing of songs that, although they rock, are underscored by blues and R&B.

On You are scorching workouts while Take Me For A Little While is a slow-paced ballad with understated guitar pinnings and on-target vocals. Duo serve some hot licks and steady vocals on such gems as Don't Leave Me This Way, Whisper A Prayer for the Dying and Easy Does It. Count on enough sales to guarantee multi-platinum awards.

RAY STEVENS

Ray Stevens has been tickling the funny bones of listeners since he first hit the charts in 1961 with Jeremiah Peabody and has parlayed his zany lyrics and off-the-wall humour into an institution. His latest Collection (MCA) is a 14-song anthology of mayhem, madness and uproariously funny songs. Kicking it off with the solid gold Streak and continuing through the Shriner's Convention, Mississippi Squirrel Revival and the chart topping Ahab The Arab, Stevens pauses only long enough to tell about the Ballad of the Blue Cyclone and how he saw Elvis in a U.F.O.

Born Ray Ragsdale in Clarksdale, Georgia, Stevens has been the undisputed king of novelty songs for the past three decades. In his early years Ray actually studied music theory and composition at Georgia State University. He received a major boost from his appearances on the Andy Williams TV show and had his own series in the summer of '70.

Stevens continues the craziness with what to do when Santa Claus Is Watching You, he parodies the Beach Boys via Surfin' U.S.S.R. and wraps it up with his serious ballad Everything Is Beautiful. Virtually impossible to listen to this album and not be in a good mood. Happy from start to finish. Add this one to your collection, it's timeless.

FAST FACTS
John Stewart replaced Dave Guard in the Kingston Trio and wrote Daydream Believer, which the Monkees turned gold in '67 and Anne Murray clicked with a few years later. When John went the solo route to record Gold and Midnight Wind it was Fleetwood Mac members Stevie Nicks and Lindsey Buckingham that supplied the backing vocals. That's the Fast Facts on John Stewart.

17 WING JUDO UPDATE

By Sgt Steve Broughton

First I must thank everyone who responded to my Spring Advertisement Blitz. Over 60 people responded which means the Club is a go starting this September.

The Club has a good Military/Civilian percentage at this time 70/30 percent. A good portion of the adult Club membership is Female (more than 30%). The experienced to novice ratio is roughly 50/50 and the youth membership numbers at this time is over 20 and again roughly 50/50 split, both boys and girls, novice and experienced.

The tentative starting date is sometime this September. The first classes will be held after the annual recreation fair that is held in Bldg 21 (North Side) early September. Tentative costs at this time per year is $40 for adults (16 and over) and $20 for children (8 to 15 years).

Tentative class times are:

Youth: Mon. 1900 hrs to 2030 hrs.
Adults: Mon. 2030 hrs to 2200 hrs & Thur. 1900 hrs to 2100 hrs.

The Yodansha or Black Belts are all very excited about the start-up of a new club. The interest and enthusiasm shown so far is very pleasing, especially to Brian Jones who will be the club's head sensei (instructor). Brian is a 3rd Black Belt and has almost 40 years experience. He will supervise the remaining Black Belts. There are four of them, two are civilian, one is an RCMP Officer and one is a soldier in the PPCLI. The Club also has about ten senior belts (Blue and Brown). Something very pleasing to Brian is the amount of interested new women students. Most are in their late 20's or early 30's. Brian Jones also holds a Black Belt in Ju-Jutsu. As the club's head Sensei most of the instruction will be Judo, however for everyone's personal defence Brian teaches some Ju-Jutsu to enhance Judo, Ju-Jutsu teaches very vicious ways to defeat an attacker.

So if you have any questions don't hesitate to call me at Local 5214 or home 897-0630. I will keep you up to date as to what is happening with the club throughout the summer. Remember the recreation fair is in early September. I hope to see many of you there.

On Tuesday 11 May 1993 Major General L.W.F. Cuppens, the Deputy Commander of Air Command, graduated the 29 members of the first official serial of the Air Force Staff Course (AFSC). This occasion is a significant event in Air Force history since it marks the first time since 1968 that the Air Force has conducted a steady-state professional development course for its officers. Prior to Unification, the Air Force had operated a staff school in Toronto, which became the Canadian Forces Staff School in 1968; however since that time, there has been no common Air Force training specifically for the professional development of its officers.

The AIM of this new course is to provide training for selected Air Force officers that will broaden their knowledge of aerospace operations and support, thereby improving their effectiveness. Specifically, the course is for merit-listed regular and reserve Captains and newly promoted Majors from the spectrum of classifications who serve in the Air Force. It is a career course. Candidates are selected by a Board once a year from the merit lists for Captains. Each of the five serials held every year is then loaded by the career managers. Earlier plans included a junior Captain course, called the Air Force Staff Course, and a junior Major course, called the Air Force Command and Staff Course, both of which would be completed before attending the year-long Canadian Forces Command and Staff College. It appears now, however, that there will be only one course and it is designed for the senior Captain level under the name of the AFSC.

The AFSC staff, led by the Flight Commander Major Bob Manson, attempts to do for the Air Force junior officer in six weeks, the equivalent of what the Canadian Land Forces Command and Staff College in Kingston does for the Army junior officer in five months. AFSC teaches Air Force officers about the Air Force—its organization, doctrine, missions, operations, support operations, command and control, and leadership and personnel administration. By broadening the knowledge and perspectives of selected officers, AFSC prepares them for the additional responsibilities for which they are being considered, whether they are at the squadron, wing, group, command or national level.

The course is heavily dependent on senior guest lecturers, particularly from Command and Group Headquarters, as well as demanding self-study packages. Much of a course member's education also comes from the other course members, as they exchange ideas, knowledge and experiences during formal and informal discussions. Each of the three ten-person syndicates is intentionally assigned a mix of classifications with different Air Group experiences for this reason.

First Air Force Professional Development Course since 1968

The AFSC clearly addresses a professional development need within the Air Force. The lecture support for this course and the trial course provided by the senior officers of the Air Force has been outstanding. The list of senior guest lecturers for AFSC 9301 reads like a who's who of the Air Force: LGen Huddleston, MGen Cuppens, BGen Buckham, BGen Diamond, BGen Ranson, BGen Slaughter, Col Bertram, Col Brennan, Col Cable, Wg Cdr Freeman (UK), Col Lee, Col Little, Col Litton, Col Noonan, Col Pennie, Col Pirson, Col Sharpe, and Col Wakin (USAF). In addition, numerous (too many to recognize individually) other key Headquarters staff officers, also addressed the course. Similarly the support from 17 Wing has been superb, not only for the AFSC's day-to-day operations, but also for its participation in the "Wing Briefing and Symposium Day", led by the Acting Wing Commander, LCol Meindl. "Thank you" to all personnel involved in achieving this Air Force milestone. Congratulations to the graduates of AFSC 9301 who undoubtedly are on their way to becoming the future leaders of the Air Force!

CFANS Update

It came to light at the recent Governors of Grosvenor Barbecue that, in his previous civilian incarnation, 9208's 2Lt Darren Lines worked as a chef. When queried about this discovery Lines' Course Director Capt Rick "Sweat Pea" Hone confirmed "I'm not sure if flipping burgers at MacDonalds is being a chef, but yes he apparently was employed by a restaurant for a brief time."

To some in attendance, particularly those unfortunate few who had sampled some of Darren's delicacies (those old Cajun favorites: blackened hot dogs and hamburgers), this news came as a rather shocking revelation. Said fellow Governor 2Lt Rob Masutti as he bit into one of the aforementioned burgers "I guess this settles the career change question."

Congratulations are in order to Capts Bergsma, Brooks, Coates, Crosier, Heselgrave, Lawrie and Roy on their recent upgrade to "B" category instructors. Although the instructors appeared to accept the honor in a rather nonchalant manner, Chris Roy's exuberance was obvious in the ceremonies aftermath. "Wow! This is great! "B" cat in less than a year. Its taken some fellows a lot longer than that to receive theirs." said Chris.

Speaking of Capt Bert Fenton, he appears reinvigorated by his recent fishing/mountaineering trip in Northern Ontario. According to Bert, he proved the skeptics wrong again this year and was successful in "bagging" some big ones. Said a satisfied Fenton discussing his fishing prowess, "It's really not too difficult. Once you find the right spot it's a pretty simple matter to get your hands on a couple of nice ones."

"Yea! Yeah!" grumbled his exasperated companion Capt Dan O'Grady "It's not a particular challenge to snag a few at the Safeway fish department, Bert!" Apparently Capt Fenton fared equally well in the socializing department, as he had a rather "intimate" encounter with several members of the opposite sex. Again, although you can't argue with his results, questions can be raised about his methods. According to Dan, his anxious traveling companion failed to notice the "Ladies" sign at the Kenora Husky station and as a result this oversight had a somewhat startling encounter.

On the sports front, the CFANS students experienced little difficulty in whipping the current Staff Air Navigator Course (SANC) 16-7 in a ball hockey match last week. Said OCdt Andre "The Rocket" Martel commenting on the ease with which they defeated the SANC squad, "Geez! Looking at the way these fellows play ball hockey, it's hard to imagine that they were ever students at the Nav school."

Congratulations to Capt Ken Craig and his wife Sheila on their recent marriage in Barrie, Ontario. Best of luck from the staff and students at CFANS."

Racism in the CF

By the Chief of the Defence Staff

As most of you are well aware, recent events have raised the spectre of racism in the CF. I am concerned that you may feel that the whole of the CF is being judged on the basis of the behaviour of a few. Members of our families have also been affected. In dealing with this issue, I offer you the following:

First of all, I want to assure you that the CF does not tolerate the promotion of hatred or racist behaviour. In fact, we have a policy of zero tolerance towards any form of personal harassment, including that involving racism. My CANFORGEN 31/93 spoke to you about my expectations on working toward eliminating harassment in the CF and DND workplace.

Secondly, it is the duty of all of us to both protect and reflect the values held by our fellow Canadians. This duty takes many members of the CF into dangerous circumstances. At this moment, some 4500 soldiers, sailors, and airmen and airwomen are deployed globally preserving peace, delivering humanitarian aid, and helping to organize democratic elections.

Thirdly, my contact with Canadians from all walks of life has assured me that the majority of our fellow Canadians do not judge the CF on the basis of the reported actions and attitudes of a few individuals. On a daily basis I receive reassurances of the respect with which you are held. That respect is earned by your actions here in Canada and abroad. At a recent order of military merit installation ceremony, His Excellency The Right Honourable Ramon Hnatyshyn, Governor General Of Canada reinforced this view when he said "It is this combination—this sense of mission on behalf of Canada, this sense of civilization on behalf of the world—that makes the Canadian Armed Forces an institution to be cherished. Our forces are regarded with respect and affection by those they have aided abroad. Canadians owe them the same regard, and thoughtful Canadians know that."

You and your families have every reason to be proud of your dedications, the sacrifices you make, your professionalism and the values you uphold. Canadians recognize and appreciate these qualities and the contributions that you are making to the betterment of Canada and the world. Keep up the good work. I am proud of you and your accomplishments.

Racisme au sein des FC

Par le chef de l'Etat-Major de la Défense

Comme la plupart d'entre vous le savez probablement, certain événements récents ont amenés le spectre du racisme au sein des FC. Je veux vous exprimer mes préoccupations à ce sujet puisque je sens que bon nombre d'entre vous pensez sans doute que l'on a tendance à vous juger d'après le comportement de quelques individus. Nos familles ont également été touchées par cette question, et j'aimerais profiter de l'occasion pour vous offrir les conseils suivants.

En premier lieu, je tiens à vous affirmer que les FC n'encouragent pas la haine ni le comportement raciste. De fait, nous avons une politique de tolérance zéro à l'égard de toute forme de harcèlement, y compris le racisme. Dans le CANFORGEN 31/93, je vous ai fait part de mes attentes, lesquelles visent à éliminer le harcèlement au sein des FC et du MDN.

En deuxième lieu, il est du devoir de tous membres des FC de protéger et de refléter les valeurs auxquelles nos concitoyens attachent une grande importance. En raison de ce devoir, de nombreux militaires se retrouvent dans des situations dangereuses. A ce moment-ci quelques 4,500 membres de l'armée de terre, de l'armée de l'air et de la marine sont déployés à l'échelle du globe afin d'y maintenir la paix, d'apporter de l'aide et de contribuer à la tenue d'élections démocratiques.

En troisième lieu, mes contacts avec des canadiens de toutes provenances m'ont permis de découvrir que nos concitoyens ne jugent pas les FC à partir d'actes et d'attitudes attribués à quelques individus. On me confirme quotidiennement le respect que vous inspirez, respect que vous vous êtes attirés en raison de vos interventions tant au Canada qu'à l'étranger. Au cours d'une récente cérémonie de l'ordre du mérite militaire, son excellence, le Gouverneur Général, vous a rendu hommage. Voici les paroles qu'il a prononcées. "Le sentiment d'accomplir une mission au nom du Canada et de servir l'humanité au nom de la communauté internationale fait des forces canadiennes une institution digne d'admiration. Nos forces sont considérées avec respect et affection par les peuples qu'elles ont aidés. Les canadiens leur doivent les mêmes égards, et les plus avisés le savent."

Vous pouvez être fiers à juste titre, vous et les membres de votre famille, de votre dévouement, de vos sacrifices, de votre professionnalisme, des valeurs que vous défendez. Les canadiens reconnaissent et estiment ces qualités ainsi que la contribution que vous apportez au mieux-être du Canada et des autres pays. Continuez votre excellent travail. Je suis fier de vous et de vos réalisations.

SAVING MONEY ON YOUR WATER BILL IS EASIER THAN YOU THINK!

Use these water saving suggestions to lower your water bills and benefit the environment. We've included 8 simple, tried and true water saving tips you can put to good use around your home. But water conservation doesn't end there. Conserve water, because the meter's running... and you pay the bills.

MONEY SAVING TIPS:

- 1. Brush Off!
Turn off the water while brushing your teeth or while shaving - never let the tap run continuously.
- 2. Food Colour For Thought!
Check your toilet for leaks. Put a little food colouring in your tank. If colour appears in your bowl, you have a leak that should be repaired immediately.

- 3. Chill Out!
Running the tap continuously, waiting for the water to run cold is very wasteful. Instead, fill a bottle with drinking water and keep it in the refrigerator to save yourself water and time.
- 4. Fill'er Up!
Wash only full loads of laundry or full loads of dishes.
- 5. Nighttime Is The Right Time!
Water your lawn during the coolest parts of the day - early morning or at night - to reduce water lost to evaporation. Position the sprinkler so the water lands on the lawn, not on paved driveways or sidewalks.

- 6. Clean Sweep!
Sweep leaves and gravel off driveways rather than hosing them off with water.
- 7. Light Showers Forecast!
Take shorter showers, or install a water-saving shower head. Long showers can waste 5 to 10 gallons of water per minute, and waste the energy required to heat the water.
- 8. Space Saver!
Put an accepted water displacing device in your toilet tank (eg. a gravel filled bottle). By taking up space in the tank, it will help reduce the amount of water wasted with every flush.

CONSERVE WATER.
The Meter's Running!

How can you cool your house and save money too? Keep your home well insulated, lower the blinds, and close the curtains to keep the heat out during summer days. The idea is to cut down on your use of air conditioning and conserve energy. It doesn't take much to help slow global warming.

EVERY DROP COUNTS

CHAQUE GOUTTE EST PRÉCIEUSE

Diane Sacher (Winnipeg).

A review of water use patterns in Winnipeg indicates that 87-97% of annual water use occurs indoors, and 65% of annual use occurs in the residential sector. While overall per capita consumption in Winnipeg is increasing by 1% per year, data indicate that per capita consumption for the residential sector is increasing at an average of 2% per year.

The benefits of a successful water conservation program to the water utility and the City of Winnipeg include: positive community relations, environmental stewardship, and reduced energy consumption for pumping (leading to reduced operating costs). The program will also demonstrate responsible resource use to regulatory authorities, provide valuable planning time, and defer the requirement for water supply system expansion and associated capital expenditure.

The short-term goal is to achieve a 5% reduction by 1996. This will defer the need for a supplementary supply from 1997 to 2010. Initiatives planned for the first year program include:

- * public relations and advertising
- * consultation with commerce and industry
- * employee education
- * pilot retrofit program
- * water rate structure review
- * unaccounted-for water study
- * review of city water use.

Here's a good energy saving tip: plant trees around your house. It's a natural way to insulate. Trees act as windbreaks in winter and provide shade in summer. And consider this: A tree can absorb up to 4.5 kilograms of carbon dioxide from the air every year, so they clean the atmosphere too!

"We know you're in there lady - we've got your petunias surrounded! ...give up the water sprinkler and nobody gets hurt!"

Scientists tell us that we could double the amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere during the next century if we don't become more energy efficient. Carbon dioxide is the largest contributor to global warming. Be energy smart!

DID YOU KNOW?

SUCCESS STORIES - WILDLIFE

Thanks to the work of wildlife conservation groups and governments, efforts have been made to help endangered wildlife.

Here are some examples of "good news" stories:

- The White Pelican was taken off the endangered species list in 1987

- The wood bison was downgraded from endangered to threatened in 1988.

- Over the next 5 years, 20 Peregrine Falcons a year are being re-introduced to the Bay of Fundy region.

- Environmental and governmental groups are helping to conserve wetlands and waterfowl habitats.

- Canada and other countries are banning the import of ivory to help protect the African elephant from being killed for its tusks.

WETLANDS

Wetlands are also known as fens, swamps, marshes or bogs - grassy areas periodically covered with shallow waters. They provide a home and breeding ground for many plants and animals that are unable to survive anywhere else in the world. However, many people see them only as breeding grounds for pesky mosquitoes and would like to see them drained or filled.

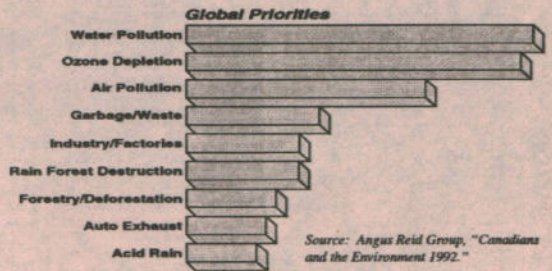

Wetlands are facing threats from many directions. They are being drained for the development of housing and industry and for valuable farmland. The wetlands also become contaminated by absorbing pollutants from sources such as industry, settlement and farmers' pesticides.

The wetlands are a habitat for many animals. It provides all that the animal needs for survival - food, water, shelter and space. An animal's habitat is its neighbourhood.

Plants and trees help clean the atmosphere and keep things in balance. Did you know that by not replanting our forests and letting them regenerate, we upset this balance and increase the amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere?

An environmental citizenship message from Environment Canada.

For Canadians, water pollution tops the list of global environmental concerns. Interest in the environment in Canada is high and is staying there. Water is part of the Canadian identity. Canadians are recognized by the international community as strong advocates of water. The environmental issue is one where the public feels empowered to do something. Water conservation requires individual action, creating a potential for participation.

Global warming can be a two sided issue. For instance, it may decrease the length and severity of our winters. On the other hand, we may also experience an increase in drought conditions in the warmer months.

PUZZLE SOLUTION

As The Wheel Turns

In this installment of As the Wheel Turns we find Wing Transportation holding their Annual Professional Drivers Competition, on 16 & 17 April. The competition started on Friday by testing the competitors knowledge on their chosen vehicles, namely 3 Ton stake truck, 40 passenger bus, and tractor trailer. While the written and defect tests were being administered the Road Rally, a privates only event, was being run.

Saturday morning marked the start of the main event. In the early morning light Kapyong Parade Square looked like the parking lot at a highway truck stop. Many local truck dealers, trucking companies and bus lines had supplied vehicles for our competition. The generosity of these companies was appreciated as it added much to the atmosphere of the event. After a few formalities the competition got under way. Soon drivers were winding their way between traffic cones, each one vying for a chance to represent Winnipeg in the Regional Competition in Edmonton. After a day of fierce competition, with Cpls Dan Roach and Dan Begin running first and second respectively in the tractor trailer event, the winners were declared. Cpls Rocky Rempel and Dan Roach placed first and second respectively in the bus category. The 3 ton event had Cpl Dan Begin taking top honors with Dan Roach finishing off a great day in second. A strong third went to Mr. Jack Campbell. Last but not least the road rally team of Ptes Bob Lemesurier and Jeff Graham captured the gold while Ptes Denise Ross and Pete Remillard came in a close second.

All participants agreed the day went extremely well, even the weather man co-operated. Congratulations to the organizing committee under the direction of Sgt Rick Forrest for a job well done. So till next time folks, "keep the shiny side up" and "keep on trucking".

SOUTH SIDE COMMUNITY COUNCIL

We would like to send out a huge thank-you to all those who participated in our Spring clean-up. We had a great turn-out to tidy the common areas. The Wing Commander, Col Proulx, also expressed his pleasure with the effort. We were happy to see everyone out in their own yards that day, cleaning up.

Every bit helps, keep up the good work, that Winnipeg wind blows garbage all over!

SSCC will hold their next meeting on June 22nd at the rink building at 1830 hrs. All those who are curious may attend.

We are looking into many issues of concern to the Southside, such as our rink and painting the playgrounds. But, one item that applies to everyone is the speed limit on our back lanes.

PLEASE SLOW DOWN BEFORE ONE OF OUR CHILDREN ARE HURT.

Thank-you.

ATTENTION! REMARRIAGE FAMILIES

Remarriage can be rewarding and offer a loving and satisfying lifestyle to its members. To assist remarriage couples and families to more effectively attain their goal of healthy family functioning and growth, Capt Paul Rosebush, Social Worker, will be offering specialized confidential counselling for remarriage couples/families beginning in Jul 1993. For a consultation or more information, please contact the Regional Social Work Office at 833-5479. Don't miss this opportunity to build a better foundation for successful family life!

Remarriage families are formed by the joining in marriage of at least one previously married person with children to someone who may or may not hold the same status. Remarriage families can be further characterized by the addition of a step-mother, step-father, or both into a pre-existing family system. In the past, remarriage typically occurred following the death of a spouse. Today, approximately 90 percent of remarriages follow divorce.

Statistics Canada refers to this specific population as "reconstituted" or "blended." As a percentage of all marriages in Canada in 1986, 22 percent involved the remarriage of at least one spouse. It has been estimated that 76 percent of divorced men and 44 percent of divorced women will remarry. These statistics increase considerably for the widowed and divorced population under 35 years of age. The number of divorces skyrocketed from approximately 30,000 in 1971 to approximately 78,000 in 1986. Concurrently, remarriage numbers increased almost proportionally from 22,000 in 1971 to 38,000 in 1986. Exact statistics on the number of children in blended families are unavailable, but Statistics Canada is of the opinion that their numbers are also rapidly rising. Some researchers have even gone so far as to suggest that 50 percent of the children born in the 70's and 80's will reside with a divorced or widowed parent. Further, it has been predicted that by the year 2000 remarriage families will actually outnumber first marriage families.

While the numbers of people who are part of a remarried family have increased dramatically, society (while more accepting of this practice) has not yet developed appropriate language terms, laws or customs to legitimize remarriage. Further, normal adjustment problems develop for remarriage families as a result of their complicated family organization. The consequences of living in a society that frowns on remarriage and that does not offer suitable direction to assist remarriage families is a high rate of marital breakdown for remarriages. In fact, a remarriage is twice as likely to fail over a first marriage.

Clearly, no one enters into a remarriage relationship with the goal of seeing it dissolve. However, people are entering remarriages in large numbers with unrealistic expectations and without a clue as to some of the implications of their decision. Society will evolve to someday legitimize and support the practice of remarriage but that does not solve any of the difficulties of living in a remarriage family today.

PHYL'S BISTRO

Hello! How are you all doing? Some of you that know me, are aware that, I was working at the Round Table restaurant last year. I really enjoyed the time I spent there, the staff was the best. I have a lot of fond memories of them all.

Moe, the manager of sanitary engineering (the dishwasher), played a key role. He had a nickname for everyone, it all depended on your character. The expression around the kitchen was "MOE KNOWS". Here are some of the nicknames of the staff at the restaurant. Pigeon, Bakla-guy, Turn and burn, Poofier, My king, Durendabob, Sparky, Kenny tetai, Mo malakia, Haywire and Short circuit. It got so bad at one point, that we even put their nicknames on the computer so that it would be printed on the bills that went to the kitchen.

The assistant manager Barb (Mama), was a hard person to figure out, you would never know how to take her. It took me about 3 months, but I finally got through the facade of the hard line @#@!

I had to make a dinner special one night, I decided that I would make "POACHED SALMON WITH EGG SAUCE". Mama tasted the sauce and was not too pleased. "I DON'T LIKE EATING AN EGG SALAD SANDWICH WITH MY SALMON", she said in disgust with a stern voice. I argued that you have to have the salmon with the sauce to appreciate it. But there was no convincing her, so I cooked up a piece of salmon, slapped it on a plate, dumped some sauce on it and put it in front of her.

THAT NIGHT'S SPECIAL WAS.....This week's tasty treat for two!

POACHED SALMON WITH EGG SAUCE

2 6oz Pieces of salmon (either steaks or darnes)

Court bouillon (poaching juice)

- 1/2 an onion cut in 4
- 1 sm sliced carrot
- 1 sliced celery stalk
- 2 bay leaves
- salt and pepper
- 1/2 a lemon cut in 2
- water

Egg Sauce

- 3 Tbsp margarine
- 3 Tbsp flour
- 1 Tbsp chicken base
- 2 cups milk
- 2 Tbsp Parmesan cheese
- Salt & Pepper to taste
- 1 tsp garlic powder
- 2 eggs (hard boiled)
- 1 tsp chopped parsley

In a large sauce pan, put all the ingredients of the court bouillon and water until there is about 3 inches of mix. Bring to a boil, then simmer for about 10 minutes. While it is simmering put the 2 eggs in to cook.

In a medium sauce pan melt the margarine, when it starts to bubble add the chicken base and flour, make sure that you use a medium heat so it doesn't burn. Let it cook for a minute then add the milk, parmesan cheese and garlic powder. Don't let the sauce stick on the bottom, as it starts to heat up it will also thicken. Add the salt and pepper to taste, when the eggs are hard boiled peel and then chop them (not too fine) and add the eggs and the parsley to the sauce. If the sauce needs thickening use a little corn starch and water mix. Place the salmon in the court bouillon and cook for about 10 minutes (or until done). To check if it is done break it open and see that it nice and pink all the way through. When it is cooked put it on a plate and cover with sauce. All that is left is to add your favourite rice and veggies.

ENJOY !!!!

GREETINGS FROM THE CHAPELS

C:> WORDPERFECT 5.1/
WINDOWS. WIN VERSUS C:>PERFECTWORD/GOSPEL/J.C.

Most of us enter WP5.1 every day. Every day we use a computer. We have one at work and even have one at home and maybe for the most fortunate a "NOTEBOOK". If the power was off one day, we would barely be able to work. People of every age use a computer when they go to Automatic Tellers. We push on numbers and letters and it works.

Since when I tried C:> PERFECTWORD/GOSPEL/J. CHRIST? We have realized that our life is so simplified since the advent of COMPUTERS, why not try to switch to DOC 2 (ALT-F3) + ENTER in order to give a new understanding to our Spiritual Life?

The PERFECTWORD is the Main KEY to all our questions about life, all the answers to all problems and questions of our time. It is just like any software, we have to dedicate quite some time to it in order to become good at it.

Would you be willing to give it a try? What about taking five minutes of your time to read the DOCUMENTS:

C:>PERFECTWORD/
GOSPEL/MARK
C:>PERFECTWORD/
GOSPEL/JOHN
C:>PERFECTWORD/
GOSPEL/MATTHEW
C:>PERFECTWORD/
GOSPEL/LUKE
PRESS: ENTER.

Good luck in becoming a PERFECTWORD Wiz.

C:>WORDPERFECT 5.1/

C:>PERFECTWORD/
EVANGILE/J.C.

La plupart d'entre nous utilisons le WP51 quotidiennement. On se sert de notre ordinateur à tous les jours. Nous en avons un au travail, et un même chez nous et peut-être pour les plus chanceux un portatif. Si un jour le courant venait à manquer, nous pourrions à peine faire notre travail. Les personnes de tout âge se servent d'un ordinateur lorsqu'ils vont à la banque pour faire des transactions au guichet automatique. On appuie sur des chiffres et des lettres et ça marche.

Depuis quand ai-je essayé C:>PERFECTWORD/ EVANGILE/JESUS CHRIST? Nous réalisons que notre vie s'est simplifiée depuis l'avènement des ordinateurs. Pourquoi pas essayer de transférer au DOC 2 (ALT F3) + ENTER pour avoir une nouvelle compréhension de notre vie spirituelle?

Le PERFECTWORD est la clef principale pour toutes les questions de notre vie, pour les réponses à tous nos problèmes et aux problèmes de tous les temps. C'est comme un logiciel, nous devons prendre du temps pour l'étudier afin d'en devenir compétent.

Aimeriez-vous essayer? Pourquoi pas prendre quelques minutes de votre temps pour lire les DOCUMENTS:

C:>PERFECTWORD/EVANGILE/MARC
C:>PERFECTWORD/EVANGILE/JEAN
C:>PERFECTWORD/EVANGILE/MATHIEU
C:>PERFECTWORD/EVANGILE/LUC

Bonne chance en devenant un wiz en PERFECTWORD.

BECOME A BLUE BELIEVER

The Winnipeg Football Club kick off their 1993 season with a pre season game on Thursday, 17 June. This challenge will pit our experienced veterans against the untried new American addition to the CFL, the Sacramento Gold Miners. We, as members of 17 Wing and Lodger Units, have been offered the opportunity to witness this extraordinary contest of brawn and brains at a greatly reduced rate.

Tickets will be available through all North Side Messes. All tickets are regularly valued at $25.00 but will be available only if purchased in advance prior to 8 Jun at an extra special rate of $10.00.

Tickets will also be available for all the regular season games. The exhibition game will dictate price as well as location of our seats. If we can show great support for our team we will not be stuck in the end zones and could get some really great seats.

These tickets are not part of a chance draw, so if your money is received by the due date you will receive a ticket to the game. This will ensure that everyone is a winner under this system. So lets get together and help support professional sports in our community by assisting the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in obtaining a full house for their season opener.
